

CLINICAL INSTRUCTION.

The London General Hospital during the past six years has been under a Board of Trustees, and during that period it has been enlarged and improved in many ways. The following gentlemen form the Board :—

COL. R. LEWIS, Chairman.

T. H. PURDOM.

JAS. GILMOUR.

HIS WORSHIP MAYOR ESSERY.

C. F. COMPLIN.

J. D. BALFOUR, M. D., Hospital Supt.

London, with suburbs, now contains over 45,000 inhabitants, and is rapidly increasing in size. It is also surrounded by the most densely populated farming community in the Province, so that the number of patients admitted to the Hospital furnishes a large and varied number of cases for Clinical study, which will be conducted in such a manner as to afford each student frequent opportunities of personally examining patients. The London General Hospital contains 104 beds, which are frequently all full, and the Training School in connection with the Hospital secures the best system of nursing. The students will also have the opportunity of visiting the Dispensary (in the school building) daily, and seeing and examining a number of out-door patients. Clinical Clerks and Surgical Dressers will be appointed from among the advanced students, who will take notes of cases and report the same on printed forms supplied for the purpose.

During this course the use is taught also of the Ophthalmoscope, Laryngoscope, Sphygmograph and other instruments of precision used in medical and surgical diagnosis.

According to a regulation of the Medical Council, students are required to attend the practice of a General Hospital for a period of twenty-four months.
