Ernest Weldon of Winnipeg, whose family were formerly residents of St. John, is visiting his uncle, E. J. Armstrong, in this city. His father, Horace Weldon, who left St. John twenty-two years ago, retired from active business last year with a fortune of half a million, and he himself is doing remarkably well and is naturally enthusiastic over the West and its prospects. As Mr. Weldon was only a year old when he left St. John, everything here is new to him and he is enjoying his visit, particularly the seaside climate, to the utmost. Speaking politically, Mr. Weldon says Manitoba is as Liberal as ever and may be counted on for a majority for Sir Wilfrid in the next election.

Last night a mix-up occurred at the I. C. R. depot when a newly married couple were suddenly separated before leaving on their honeymoon. The husband, Patrick McCluskey, who was married yesterday morning, came to the station with his bride to take the leaves train for Bangor. While in the married yesterday morning, came to the station with his bride to take the Boston train for Bangor. While in the waiting room the bride entered another department and left the husband with the grips outside. He did not notice where she had gone to and while she was away the Boston arrived. After the train left the bride returned to where she had left her husband and found him gone. She at once became excited and thinking her hubby had gone and left her, she appealed to Caretaker Gorman and was told the train had left and that her husband was on board. The lonely bride stood on the station with his bride to take the Boston arrived. After the train left the bride returned to where she had left and that her husband was on board. The lonely bride stood on the station while a message was sent to Rangor, but hubby was not there.

The inspection of the 3rd Regt. C. A. A began last evening. Col. Benson, R. C. A., was the inspecting officer. At 8.30 o'clock the regiment was drawn up in line on the Barrack Square with the band in the rear. When the inspecting officer arrived, accompanied by Col. White, D. O. C., and Lieut. Col. Ogilvie, the regiment presented arms and the band played The Maple Leaf Forever. As Col. Benson went down the line inspecting the artillerymen as far as appearance and uniforms were concerned the band played an inspection march.

300 LIVES LOST

Russian Mine.

YUSOVO, Russia, July 14.—An inquest into the fatal coal mine explosion of last week has revealed a terrible picture of the archaic methods of mining in vogue in Russia. It has been a matter of common knowledge for years past that the kikovsky mine was dangerous. The workmen called it "The Inferno," beworkmen called it "The Inferno," because of the prevalence of stifling gas in the workings and they would only consent to go down at double wages. The explosion itself was not of great force and a majority of the 300 men who lost their lives were burned to death or suffocated by afterdamp. It would have been possible to save all but one dozen of the men below if prompt measures had been taken, as fully one hour elapsed after the explosiion before the flames burst out. During this hour the rescuing parties waited with folded hands for information as to how and where they were to descend. Immediately after the explosion the mine engineer recklessly decended the main, haft without a mask.

It was learned also that vital parts of the fire engines had been stolen and for the first day water had to be passed into the shaft in PARIS, July 14.—Many rumors of strikes to begin on the national holiday, July 14, the anniversary of the fall of the Bastle, have been current for the past two weeks, but one strike which started today came as a complete surprise. Not a single employee of the river passenger boats appeared for duty this morning, and thousands of Parislams, who generally spend Sunday at Sevres, St. Cloud and Charenton were compelled to find other means of getting there than by a sall on the Seine. The steamboat company lost some $6,000 in receipts.

The employees are demanding a twelve hour instead of a fifteen hour day.

The absence of the steamers proved a great convenience to the contestants in a professional swimming race down the Seine through Paris, the course being seven and one-quarter miles. There were fifteen contestants, the winner being sillington, an Englishman, who swam the distance in 2 hours 30 minutes.
