day.

In Zion Congregational Church last night Rev. Dr. Aubrey of London, Eng., delivered an interesting lecture, embodying his observations of the various sections, through which passed on his recent trip to the Pacific. His descriptions of the great cities, especially Salt Lake, were evidence of keen and careful study. Toronto howaver surpassed them all, in one respect, and that was in its marvel of orderliness and Sabash observance.

Mr. Booth Loses Half a Mustache.

An amusing incident occurred at the Star Theatre, New York, Wednesday night, when Edwin Booth followed "The Merchant of Venice" by "The Taming of the Shrew." When as Petruchio he affectionately embraces Katharine in the second act, half of his mustache became attached to her left check and remained there. When Mr. Booth turned his face to the audience again, a shout of laughter went up, and this was increased when the missing part of his mustache was seen on Katharine's check. The couple were twice called before the curtain, Mr. Booth smilingly stroking the lip whence the hair had fled, and Miss Vaders hiding her check with her handker-chief.

witnessed the crime, but he managed to escape. The blow was so well aimed that not a moment's struggle ensued, and the victim, in calling for the police, fell dead.

He had spent some hours of the evening with a Lieutenant-General's widow whom he intended to marry, notwithstanding his sixty-three years, his nine children, and his three dead wives. He was once wealthy, but lost much capital in printing an expensive adition of the Talmud, No clue to his murderer has been found, and the only theory put forward is that some "Anarchists" had perhaps tried is that some "Anarchists" had perhaps tried to extort money from him, and, having threatened him with death if it warenot given, kept their word, to intimidate the many persons who are continually receiving letters from them demanding money.

Annam has just come to hand in the shape of a mass of gold and silver treasure captured at Hue. The whole amount is contained in 192 boxes of silver and 14 of gold. This rich cargo, which altogether weighs over 60,000 pounds, has come over to France by the steamer Irawaddy. It was stowed in the bottom of the hold and covered over with 500 tons of merchandise. This was only a trifling part of the precautions which had to be taken. Every opening that could communicate with the hold was closed and scaled. The cargo was unloaded with the greatest care, and men with swords and loaded revolvers stood by till the last box was removed. The treasure was then put into the train and despatched to the Minister of Finance at Paris. It would be interesting to know whether this treasure, amounting to £350,000 sterling, will be applied to alleviating the deficit in the budget.

LTHEUL FOOD.

A large proportion of the baking powders in the market contain Ammonia, Alum, or Acid Phosphates, and as a matter of prudence housekeepers should insist upon knowing ALL the ingredients of their favorite brand. A knowledge of one of the ingredients is of little value, as it is no guarantee of the wholesomeness of the others; hence no reliance should be placed on any baking powder unless the manufacturers plainly state each and every ingredient used in its preparation. GOON IN TO STAIN THAT WINTE SEAL If your patronage for a baking powder has been obtained by artfully written advertisements extensively circulated, note carefully whether or not its manufacturers impart to the public a knowledge of every ingredient that enters into their compound. His Opinion of the Auction Craze

The purchase of goods by the consumer at auction has been proven by many to be most insatisfactory and delusive. A bargain may be occasionally obtained through the skill of the nectioneer in his study of mankind, but ostensibly with the view of creating an interest. His ain business is to make all the profit he can for the owner of the property. These sales ould not be so frequent if not profitable. The large majority attending such have little or o knowledge of value and are frequently carried away by the excitement of the moment, uying ofttimes what they did not want, and regretting it afterward.
