

TARTE IS HAPPY

No Longer a Member of the Laurier Cabinet.

His Correspondence With the Premier—A Frank Talk With the Sun's Ottawa Correspondent—Will Go Back to His Old Work as a Newspaper Man.

OTTAWA, Oct. 21.—Tarte has stepped down and out a little sooner than was expected. It seems that Laurier is greatly offended with the conduct of the minister of public works while he (the premier) was in Europe. He holds that Tarte acted unconstitutionally, and that no other recourse was left open to him than to get out. Tarte wrote out his resignation on the train while en route to Toronto yesterday, and it was mailed from that city. Laurier found it upon his desk when he arrived at his office this morning and lost no time in answering it. Both the letter of resignation and the letter of acceptance were handed out to the newspaper men shortly after noon. They are as follows:

TARTE'S RESIGNATION.

My Dear Sir Wilfrid: I feel it is my duty to place my resignation in your hands and to ask you to be good enough to have it accepted by His Excellency the Governor-General. In the interview which I had with you, you expressed the opinion that I should not have spoken on the tariff as I have done. That the government had not as yet come to any definite understanding on their fiscal policy for the future, etc. I shall not discuss with you at the present time the question as to whether I was right or wrong in the course I followed. I am the leader of the government and your opinion, so far as my attitude is involved, must prevail. You told me my utterances are causing you trouble. I have no right and no desire to be a source of embarrassment to you or to the party with which I have been connected since 1872. My views on the tariff are well known. I have on several occasions stated them publicly in your presence, and discussed them often privately with you. Entertaining the opinion that the interests of the Canadian people would be served by a revision of the tariff of 1872, with the view of giving a more adequate protection to our industries, to our farming community, to our working men, I considered it my duty to speak on the subject. I am not, does not matter. What the country wants is that the national industry are defended and protected. I am free to express my views on the subject. I shall not be accused of compromising my colleagues. I will not permit of any of my colleagues to be accused of anything. I will go and shake hands with my colleagues, and then I will ask permission of his excellency to go to the States. I shall never forget. Once after all, I am a newspaper man. It is, after all, perhaps the finest occupation for a man to be active in the public sphere. Have you ever been asked either by Sir Wilfrid Laurier or the acting premier to cease talking tariff? I should never mention to me that I should not have talked tariff. Sir Wilfrid could have been reached by cable easily, and one word from Sir Richard Cartwright, the acting prime minister, would have either stopped me or have forced me to resign. Sir Wilfrid, whilst here, had allowed me to remain as his colleague and talk high tariff. I have done the same thing in his absence. That is the story in a few words.

LAURIER'S REPLY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier writes a Mr. Tarte today as follows: OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 21, 1902. Dear Tarte—After having seen you on Sunday, and having expressed to you my well settled opinion upon the course of your present attitude, my first duty was to wait upon his excellency the governor general to inform him that I was obliged to demand the resignation of your portfolio. After having seen his excellency I had to acquaint my colleagues of the interview which I had had with you. In accepting your resignation, it is well to emphasize the points of difference between us. During my absence in Europe, without any communication with me, and without any previous understanding with your colleagues, you have acted in a manner which is in my opinion a violation of your duty towards the government of which you were a member. I repeat to you here what I told you on Sunday, I do not wish to discuss at this moment the economic theory of which you have made yourself the champion. This question, however important it might be, is subordinate to the more important. If you had reached the conclusion that the interests of the country demanded without delay an increase of the customs duties the first thing for you to do as a member of the government before addressing your views to the public would have been to place before your colleagues with the object of obtaining the unanimous action of the cabinet, which is the very foundation of responsible government. If you had not been able to obtain from your colleagues your assent to the course which you recommended, you would have been obliged then either to accept their own views or to sever your connection with them, and then for the first time would you have been free to place your views before the public. Such was the very simple course which was binding upon you. It is not to be regretted that you did not do this at the same time as to advocate a policy which had not yet been adopted by the government was an impediment to the proper working of our constitutional system and implies a disregard for that loyalty which all those who are members of the same administration have a right to expect from each other. I thank you for the good wishes which you express for the improvement of the country, and I will make it my duty to convey to your old colleagues the same wishes that you formulate for their welfare and their happiness. Believe me, yours very sincerely, WILFRID LAURIER.

The Baby Sick?

