At the Protestant teachers' convention today, R. J. Hewton, imspector of schools, delivered a scatthing criticism on the elements of the new history of the dominion of Canada. The style is not good, he says, and the subject not good, he says, and the subject matter is not presented in an altrac-tive form. The facts are told uncon-nectedly and not property classified, while it is doubtful if a perusal will instil ideas of particitism, and it will prove offensive to a large body of obmistrans.

This is interpreted to mean that both church and state have an inter-est in education, one in religious and the other the secular phases, and where both can attain their object without a sacrifice of cardinal principles in one system of schools, these may be adopted by the church. It is said the report would have been made public a fortnight ago, but was stayed nding the arrival in Rome of Archbishop Bruchesi, who, according to common reports, bears a letter to the Holy Father expressing the views of Mgr. Langevin and other Canadian bishops. It is further alleged that all the bishops were informed regarding the nature of Mgr. Merry del Val's ommendations.

BELIEVED TO BE MURDER.

Thomas J. Buckley Was Shot Down by Some Unknown Person.

(Special to the Sun.) WATERVILLE, Kings Co., N. S., Oct. 25.—One of the most deliberate and cold blooded murders ever perpetrated in this county was that committed at Buckley's Corner, at the foot of the North Mountain, three miles back from this village, on Friday night. It was a second edition of the Fuller murder, at Horton. The cir-cumstances were very similar in al-most every respect, and the escape from punishment of the perpetrator of the horrible crime was doubtless an incentive" to the committal of this latest atrocious murder. The attempt to make this crime out to be suicide is worse than childish. It is idiotic. If Thomas J. Buckley was not deliberately and foully murdered, then no man was ever murdered in Nova Scotia. Everything about the house goes to show that the old man was murdered by some one who, after the deed, placed the weapon and the body in a position to cause suspicions of suicide. A plausible theory is that the murderer spent the evening with Buckley, that they sat talking till a late hour, that then he was struck a terrible blow on the head with an axe or hatchet, and after the old man was stummed or perhaps killed, a bullet was sent through his brain and through the gaping wound made by the axe. The body still lies in the pool of faired ay blood in which it was found Saturday afternoon, and presents a sickening sight. Robbery was doubtless the motive, as no money is in the house, though he was known to have a purse with money on the previous afternoon. He was also known to have this purse in the clock. It is gone.

The crown is taking steps. People in the neighborhood with an unenviable reputation are sespected. The whole country side 's aroused, and feeling runs high."
