New York, May 2.-John Joseph Mc Nulty, of 58 Morton street, professor of mental philosophy at the College of the City of New York, was killed yester day afternoon by falling down an ele vator shaft in the Macy & Company department store. The only eye witnes the manner in which Professor Mo Nulty met his death is Charles Den ham, the negro elevator boy, who was arested and held on a charge of hom

Denham told the police that when his elevator had reached the fifth floor the only passengers were Professor McNulty and Dr. E. W. Allison. The latter got out at the fifth floor, and Denham says that he had started the elevator again, when Professor Mc-Nulty apparently discovered that he had passed his floor, and, throwing open the door to the elevator cage, tried to get out. Denham says that Professor McNulty's body struck against the side of the doorway opening into the fifth floor and then toppled into the shaft as the cage shot up. Denham says that he had started the

What Will Street, Railway Co. Do?

Hon. Mr. Gibson Not Here to Say.

Road Work Won't Wait For Hydro.

In the absence from the city to-day of Hon. J. M. Gibson, President of the Street Railway Company, it was impossible to ascertain if there was still a chance of the offer made by the Conference Committee to guarantee the bonds being accepted. General Manager Hawkins was unable to give any information on the subject. He said he was not in a position to speak authoritatively. it was suggested that Colonel Gibson's absence might be due to a desire to confer with the financial agents again as to the advisability of accepting the city's offer on the terms named Mr. Hawkins smilingly replied that perhaps it was, but he had his doubts. The company will have a whole week to think matters over as the council does not meet until Monday, May II. It is pointed out that there is little difference between what the company is demanding and what the mayor thinks it should do. The company would not undertake to build extensions as already outlined if the city insists on only guaranteeing the bonds. The mayor says he does not think there is any crying need for extensions now and he would not be hard on the company in that direction. The matter of extensions seems to be the stumbling block at present. The members of the Conference Committee seem determined, however, that if there is to be any deal that the extensions as already mapped out must be a part of the proposition. absence might be due to a desire to

The company's earnings this year kept pace with 1907 for the months of January and February, but March showed a decrease and Mr. Hawkins announced to-day that April had also fallen behind. This, he thinks, is an indication that conditions are worse than the manufacturers admit and more men are out of work. He says that both he and Colonel Gibson have been besigged with applications from unemployed men, although neither of hem engage any employees.

Mr. Hawkins also made the announcement that the Brantferd & Hamilton Railway would be formally opened on Victoria Day. An hourly time table will be in force until the traific is gauged. If the business justifies it a half hourly service will be inaugurated in June. As to the rates, Mr. Hawkins says the fare will be about two cents a mile. A half hourly service will be given on the Beach and Buritngton line, beginning about May 15, and a month later the company expects to give a fifteen minute service.

The arching over of the Ferminal sta-ion grounds will not be gone in with tion grounds will not be gone on with this year. "We are too poor," was the jocular reply of the General-Manager when asked the reason.