Then probably it's a cold. Babies catch cold so easily and recover so slowly. Not only, however, when you use Vapo-Cresolene. Then a single night is all that is necessary for a cure. You just put some Vapo-Cresolene in the vaporizer, light the lamp beneath, and place near the crib. While baby sleeps he breathes in the healing vapor. Cold loosens, inflamed membranes heal, and all trouble ceases. It's a perfect specific for whooping-cough and croup. Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. A Vapo-Cresolene candle, vaporizer, lamp, which should last a life-time, and a bottle of Vapo-Cresolene, complete outfit, extra large size, 50 cents. AFTER MAY QUEEN'S WHARF.

Majestic S.S. Co. Strive to Get Possession of Berth Used by the May Queen for Twenty Years.

Negotiations are in progress which may result in the ousting of the steamer May Queen and her proprietors from the Indian wharf they have used continuously for twenty years. The wharf accommodation at Indian wharf has been for some time far from sufficient to meet the demand for space. Since the arrival of the Majestic last spring there has been especial difficulty. All through the summer she has been using the public wharf at the foot of Main street. This has aroused considerable protest, and the owners of that wharf, in search for a permanent berth, have fixed upon the May Queen wharf as a suitable place, and have opened negotiations with the owners regarding the securing by them of a lease of that property to the exclusion of those now occupying it.

Capt. Brannan of the May Queen has berthed his steamer at that wharf for about twenty years. His original contract was with the late Capt. Robert Robertson, but when after his death the wharf changed hands several times, this was not renewed, and the property has since been held by Capt. Brannan under an informal lease renewed each year. The wharf is now owned by Mrs. A. Morrison and Mrs. Harold Climo, daughters of the late Hugh Trevor, who married a daughter of Mr. Robertson, the original owner. The members of the Majestic company made an offer to the owners of the wharf, which the present occupants of the wharf only learned of recently, through Harold Climo, acting for the owners.

Since then negotiations have been going on and several propositions have been made. No decision has yet been announced, though it is reported in a position to the Majestic company offer inducements that make their chances of winning the wharf very favorable. An incident in connection with the matter that will excite comment along the river is the fact that for the first time in fifteen years the May Queen has not been in the harbor. Capt. Brannan went with neither his wife nor his children, but with a son, Brannan, her general purser, aboard. They were compelled to remain down in his business, and the boat went up in charge of Capt. Robt. Lindsay.

ANOTHER N. S. MURDER.

One Another Killed Another in Abandoned Manganese Mine. HALIFAX, Oct. 22.—Nova Scotia has another murder. At Tenney Cape, a place near the shore of the Bay of Fundy, and the site of an abandoned manganese mine, an Arabanoid killed another and robbed the killing was done in a tunnel of the mine. The tragedy was discovered by a young man who was gunning. He saw a pedlar carrying in addition to his gun a bag of loose material, apparently belonging to some one else. An alarm was given, and finally they discovered a dead man in the tunnel. The body was hardly cold. The head was crushed in. The dead man was found an hour after the pedlar was first seen by the young man. He was arrested.

A SAILOR'S SUICIDE.

HALIFAX, Oct. 22.—Worce was received today of a sailor, who, in which Walter Porier of Desceuse lost his life. According to the report, Porier, who was a deck hand on the schooner, was with a deck hand on the schooner from Richibucto to Sydney with a cargo of lumber, complained of sickness when a day or two out of port. Everything possible was done to relieve the suffering man, and it was thought that he would soon be all right. Suddenly, however, he left his bunk, hastened to the deck and threw himself overboard, and was not seen again. It is thought that his suffering had him insane.

DENMARK DECLINES

To Sell its West India Islands to United States.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—The Land-thing today rejected the second reading of the bill providing for the ratification of the treaty between Denmark and the United States in regard to the cession of the Danish West Indies to the latter country. The vote stood 32 to 22. The announcement caused the greatest excitement in the house and demonstrations on the part of the spectators in the building. (U. S. Associated Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 22.—The predominant sentiment throughout Denmark is undoubtedly pro-sale, and the rejection of the treaty is attributed chiefly to a domestic political effort to embarrass the government and bring about the resignation of the ministry. The result of today's vote was doubtful until the last moment. Before the hour fixed for the meeting of the Land-thing the streets outside the Rigsdag building were crowded with excited seekers for admission. Thousands were turned away. The hall and galleries were packed. The vote was taken amid suppressed excitement and the announcement of the result was greeted with a storm of applause and hisses. The exhibitors of the situation with the view of assisting the islands in developing better economic conditions.

