ON THE BARR.

IN MANITOBA

In my last note I should, for greater accuracy, have stated that the boundary line between Ontario and Manitoba, which had been disputed for a long time, is located about twenty miles west of Rat

Winnipeg is the capital of the Province of Manitoba, and it is a fine, live, progressive city. It was formerly known as Fort Gary, and in 1871 had a population of one hundred persons

The city is situated at the junction of the Red and Assiniboine Rivers, both of which are navigable by steamboats. It is one of the most beautiful cities in western Canada, and it is growing rapidly. It had its boom about ten years ago, and many suffered severely on account of it; but it has got over that, and its progress at present seems to be steady and solid.

Winnipeg has an altitude of seven hundred feet, and it is a beautiful location. It is a beautiful location. It is a beautiful location. It is a beautiful location.
