

Intercollege: Founders takes women's volleyball

By Peter Hibbard
Founders women's volleyball team emerged victorious after the finals of the two-day tournament, defeating Stong 13 to 2 in a close well-fought match which saw two evenly matched teams battle it out for the York Intercollege championship.

Founders, the home of a majority of the Yeowomen volleyball team, finished in second place behind Stong in the semi-finals, but Stong was without its best players for the championship game due to other varsity commitments. In the other match for third place in the consolation round, Osgoode II defeated Founders II 3 games to 0.

Owls are in second with 3 points and Calumet is in third with 2 points. Calumet defeated McLaughlin during the regular season giving them third spot even though they are tied with Mac for points.

The big shake-up this week however, is the disqualification of Vanier College and Glendon from further competition in the league due to the use of ineligible players. All previous games with these clubs by the other four colleges have been scratched from the record book.

At the end of the first playoff round in mens' intercollege hockey, Stong's Green Machine, led by coach Steve Dranitsaris, is in first place with 5 points, the Osgoode

After a very close season of play, the women's intercollege basketball schedule had finally reached the playoffs, with first-place Glendon losing to fourth-place Winters, and second-place Stong topping third-place Founders. In the first match-up Glendon was unable to move the ball against a motivated Winters team and found themselves giving it up on numerous occasions. Winters, on the other hand, were able to capitalize on Glendon's errors, and scored with greater authority. The low-scoring game ended with Winters edging ahead of Glendon 14 to 13.

In the other game Stong came through in the second half with 10 unanswered points to defeat a persistent Founders squad 22 to 15.

Women netters surpass Guelph

By George Trenton

The Yeowomen narrowly squeaked by a psyched-up Guelph Gryphon volleyball squad before a capacity crowd in the Guelph Auditorium to win their match 3-0 last week.

As well as placing first in the university league this season, the team is currently in first place in the Ontario Women's Senior AA league with their victory of three games to one over the Metro Globals.

The Globals were leading the league until their loss last weekend at the hands of the Yeowomen.

The Yeowomen will travel to Brock University this weekend for the Ontario Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Association pre-final.

The winner of the tournament will play in the OWIAA Championships the following weekend. York is expected to make it to the finals to be played in London.

How to talk about drinking & driving to your teenagers

We all know going out is fun, and no parent wants to take away those good times. But these days, with teenagers in and out of cars so much, it's crucial that they understand the dangers of drinking and driving, and that they can avert potential trouble by making the right decisions.

First, set your son or daughter straight on this often-misunderstood fact: beer, wine and spirits—in excess, all three are just as dangerous on the road.

A good way of avoiding trouble is to plan ahead. Suggest that your teenagers review their evening before going out. If they see drinking involved, far better to leave the car at home than to take chances later behind the wheel.

Far better also to say no to a drink, to refuse to drive, or to turn down a lift with an impaired friend than to go along with the crowd and maybe regret it.

You can support your teenagers and give them confidence by letting them know that if they ever need help you'll go for them, pay their cab or do whatever is necessary to get them home safely.

Most important, be a good example. Never drive if you've had even one drink too many. Better still, don't let it come to that. Know your limit and stay within it.

to your parents

If you're not of legal drinking age, don't touch a drop. But if you are, and you drive, then you're old enough to do your part in reaching an agreement with your parents on the subject.

Sure they worry. Because even if you don't drink, others in your group may. The friend driving you home one night may have had too much.

Show that you're equally concerned. Get serious. For instance, what have you read lately about the dangers of drinking and driving? Do you know how much beer, wine or spirits your body can safely handle before your judgment becomes impaired? Do you know the law in your province? And what happens if you break it?

Get the facts and discuss them calmly. Then take the initiative and propose a few family ground rules.

No driving if you've been drinking beyond your limit. (We'll send you a valuable free chart on responsible limits if you write us.) No riding with a friend who's been drinking. And convince your parents if a situation ever turns dicey, you won't hesitate to phone for help.

Finally, remind your parents you're concerned for their safety, too, and that the family rules on drinking and driving apply to them, as well.