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The Times publishes a despatch from its Copenhagen correspondent saying it is evident that the Danish government considers the rejection of the treaty providing for the sale of the islands to be final. This action will probably result in some cabinet changes, says the correspondent. ST. THOMAS, D. W. I., Oct. 22.—The action of the Danish government in the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States has been received with a feeling of surprise and indignation. A large section of the population of the island is greatly disappointed at the receipt of the news, believing that its hopes of prosperity have been shattered.

MIND READING.

Mind-reading is more in the nature of a trick than a game, as anything that creates surprise or approaches the wonderful is always prone to attract attention. We introduce this plan of reading the contents of a sealed paper by laying it on a table at one end of the room, and then distributing among the audience, with the request that each one write down a short sentence, plainly and in English. While they are busy writing the mind-reading medium is preparing for the forenoon, rebelling each arm slowly from shoulder to wrist, thus raising each and silent, starting at the wall. Each person folds his piece of paper carefully, and they are all collected by someone, who, standing next the medium, passes the first paper folded on the medium's forehead, who with closed eyes, immediately reads the contents out loud, and then verifies it by taking opening and rereading it with his eyes open, and requests the writer to acknowledge it. Patience which the second paper is treated in a similar manner, thus continuing until every paper has been read and acknowledged.

Resolutions Adding to the Basic Principles.

PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 21.—A departure from the National W. C. T. U. convention programme was the substitution of tonight. As this included the address of Lady Henry Somerset and Rev. Henry S. Sanders of London, Eng., there was a crowded gathering at the Jefferson Theatre Street Baptist church for the Free Missionary Society. Much of the late afternoon session was devoted to resolutions. The most important additions to the basic principles of the W. C. T. U. were those in favor of the enfranchisement of woman on equal terms with man. We unambiguously reaffirm our former declarations in favor of purity in the individual, in the home, in society and in the state.

We condemn the lawlessness manifested through mob violence and anarchy in various parts of our country and hold that no man, however educated and of high social life or liberty without, should be deprived of his rights. We will strive with renewed vigor to arouse public sentiment concerning the dangers threatening our country by the spread of an anti-polygamy amendment to the federal constitution.

We tender honor to the chief executive of our nation for his earnest effort to settle by arbitration the strike in the coal regions. We profess to believe that all employment of child labor in mines, factories, department stores and in any industry, should be prohibited. We affirm our sympathy with labor in its just demand for a living wage, an eight hour day, the right to organize for mutual protection and advancement and the right to strike. We deplore the existing conditions of child labor, which seriously interfere with the best development, physical, mental and spiritual.

A resolution was passed that "we hereby express our delight at the presence of Lady Henry Somerset, as our white ribbon comrade, counsel and friend; we hold her in affectionate regard, and as our honored president of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, we pledge to her anew our unwavering loyalty."

Mrs. Stevenson, in presenting Sheriff Dunn, said: "Sheriff Pearson was faithful and devoted to his duty. We hold him in affectionate regard, and as our honored president of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance Union, we pledge to her anew our unwavering loyalty."

President Stevens said Dr. Sanders a copy of the Life of General Grant, and presented Lady Henry with a gown from California, bound with gold and silver, made of the finest material. The gown was made of the largest tree in the United States. Lady Henry made a leader and appropriate response. Large bouquets of flowers were presented to her.

At the close of the meeting, God be With Them We Said Amen. PORTLAND, Me., Oct. 22.—The National Women's Christian Temperance Union after being in convention in the Jefferson Theatre since Friday morning, adjourned at 12:45 tonight after a week of well attended sessions during which much business was accomplished.

The prize membership banner, given by Frances Willard, was awarded to Illinois, Miss Willard's native state. The prize pro rata membership flag was presented to the Alabama union. Many presentations of gifts were made. President Stevens was given a shower of 50 handkerchiefs, representing the W. C. T. U. of each state and territory. Vice president at large, Miss Anna Gordon, was given a silver mounted hand mirror by the ladies of Massachusetts, her native state. It being the occasion of her 50th anniversary as a member of the W. C. T. U. No decision was reached on the next meeting place.

TRAFALGAR DAY

Observed in London and Portsmouth—Nelson Column on Trafalgar Square Decorated.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Trafalgar day (the anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar, fought Oct. 21, 1805), was celebrated today in the customary manner. The Nelson column on Trafalgar square was decked with wreaths sent from various parts of the world. A novel feature which created considerable interest, was the exhibition of a model of one of the submarine boats just added to the navy. Nelson's old flagship, the Victory, at Portsmouth, was decorated in honor of the day.
