Syonby, the great racehorse, is dead. He will be buried, while Tongorod will still be carrying bets.

It was get-away day at Hamilton on Saturday, which means that the bookies got away with everything they had overlooked during the week.

At Hamilton, Ont., this p.m., the sports are picking strawberries, not ponies. They are saving money, and are likewise busy.

A dispatch from Spain says that Princess Ena is not in good spirits, but when you consider that she is liable to be tagged out by the pitcher of the Spanish bomb-tossers, you can forgive her for not laughing herself to death.

Officers in the British army are not allowed to wear monocles. My eye, I'm not h't' orrid.

E. Barrow has just released another regiment of his ball players. Grubb was the 4,697th to sign since last fall. Grubb ought to be there with the meal tickets.

President Christopher J. Fitzgerald has selected our former neighbor, Richard Dwyer, to do the starting at Brighton Beach. Mr. Fitzgerald ought to be a good judge of a starter. He was a great one himself. When racing flourished in the west there were only three good starters out this way. Fitzgerald was one and Dwyer was the other two.—Chicago Tribune.

Disciples of Ike Walton will be pleased to know that the waters everywhere are teeming with members of the finny tribe. This is authentic; we got it from a railroad resort book.

Don't forget to take some of those stockyard canned goods on your annual fishing trip. You may not want to eat them, but the dyes makes fine coloring for the feathers on your flies.

Lights are taking the jumps at Latonia. There will be something doing at the switchboard some of these fine afternoons.

Ah Wing has selected quarters and begun training for his coming fight with Caesar Attell. Dam Li will have charge of the pipe dreams from the camp.

Mrs. Nick Longworth will go to the Ascot races today, and will take Nick along to carry the wagers to the pool-box. Pawncy.

Just come back from where the fish
Are biting with a will;
Angled morning, noon and night,
With Jack and Uncle Bill.
Caught a lot of nice ones, too,
But listen now I pray;
Until I tell you all about
The ones that got away.

I'd just removed a dandy perch,
And thrown my line back in;
And sat there rather dozing,
Till some trouble should begin;
When suddenly I felt a tug
'Twas more like work than play;
I got him almost to the boat,
But then he got away.

He was the biggest fish I'd seen,
At least a dozen pounds;
It seemed he must have wandered in
To those old feeding grounds,
The biggest pike I'd ever seen,
A beauty I must say;
I would have brought him back to stuff,
Had he not got away.

A little longer then it seemed,
I got another bite;
And this one was a monster,
And was just chock full of fight,
I nearly broke my rod on him,
I'll bet that he would weigh
Full fifteen pounds, but I'm not sure
Because he got away.

Ascot, the most fashionable race meeting in the world, commences today. It lasts but four days, and King Edward and most of the members of the royal family probably will be in attendance daily. It is an interesting spectacle when the royal procession, headed by the King, wends its way up the course from nearby Windsor Castle just before the saddling bell rings for the first race. This year it is expected Mrs. Longworth will be a member of the party. The pageant will be seen on the opening day and on Thursday, cup day, but on the other two days of the meeting the distinguished party is allowed to enjoy the races in comparative quiet. The year's Ascot programme is a brilliant one, including 28 events which are expected to attract all the best horses in training, not only in England, but on the continent as well. The famous Gold Cup is of course the feature. Twenty-seven nominations were made last January, but owing to the severity of the contest, two and a half miles over a hilly course, and also the presence of the unbeatable Pretty Polly, the field probably will be comparatively small. An interesting starter will be the Australian-bred Great Scot, which twice has won the most important race in India, the Viceroy's Cup, for his native owner, Mr. Apear. Until recently the unbeaten Austro-Hungarian mare Patience was regarded as the most dangerous antagonist Pretty Polly would have, but Patience broke down during her preparation. Nocturnal, the New Zealand champion, was brought to England early in the year with a special view to this race, but he must carry a 4-year-old's weight, while, being foaled south of the equator, he lacks several months of attaining that age. Lord Rosebery's Cicero and the Leger winner Challowcombe also are eligible.—Chicago Tribune.

