New York Called the Greatest Winter Resort in the World.

New York is the greatest winter resort in the world, according to the Hotel Association of New York City, which announced that reservations have been coming to the city from the Southern months not only from the Southern states of the United States but from Central and South America and other foreign countries. According to Mark A. Caldwell, secretary of the association, well-to-do travelers who formerly might have sought the skating in the Swiss lakes, the gaiety and art of Paris and Italy, the music of France and Germany, are showing a tendency to seek the same pleasure for their winter recreation in New York. The entire hotel capacity of the city is more than one hundred thousand.

According to the Welcome Stranger Committee, which was queried as to its capacity to entertain winter visitors, every agency for pleasure and education is engaged to make the foreign visitor to America enjoy his sojourn. There are 4,627 miles of streets in this city seating 471,548, according to the 1921 census. Great musicians, orchestras and great opera performances are given every week during the season. There are seventeen important art galleries. For the lover of outdoors, road maps have been devised for motorizing and walking trips through the Palisades or Westchester. Ice skating ponds are in all the parks of the city, and private rinks add to the facilities for this pastime. There are seven large museums, including the famous American Museum of Natural History, the Aquarium, which stands in Battery Park; the Hispanic Society of America, and the Van Cortlandt Museum, now in care of the Colonial Dames. The statement continues: "New York City has 300 parks, playgrounds and parkways, covering more than 8,708 acres. These are found in the heart of New York City, scattered through the residential sections, the slum sections, the outlying sections such as Van Cortlandt Park and the Bronx, and in the suburbs such as the Borough of Richmond.

"To reach the various sections of the city the subway, elevated and the surface cars have a track mileage of 1,945 miles. Buses, light-railway trolleys, yachts, Fifth Avenue buses that form a network over the city, the Hudson River Day Lines, Statue of Liberty boats, excursion boats and motor bus lines. There are 4,627 miles of streets in New York City, that is, enough streets to reach from San Francisco to New York and half way back again.

"New York is America's most important port. One hundred steamship lines come regularly to the port, and 75,000,000 tons of freight are moved by rail, and 40,000,000 tons by steamship annually. Health Commissioner Royal B. Copeland, now senator-elect, has declared New York a particularly healthy city, 75,000,000 gallons of fresh water are brought in daily by the water system. As to dining, a recent census by the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York shows that five million visitors dine annually in hotels, restaurants and cafes on one thoroughfare alone—Forty-second street.

The following recipes are put in with the hope that they will prove of service and make this page one to be looked forward to each Friday.

ONTARIO TO HEAR STORY OF SURPLUS

Successful Financial Year for the Drury Government

Legislature to Meet Next Week—Not Much News is Expected—Elections Looked for in June or October.

Toronto, Jan. 19.—(By Canadian Press).—What is expected to be the final session of Ontario's fifteenth legislature will open on Jan. 23. An appeal to the people will follow during the year, some say in June others in October and men versed in provincial politics predict the party leaders will step warily and not risk their chances of success by the election. "We are manoeuvring in the legislative chamber," the coming session provides the groups which make up the parliament with their last opportunity to dress the front windows before the appeal is made to the people.

There will not be as much legislation passed this year as in previous years, according to the old timers. Turning the three sessions this parliament has been in action, it has converted 441 bills into law, so no great activity is expected. If this winter it fails to keep up its average. While the Government's programme will not be as extensive as last year, it has a real success story to tell. The House of Commons, the Trade Agreements Act, which is intended to curb competition after having been reported upon by the special committee of the house, as is also the Sale of Securities Act, commonly known as the "Blue Sky" bill, and the new law to attract investors from "wildcat" stocks. The act to amalgamate the City of Toronto and County of York registry offices and the Mechanic and Wage Earners Lien Act are also ready. An act to simplify land titles is planned and one to provide for county high school boards.

Whether there will be a redistribution bill will largely depend, it is understood, on the temper of the House when it is called to order. The House is said to be inclined to offer all groups an opportunity to join in framing a bill delimiting the electoral districts, hoping and the little reach a compromise satisfactory to all and meet the demand from the urban centres for larger representation. If the Government and the groups making up the opposition cannot agree, then a warm battle or no redistribution at all would be the outcome.

Freight and Passenger Carrying Facilities Studied in Europe by Prominent U. S. Railway Man.

SAMUEL M. FELTON.
President of the Chicago and Great Western Railroad Company.

The man who says that any given thing is impossible, or even improbable, in these, high-pressure days, either has an extraordinary developed ego or a reckless disregard for what the world may think of his intelligence. And even with this declaration in mind, I am bound to confess that the earth and its home with him visions of more or less glory under this rule. Perhaps, in an age of marvels, I have been too severe.

Many persons, doubtless, remember what the scientific world said about Marconi's wireless when it was proposed. The curvature of the earth, they said, would prevent the waves from traveling more than a few miles. But now, the wireless is a fact, and the world is full of wireless telegraphs.

You remember how people laughed at the Wright brothers, twenty years ago? Of all who laughed, among the solid citizens of Dayton, as they drove by the old flying field at Simms Station, perhaps not one had the faintest idea of what was being done. The two brothers were striving to attain, the same kind of citizens, doubtless, had laughed at the entrancing writings of Jules Verne, and the strange ideas of a post office clerk, as they drove by the old flying field at Simms Station, perhaps not one had the faintest idea of what was being done.
