

BLESSING OF A BELL

But a short time ago the splendid new church of the Holy Angels, St. Thomas pastor, Rev. P. West has reason to be proud of his work.

The consecration ceremonies were marked by the impressiveness and symbolic significance that are associated with all important rites of the church.

His lordship in an interesting and explanatory discourse told the people that the bell never rang but to remind the faithful that something had happened, or that something should be done for the glory of the Master.

The bell rang out when the infant was baptized and became as one of the angels; it rang out its voice of jubilation to the bride and groom when the holy sacrament of matrimony had been solemnized, and it tolled, too, when the soul of a man had gone to meet its God and his body returned to the earth.

The bishop again referred to the untiring work of the faithful and beloved parish priest of the Church of the Holy Angels in having erected a structure to the glory of God, one of the most attractive and commodious in the diocese; and the completion of another beautiful and substantial edifice at Port Stanley.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM THE NORTHWEST

Dear Sir,—While the church news, and all news from Old Ontario is ever interesting and welcome, it is a pity that our old friends in the east know so little of what is going on in the great Canadian West.

New settlers flocking in from all parts of the world, and settling on the trackless prairie, much of which looks as if human foot had never yet trodden upon it, and crowding too into the new towns that are springing up everywhere. Some of these, now thriving cities, had no existence, or were hardly noticeable ten years ago.

When I myself came here four years ago, the sum total of Catholicity as far as I could find it was my own beads and prayerbook, to-day we have about one hundred Catholic families, a beautiful little frame church, priests' house and resident priest annexed. The land very notable progress of our church and faith.

Our pastor expected also to open a separate school within a few months. It is believed too that within three years at the longest we will have to have a new church, as our present one is far too small, even with two Masses as we have every Sunday, and our numbers are steadily increasing.

Quite a number of our people cannot speak a word of English; coming as they do from various parts of the world, their language differs from ours, but their faith is the same. Their ways and habits are often amusing and yet edifying.

To give you anything like a complete account or history of Catholicity in Melville in the last four years would be interesting indeed, and much of it very amusing, but it would take too long. It is also interesting to know that within twenty miles of Melville there are no less than six Catholic churches.

There has been several amusing instances of people starting for this church on Sunday mornings, and becoming lost in the woods in their attempts to find it. C. B. CHADWICK, Melville, Sask. Aug. 4th.

THE REDEMPTRIST ORDER

Toronto Globe, Aug. 8.

A new Vice-Province of the Order of Redemptorist Fathers was created here yesterday morning by an order of the Superior-General, Rev. Patrick Murray, which appoints Rev. William H. Brick, rector of St. Patrick's Church here, as its head with the title of Vice-Provincial. The new district will be known as the English-Canadian Province of Toronto, and it will embrace the houses of St. Patrick's, Toronto; St. Anne's, Montreal; St. Patrick's, Quebec, and St. Peter's in St. John, N. B.

St. Anne's, Montreal; St. Patrick's, Quebec, and St. Peter's in St. John, N. B. Its establishment entails the transfer of many members to new appointments. The Very Rev. Stephen Connolly of Boston will occupy Father Brick's place at St. Patrick's. Rev. George Daly, rector of St. Anne de Beaupre, Montreal, will occupy a similar post at St. Anne's in that city, while Rev. Father McPhail of St. Anne's will come here to act as consultant to Father Brick. Rev. Augustine Duke of St. Peter's, St. John, N. B., will continue as rector of that parish, and Rev. James Woods will occupy the post of St. Patrick's in Quebec. Fathers Hogan and Scully of Brooklyn will be transferred here, while Fathers Mulhern and Clennett will go from Toronto to Montreal. Fathers Doyle, Jones, Derlin and O'Reilly remain here. St. Patrick's will continue to be a mission house.

Showing Their Brass

When the anti-Catholics of Spain did not like the rule of their king, they threw bombs at him in an attempt to kill him on his wedding day. When the anti-Catholics of Portugal were dissatisfied with political conditions, they murdered their sovereign. When the anti-Catholics of Belgium were defeated in the recent election, they took to rioting, felonious attacks on the police and destruction of churches, convents and stores. The anti-Catholics in Ireland threaten a civil war if the Home Rule bill passes. Catholics may not have recourse to such methods of campaigning. The anti-Catholics make great professions of loyalty and good citizenship, but when the acid test is applied they show their brass under the gilding.—Catholic Columbian.

PROTESTANT LAY ORDERS

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH HAS RELIGIOUS COMMUNITIES FOR MEN AND FOR WOMEN—AN ORDER OF ST. BENEDICT FOR LAYMEN RECENTLY ESTABLISHED

It was Dr. Pusey who started in 1844 the first Anglican sisterhood, says the New York Sun. Now there are said to be more than five thousand women in religious life in the various churches of England orders, and there are about one thousand men in the monastic orders.

Two orders for the priesthood of the Protestant Episcopal Church exist in this country. One is the Society of St. John the Evangelist, founded at Cowly in England, of which the American branch is independent. The other and native order is the Society Cross.

That these two orders are not sufficient to meet the demand for religious life in the most advanced or ritualistic wing of the Church known as the Protestant Episcopal is shown by the recently established Benedictine abbey in a diocese of the Northwest, with the Bishop as its abbot. The Order of St. Benedict has been adopted on the ground that its rule is best suited to the needs of a monastic house in the present time. The community is mainly for laymen, although there may be admission to a small number of priests.

That such an Order should exist within the Protestant Episcopal Church and that its head should be the Bishop of the diocese in which it is situated affords evidence of the influence of the ritualist party in the Northwest, where, to be sure, they have been most progressive and prosperous. But it is a striking development of the movement that brings into existence in a Church called Protestant a community devoted to the teachings of St. Benedict.

The Dawn

(An anticipation of Irish Home Rule) Far hence amid an isle of wondrous beauty Crouching over a grave an ancient sorrowful Mother—WALT WHITMAN Oh, thou hast waited long that sorrowing mother! Fanning the smouldering ash which never dies, For Truth and Right must outlive time itself. And many a martyr's blood spread on the flame, For thou, oh faithful mother, didst sacrifice. Thy blood—And Respa mourns as slain her sons; Sleeping on sack cloth by her limpid forms And Respa has not sinned!—Who crime, Oh mother, Dost thou, expiate in sack-cloth-clod Upon this lowly ground! Now mute no more! Again thy voice within those ancient halls, And from thy lips again the song of joy, Oh, that great joy, which taught thee harp to sing. Dull strings no longer discord on the wind! But Freedom faithful to her truest child Shall fill the air, and breathe again, oh harp, In fullest rapture of triumphant joy!

Oh, happy land, oh happy Mother Queen! Still in thy verdant grove, still thy child, And never forgot thy fettered mother's cause.— Following fortunes far Freedom to far lands.— The western winds blew hard against thy face And weary watched we all thy guided wrongs! Oh, happy land, apple-green isle! As saunt'ry shamrock spoke on Tara's hill The simple story of so great a truth! Again thy heart is light, O Emerald Queen! Arise from thy low seat, thy willow shades, The Sun, behold him sweeping Mother, Sun!— Soft, soft, the weakened heart for joy may break, The Sun, mine own, acushla Mother, Sun! —EVELYN BRUCE MACKINNON
