ONE WAS ENOUGH

Aunt Priscilla—"Now, Tommy, never try to deceive anyone. You wouldn't like to be two-faced, would you?"

Tommy—"Gracious, no! One face is enough to wash these cold mornings."—Chicago News.

The danger of sending abbreviated telegrams is shown in the following story. A politician was to have made a speech at Derby, and, being unable to do so because heavy rains had destroyed the branch railway, sent a telegram as follows—"Cannot come; wash out on line." In a few hours the reply came—"Never mind; borrow a shirt!"