If Maud Keswick, 2:03 3-4, stays sound she is certain to capture the world's record for pacing mares. The Canadian mare is now at Cleveland in Vance Nuckols' stable and will remain there until the grand circuit opens, when she will again be taken in charge by the Canadian trainer, Havers James, who raced her last year and who wintered her. She was sent to Nuckols in order that she might have the advantage of the mile track, while James raced the balance of his string on the half-mile tracks for a few weeks. Nuckols recently drove the daughter of Keswick three miles in 2:15, 2:16 and 2:14 1-2, and the Cleveland critics declare she is as good as a 2:05 pacer right now. It is no secret that her owner believes that she will take a record as fast as two minutes, for not long ago he put a price on her, on condition that if she could not show the prospective purchaser a mile in two minutes there would be no sale. If Maud Keswick comes to Buffalo in the form which her trainer expects her to be in at that time, she will put such a race in the 2:04 pace as will lead the Canadians, who are always here in great numbers, to give vent to a louder yell than they did when she won the 2:18 class here last year.

One of the oddest examples of untimely hitting on record was a Chicago-Louisville game, played at Louisville in 1899. Chicago won the game 2 to 1. The odd part of it was that Louisville scored only one run. How they ever managed to keep away from the plate is a mystery. During the game the bases were filled with Colonels exactly twelve times. In every inning except one the bases were full one or more times.

Yet on twelve hits, six bases on balls, one hit by pitched ball, and three errors, they made but one run. The contest was one long, progressive disappointment for Clarke and his men. Four times they had the bases full with but one man out. Three times they were full with none out. Yet each time a man was either cut out at the plate or doubled up except in the fifth inning, when, with the bases full, a little fumble by Lange let Dexter score. Any one of 24 hitters could have won the game by one timely hit, yet none was delivered.

ELBERFELD LEADS
AMERICAN HITTERS

The New York Shortstop Still
Ahead of Stone, the Brown
Slugger.

Detroit, June 18.—Cobb is still the leading hitter on the local team, and is the only 300 representative the club has. Thus far he has missed getting one or more safe in but eight of the 43 games that the records include. Mullin and Crawford follow in the order named, with .286 and .283 respectively. McIntyre, Jones, Schaefer, Lindsay and O'Leary are the other .250 hitters.
Elberfeld, of the Highlanders, still leads the league, but as he has not played in two weeks, while his club has been on the road, his record does not show as well as Stone, of St. Louis, who has been in every game. This sterling young player has made 70 hits, and leads the league in this department. Hemphill is a close second with 68. Then come Harry Davis, of the Athletics, with 67. This player is hitting better this season than he has ever done, and his record of 117 bases on 67 hits shows how hard he is driving the ball. He not only leads the league in total and extra bases, but in doubles and home runs with 18 and 8 respectively. Elberfeld is a triple play with 7. While Hemphill, of St. Louis, leads in stolen bases with 16, and Bradley in sacrifice hits with 17. There are 19 players hitting over .300. Detroit is fourth in club hitting, with .258. The New York Americans lead with a percentage of .275.

In the pitchers' table it will be seen that Hahn leads with 4 won and none lost. Slever of the locals is still well up. Beebe, of Chicago, leads the National with 7 wins and none lost, closely followed by Leever, of Pittsburg, with six wins out of seven games.

IT'S UP TO MIKE NOW.
Milwaukee, Wis., June 18.—President Joseph D. O'Brien, of the American Association of Baseball Clubs, has sent a telegram to Manager M. J. Kelly, of the Minneapolis team at Toledo, calling upon him to substantiate alleged charges of crookedness. Various statements of irregularities purporting to have emanated from Manager Kelly have been published, and President O'Brien has determined to make a thorough investigation.

The American cutter Ails, owned by Mrs. A. R. Lewis-Hill, of Southampton, was second, at 9 o'clock.
The British-built schooner Clara, owned by Max Von Guilleaume, of Cologne, was third, arriving at 9:30 o'clock.

