The epidemic of small pox has now been entirely stamped out of the town and authorities who have a knowledge of the disease in other towns and cities, compliment this town very highly over the effectual preventive measures taken.

The large supplement found in this issue which will reach every one of our subscribers in the County, shows that our merchants are alive to business and having an extensive and up to date stock they can with confidence invite the public to inspect their goods.

The merchants have been very much encouraged by the increase of trade since the danger from small-pox passed. Most every day now looks like a bargain day, judging from the people who come to town to purchase.

A great many who are making frequent visits to town state how pleased they were in again being able to trade in town and they never knew how much the privilege meant to them until they were cut off from the town for fear of small-pox, and were obliged to go elsewhere.

KING'S CO. ARMY WORMS

It seems really too bad, that our distinguished delegation of army contractors, inspectors and testers of supplies and medical comforts, who left town bright and early on Monday last for Halifax, to look after the interests of the 3rd Canadian Contingent for South Africa and see that all the supplies purchased from their friends were carefully checked, and thoughtfully put on board the transports, should be referred to by the Halifax Herald as the "Kings County Army worms."

SOUTH AFRICA

The blockhouse scheme of Lord Kitchener seems to be bringing good results. With the blockhouses constructed between Greylingstad, on the Natal and Johannesburg Railway and Bruggruit, on the Delagoa Bay line, he has both a force enclosed in an area of 10,000 square miles, with, roughly speaking, a hundred miles of protected railways forming the northside, a hundred miles of blockhouses the west side, a hundred miles of railway the south side, and the Lwazi land border the east side.

Over this restricted country British columns are now moving and on the 12th Lord Kitchener was enabled to report the capture of practically the whole Bethel commando by Gen. Bruce Hamilton. Seven Boers were killed and 131 taken prisoners. As in the case of the capture of the laager at Oshoek, Hamilton surprised the commando after a night march.

A despatch from Lord Kitchener dated from Belfast, about half way between Pretoria and the frontier of Portuguese East Africa, received here today, announces that Commandant Kritzingler has been captured, badly wounded, by Gen. French. Kritzingler was trying to break the blockhouse cordon at Hanover Road.
