There is no struggle very apparent among the two forces that go to make up the great labor movement, viz., the Socialists and he trades unionists. The principles advocated by both are very similar, the only difference to-day is the methods to be employed in the applicamethods to be employed in the applica-tion of those principles.

Over in Japan living conditions are much the same as in this country. The rich are becoming richer and the poor poorer, and the workers will shortly be converted to the idea that war is a pestilence to be shunned. The brightness of victory will not help to sustain in the struggle to pay the terrible cost.

The front rank of labor's army are accused of side-stepping when called up-on to face the issue of the postive cure for the ills under which we labor. Such is not the case, however. The leaders know full well that the army are lagging, and until the rank and file have some knowledge of what is required, it section of our daily press. Public ownership and control by the peoply is democratic, but government ownership under present auspices is simply another form of getting money out of the poor to help pay the taxes of the rich. This is the way those interested in keeping the taxes of the rich down desire the water works system of this city to be operated.

Speaking of investigations and their cost will anyone say that the results in the Gamey investigation were worth amount of the bill of costs of the law yers who conducted the same? Corruption was brought to light but were the culprits punished? There is a mass of corruption being brought in on our civic investigation, but will it profit the citizens to place some of the minor culprits behind the bars and still leave the real culprits free to carry on the campaign of fraud with other tools. This is the game of politics as it is taught today, and as it, will be taught for all time the real significance of the use of the ballot.

How American sysmpathy went out to the evicted Irish some years ago, when as many as 3,000 families were turned out of their houses for non-payment of rent! But 60,463 families were evicted in the city of New York, Manhattan Borough alone, during the year 1903, without exciting special wonder. Yet where is the difference? Apparently the only difference is in the fact that New York evictions last year were about twenty times as many as in the worst year of. Irish evictions. In proportion to population the disparity is much greater. Whereas the Irish evictions of the heaviest year numbered about one to every 1,300 of population, these of New York numbered about one to every 1,300 of population, these of New York numbered about one to every 35 of population.—Ex

Thrift may benefit the pockets of in-dividuals who sweat their bodies and souls to grease their banking accounts, but for a community it could produce little but evil. It would discourage inlittle but evil. It would discourage inventive genius and productive energy, and limit the output of wealth in every direction. Mosely, however, thrift is not advocated for universal practice. It is the gospel which the rich preach to the poor, and its essence may be summed up in one maxim—"Eat ye therefore less that we may eat more."

a question of a trade union is pretty much a question of Tweedledum and Tweedledee. The House of Lords, in giving the decision on the Taff Vale case, did so adversely to the union on the ground that the union was a legal entity, and in a position to inflict damage. You will see, therefore, that the decision is not based at all upon whether or not the union was registered, and registration or non-registration makes absolutely no difference was We welcome the Master (†) Painters to our fair city, and hope that their deliberations will some day be robbed of that selfish greed which is their guiding star to-day.

The civic investigation is to be another great and glorious graft for the lawers. When the citizens are rendered the bill of costs and the result we fear they will find a wide difference between the relative merits of the two.

Rock-a-by Rock-feller, now you're on top, When you say so the Market will rock, when you say so the Steel Trust will see the refearment of the same and the production of a registered. For instance, prose cutions are uniertaken of defaulting of ficers, agd a condition is the production of a registered copy of rules; so that probably if the union was not registered conviction could not be secured against their defaulting officers.—English Ex.

The Salvation Army reports the number of unemployed to be double that of 1902. Night ly between 3,000 and 4,000 persons are being turned away from the Army shelters to sleep in the streets and parks. Owing to the trade depression factories are closing or reducing the number of employes daily. Every bench along the embankment is filled with homeless and hungry men. The police, despite orders, are not heartless enough to disturb them, since their search for employment has been in vain. An advertisement for an elevator attandant produced 163 applicants; for a night watchman, 200; stocker, 120; gardener, 330; carpenter, 110; truck driver, 190; porter, 320. The advertised wage for a porter is one guinea a week. The police are compelled to force the applicants into line. Eight men in the line wore frock coats and silk hats. There are now 150,000 confesse paupers on the rolls of the poor houses of the various parishes of London, and the number is increasing weekly.

If the workingman needs education to-day, it certainly would be a very reasonable thing to consider what kind of education the workers are most in need of and how best we can supply them with what is needed.

One of these questions will be as to who should control the workshop, one individual or the people. Another will be why one class are looked down upon and called the working class when work is the very foundation on which the nation rests. This will lead up to the third question as to the possibility of the present wage system being as morally wrong as chattel slavery.

With such weighty problems for the worker to solve it will be necessary to become thoroughly acquainted with the

After such a long experience as the workers have had of trying to reach the top where we are told there is always plenty of room, would it not be better for us to try and make more room for humanity at the bottom where we find them crushed, mangled, bleeding and dying after trying to climb to the top. Now, the only way to stop the crowding at the bottom and the necessity of climbing to the top, is trying to discover an industrial system that shall secure to every man, woman and child permanent sustenance of their lives, it is the force of most that is the fear of want that is causing terrible and terrific struggles which w see every day in our industrial life. Mr. Eddy has instituted a suit for damages against the officers of the union and Messrs. P. M. Draper, secretary of the Trades Congress, and C. S. O. Boudreault, an Ottawa labor alderman and officer of the Trades Council of that city.

The suit is brought for damages for the issuance of the circular asking aid for the strikers, and if Mr. Eddy can get damages against these men for what is contained in that circular, the mouths of all officers would be forever closed. The circular is a model, so far as protection from legal actions is concerned, and we trust that it will have the desired effect.