CARD AT WINDSOR

Six Races Run Off on a

Windsor, June 18.—The heavy rains of last night and this morning made the course heavy. The card of six races was well balanced. Scratches were few, and the attendance was large. The two events today at one mile brought out fields of the best class.

GIANTS' BIG NEED
BALL PHYSICIAN

Players Have Lost Confidence,
and All Are Worried,
Even McGraw.

In a dispatch from New York, Tim Murnane says: And now it looks like the Giants, the champions of the world, are badly in need of the baseball physician. Just one game convinced me that McGraw's men have lost confidence. Evidently Murphy's Chicago boys turned the trick here last week when they fairly slaughtered the local Nationals. From aggressive, sure workmen they look tired and worried, and now every club in the league up and down the river is looking at them with more confidence, and it would not surprise me a bit to see the team a big disappointment. John McGraw is worried; in fact, every one connected with the Giants wears worried lines. McGraw, the fans are affected and the attendance at the games here has materially dropped off, all visiting league clubs expressing their surprise at the falling off in patronage this season.
President Knickerbocker, of the Chicago Club, assured me that his club did better business in Brooklyn than at the Polo grounds. The Polo grounds roster will not stick unless the team is winning is the expression of the baseball men.

The good work of Frank Farrell's Highlanders has caught the New York fans in earnest for the first time, as the Giants were practically invincible. The Highlanders were captured out-siders, but that feeling has changed as pronouncedly as the appearance of a young drake in a duck procession bound for a quiet nook.

The Giants depended on players of ripe experience and record, revamping the Highlanders have picked up some clever youngsters and will grow stronger. The baseball situation in New York is bound to completely change this year. Both Mathewson and Donlin are out of the hunt this season, and the chances that Mathewson is out for good. The great pitcher was but a shadow of his former self as he went out for practice last Tuesday before the game at the Polo grounds. I find players picking Pittsburg for the honors this season, fearing that the fast Chicago bunch will not finish the distance.

Don't be Misled on Hewson Tweeds

There are Hewson Tweeds and Hewson Tweeds, Hewson Tweeds (so-called) and the genuine article. We have the pure stuff. We make a specialty of this celebrated tweed in boys' suits, single and double breasted and Norfolk styles. Every garment has the tag of the manufacturer attached. Every suit carries with it three guarantees. One from the Hewson Mills, who make the cloth; one from the Sanford Mfg. Co., who make the suits, and one from Oak Hall, who have introduced them to the good people of London and surrounding country, and have thereby made a "hit" on Boys' Suits—"that wear like iron." See that you get the Hewson tag on each garment.

OAK HALL

AMERICANS LOSE TO ENGLISHMEN

Wimbledon, England, June 18.—In the remaining singles for the Davis cup, S. H. Smith, of Great Britain, beat Holcombe Ward, American, in straight sets. The scores were 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

H. L. Doherty, Great Britain, in a splendid game for the championship singles, beat Raymond D. Little, American, by a score of 3-6, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1, 6-3.

BEHR NEW ENGLAND CHAMPION.
Hartford, Conn., June 18.—Karl

Behr, of Yale, defeated Theodore R. Pell, of New York, in the tennis match to decide the championship of New England here today, 7-5, 4-6, 0-6, 7-5, 6-5.

Philadelphia, June 18.—It is now said that Bob Fitzsimmons and Tommy Burns are to fight in the Exposition building, at Thirty-third and Spruce streets, in this city, on July 7, and that a boxing club, with a seating capacity of 7,000, is to be fitted up there.

A SLAUGHTER
OF FAVORITES

No Less Than Six Lose at
Gravesend—Four Long
Shots Finish First.

New York, June 18.—Hyperbole, a 15-to-1 shot, easily won the Astoria Stakes at Gravesend today, defeating Golden West, and the 1-to-3 favorite, Adoration. The favorite broke in front, but Hyperbole soon took the lead, and after racing Adoration into submission, came away easily and won by two and a half lengths from Golden West, who in turn was the same distance before the favorite.
Rosenberg, making his first appearance since the Brooklyn, and carrying 149 pounds, finished third in Shotgun and Bohemia in the first race. The races were run over a muddy track and six favorites were defeated, four of the six races being won by long shots. Jockey Lyne was suspended by the starter for two days for disobedience while at the post on Rosenber.

