RUSSIA'S MOVEMENTS.

Since the bear has turned upon his pursuers, driven back and done some hunting on his own account, he has manifested a certain quality of silence and stealth of approach strangely bellying his accepted reputation for ungalumphousness. In fact we are not sure that the bear does not typify the great Empire when it is on the warpath. The almost mysterious powers of resistance of the retreating Russian army last summer, when the elements of it seemed to be wanting; their miraculous return to strength; Brusiloff's lightning stroke at Austria, resembling nothing so much as the spring of a tiger; his clever and unexpected shifting of the attack to the place of least resistance; the hurricane victories of the Grand Duke in Armenia—all these were feats striking in themselves and remarkable for the quietness with which they were prepared. More than one nation has "found" itself in the test of war, and the world has discovered in Ivan quailies it had not before ascribed to him. A good instance of the Russian method of surprise, to which full credit has not been given, was exhibited lately in Armenia after the loss of Erzurum and in the face of a serious situation, the Turks mustered considerable forces and retook Mush, threatening to turn the left wing of the Russian army and paralyse its efforts. Believing themselves secure, they proceeded to fortify their position, when the Grand Duke called up reinforcements from heaven knows where and once more seized the town, undoing by a single stroke and in a single day the work of the Turks for weeks and leaving them in a worse position than before. Now that the Balkan theatre looms so large, Russia's plans are involved in not a little mystery, for it is apparent that she will play the part of protagonist in the drama about to be enacted there, and the world is waiting for an indication of what it will be.

For many days the Russian offensive had been stayed and inactive, before Romania made public the decision of which her great neighbour must have been cognisant for some time. The explanation that is generally given is that Russia is, and had been, massing a considerable army with the object of invading Bulgaria via Dobruja and the Black Sea. That may be true, but probably is—-but it is highly significant that Brusiloff is once more on the move against Lemberg. And not Lemberg alone, for he has scored a quick success at Vladimir Volynski, the southern approach to Kovel. Recently Von Bothmer fell back from Tarnopol to the line of the Zlota Lipa, which has now been the scene of a considerable Russian victory. The all-important Halicz is under heavy fire; if it falls the fate of Lemberg will hang by a thread. The time for the attack is opportune, with Romania keeping Austria more than busy south of the Carpathians.

Meanwhile Roumania's own campaign is interesting, to say the least of it. Her attention is turned for the moment almost wholly to Transylvania. If Russia gets fairly over the Carpathians, which is not likely until Lemberg is taken, we may expect the great Russo-Roumanian army to move obliquely, not so much west as south. Already Roumania is attacking Orsova, the point of junction of Austria, Serbia, Roumania and, we might almost say, Bulgaria. There her object is most certainly Serbia—the creation of the upper millstone which will grind in time against the lower one at Salonika. This plan of campaign, immensely important and of huge proportions, probably explains her comparative neglect of her eastern border and the success of the Germans and Bulgarians in taking Turtukai. That, however, is a reverse, the importance of which must not be discounted. It seems to have been a brilliant surprise attack quite after the German method. It greatly strengthens the Bulgarian position, but it is doubtful if it will do more than temporarily. Russia's advancing legions should soon force their way past it, outflanking or isolating the invaders. But we have heard nothing definite yet about this army, and it is early to prophesy. The whole strategic situation of Bulgaria in particular, is interesting and peculiar, and will develop rapidly, and Russia may be expected to play the largest part in the development.

Iron Deposit at Portugal Cove

Surveyor M. James and his assistant have been for the past few days revising certain mining claims in the vicinity of Blasthole Ponds, Portugal Cove, St. John's East, where it is said large quantities of rich brown iron ore are to be secured a short distance below the surface. The belt is supposed to run parallel with the coast line for a distance of several miles north of the little village of Bauline. To one rowing down the coast in a small boat, deposits of the ore are plainly visible in the overhanging cliff. Experts say the ore would average between 58 and 60 per cent to the ton whereas Bell Island varies from 50 to 54, but owing to the formation of the surface being of a more difficult nature to bore and excavate, the cost of obtaining the ore would eat up a large percentage of the profits.

Cure Your Bad Cough by Breathing "Ca- tarrhozone."

You may dislike taking medicine—but coughs are best cured without medicine. The modern treatment is "Catarrhozone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that is congested is healed—irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and Catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhozone. Beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhozone. All dealers sell Catarrhozone, large size which lasts two months price $1.00; small size 50c.; sample size, 25c.

Rounded Up.

Two seamen were arrested under warrant last night charged with desertion. Both of them shipped to go on the schr. Waterwitch a week ago, received advance money, and then took to the woods, evading the authorities in the meantime, and remained there until they became aware that the vessel had put to sea. During their sojourn in the wilderness they partook of berries and vegetables which were all the eatables they had for four days, and were evidently none the worse of their "outing" when captured yesterday on Water Street by Constable J. Simmonds. This morning the deserters were arraigned before Judge Morris and, owing to the absence of prosecution, were let go.

Death Due to Heart Failure.

The remains of Mr. George Bursell, who was found dead in his bed yesterday afternoon at the Tremont Hotel, were removed from the morgue last evening to the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Gladstone Tessier, whence the funeral will take place to-morrow. A post mortem held on the body by Dr. Campbell showed that heart failure was the cause of the man's death. Mr. Bursell was unmarried and is survived by two brothers and one sister.

God Knoweth Best.

The gates of life swing either way
 On noiseless hinges night and day.
 One enters through the open door;
 One leaveth to return no more.
 And which is happier, which more
 Is lost.
 God knoweth best.

We greet with smiles the one who comes
 Like sunshine to our hearts and homes
 And reach out longing hands with
 A tear
 To him who in his ripened years
 Goes gladly to his heavenly rest.
 God knoweth best.

He guards the gates. We need not
 Dread
 The path these little feet must tread.
 Not fear for him who from our sight
 Passed through them to the realm of Light.
 Both in His loving care we rest.
 God knoweth best.

Jensen's Lecture.

Owing to the number of requests that have been made that Pte. Phil Jensen should again lecture in this city on the Great War, the T. A. Hall has been secured for next Thursday evening, Sept. 14th, when at 8.30 p. m., he will with his usual fluency and vivid portrayal, show us a true picture of what the sons of Newfoundland amongst millions of others are facing at the present time that we may enjoy the absolute safety and comfort we are now experiencing, and in so doing we should realize vividly what that barrier of khaki-clad figures, that stretches across Europe from sea to sea is doing and suffering for us, that we may in the very few ways available, try to repay a little of the great debt we owe them.—adv.