HILDEBRAND LOOKING WELL.
Buffalo, June 18.—Hildebrand rode two winners and one second out of his four mounts at Kentworth Park today. One of the winners, Plaud, was backed down from 8 to 7 to 2. Workmaid, winner of the fifth, was also heavily played, its price being cut from 7 to 3.

PILLSBURY PASSES

Philadelphia, June 17.—Harry Nelson Pillsbury, the chess master, died here today of apoplexy after an illness of many months.

Pillsbury was born December 7, 1872, at Somerville, Mass., where the body will be taken. The funeral is to be held there next Tuesday.
Pillsbury learned the rudiments of chess when a boy in Boston. His first notable victory was over John F. Barry, of Boston, in 1891. Other victories made him one of the quartette of the then famous players named to compete at St. Petersburg, Lasker, Steinitz, Pillsbury and Tchigorin.

His score with the world's champion, Lasker, was 3½ to 2½.
In 1897 Pillsbury won from Schowalter the American chess championship, which he confirmed by a second match with Schowalter in 1898.

Pillsbury showed his chess genius not alone by match and tournament play. At blindfold chess, it is said, his record has not been equaled. At Moscow he played 22 games without sight of the boards, and at Philadelphia 20 games, which feat he repeated at Vienna.

DETROIT DATES TO WINDSOR

Detroit, Mich., June 18.—With a splendid list of nominations for the early closing events a fine array of horses named for the Merchants' and Manufacturers' and the Chamber of Commerce Stakes, prospects were for the best harness race ever given by the Detroit Driving Club at Grosse Point, but the races are all off for this year at least, because of the stand taken by the Wayne County authorities against race betting. The Cleveland Driving Club will take over the Detroit stake events.

The matinee tomorrow will be a hummer, that there can be no mistake. There will be five classes, and every one of them will furnish a horse race. Clipper will go to beat 1:08 1-2, and the way he has been stepping it, ought to be easy enough. Golden Text and Bobbie T. ought to furnish a swell race. This will be Walter S.'s first start, and McLeod's pacer ought to be good.

The entries are:
Class 1—To beat 1:08 1-2. Clipper, Dr. Fred L. Wood.
Class 2—Golden Text, Mr. J. McCarty; Bobbie T., Dr. Fred L. Wood.

Class 5—Perfection, Mr. G. Campbell; Sunny Jim, Dr. Barnes; Wilmer, Mr. J. McCarty.

TWO NEW FACES ON CHAMPIONS' LINE-UP

Tomorrow afternoon the Rockets and the Champions clash in their postponed game. Manager Smith has switched his line-up, and is showing two new faces, one at first and one at third. He does not think his team is out of it and will make a bid for first place. McMerney will pitch for the Rockets and promises to make good. The line-up:

USED MEN AT THE OFFICE
UP
OUT

Every day in the week and every day in the year men, women and children feel all used up and tired out. The strain of business, the cares of home and social life and the task of study cause terrible suffering from heart and nerve troubles. The efforts put forth to keep up to the modern "high pressure" mode of life in this age soon wears out the strongest system, shatters the nerves and weakens the heart. Thousands find life a burden and others an early grave. The strain on the system causes nervousness, palpitation of the heart, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, faint and dizzy spells, skip beats, weak and irregular pulse, smothering and sinking spells, etc. The blood becomes weak and watery and eventually causes decline.

Milburn's
Heart and Nerve
Pills

are indicated for all diseases arising from a weak and debilitated condition of the heart or of the nerve centres. Mrs. Thos. Hall, Kaldon, Ont., writes: "For the past two or three years I have been troubled with nervousness and heart failure, and the doctors failed to give me any relief. I decided at last to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a trial, and I would not now be without them if they cost twice as much. I have recommended them to my neighbors and friends."
