

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyesight 50 per cent In One Week's Time In Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home.

Philadelphia, Pa. Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain, or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing say they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man writes after trying it: "I was almost blind; I could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere around my eyes with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and without a trace of eye trouble.

To strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. There is the prescription: Go to any drug store and get a bottle of Den-Opto tablets. Drop one Den-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this I could better the eyes two to four times. Now, you should wear your eyes clear up possibly right from a start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now. For it is too late. Many, hopefully blind, might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Mr. W.W. Blackall Relates His Experiences

SEAL COVE:—Shortly after noon we left Base Verte and by 4.30 p.m. we were in Seal Cove, White Bay. Here we bade adieu to the Prospero, and at 8 o'clock that evening we were in the school-room, which had been decorated for the purpose and was packed tight, beginning our patriotic meeting under the Presidency of Skipper Osborne. The men had welcomed us on our arrival with a generous expenditure of powder and the gathering seemed to be much impressed by the addresses. The Rev. M. Sealey was present, as also was Mr. Watson the teacher, to whom we were indebted for the excellent arrangements for our meeting and for much good cheer at his home. We were sorry to receive no volunteers at the close of the meeting, particularly as there are a good many stalwart young fellows in the place not one of whom so far has discovered that the safety of his home and family has been secured by the gallantry of others and that the call comes to them to get out and do their part. I do most sincerely hope that Seal Cove will do its bit before it is too late to have a chance to do it and so be able to feel after victory and peace have been won that this bonnie and prosperous spot has not been a Merz.

WESTPORT:—At noon on Wednesday, October 24th, the Rev. C. Wood's fine motor-boat, The Arrow, came for us and took us to Westport where in the Paragon made so picturesque and beautiful by himself and wife the whole of our party was entertained. None of us can forget the pains taken by Mr. and Mrs. Wood for our happiness and comfort. They belong to a stock to whom patriotism is second nature and realize to the full what they owe to our brave soldiers and sailors. At 8 o'clock that night the school-room was filled with the people of this pretty little settlement. Mr. Pearce himself presided. After the soldiers and I had delivered our addresses, the Rev. C. Wood and Mr. Lacey made a few stirring remarks, and one good ball joined the colors. This brings the roll for this tiny village to six or seven, so that Westport may well feel that it has taken a noble part in this gigantic struggle.

BEAR COVE:—On the following day, October 25th, aboard the Arrow we moved to Bear Cove where with musketry and cheers we were welcomed by a crowd on the wharf. Mr. Breen, Mr. Rice and Mr. Ball opened their homes to us. At 8 in the evening service came with their offering and in the end I had eight dollars and fifty-six cents to bring to St. John's for the W.P.A.

LITTLE CONEY ARM.

The following day, Monday, October 23rd, was too rough to permit us to start upon our next run of some thirty miles, but on Tuesday before the sun had risen and when it was so dark that we had to use a lantern to find our moorings, we set sail and at about five o'clock in the afternoon reached the neglected but most picturesque little settlement of Little Coney Arm—about nine miles immediately north of Jackson's Arm. Although the fishery here—the mainstay of the people—had been a failure and gunpowder was sixty cents a pound, we were welcomed with many a blaze. Mr. Sackery and Mr. Hinds entertained the party. At 8 o'clock in the evening the new school-room was well filled to listen to our stories. Although there were several fit to volunteer, none came forward but the conditions of Sopp's Island are identified here. What do the people of Little Coney Arm (and many other settlements in these parts) know of the public services of Empire? To post a letter or to find out if one has come for them, they have to take a journey by sea of nearly nine miles to Jackson's Arm and run the probability of two or three days' delay there. No steamer comes their way; no anything. Poor folk!

HARBOUR DEEP:—For the next two days we were scorm bound and prisoners in this little settlement of about twelve families. Our next call was to be Great Harbour Deep—thirty miles away—whence we were to organize meetings at South West Cove, North East Cove, Duggan's Cove, and Williamsport. As the fall was fast passing away we were more than anxious to get along.

By Friday, Nov. 2nd, the wind had moderated and we started for Harbour Deep. By the time we had reached Little Cat Harbour the wind and sea proved too much for us and we were compelled to take shelter in this splendid but uninhabited harbour. Here for two days we were unwilling prisoners. On Sunday, Nov. 4th, the wind shifted and we were able to go to sea but as it was so late in the season, and as we were desirous of restoring to Paragon Wood his boat, we concluded that we must abandon all hope of reaching Harbour Deep. Consequently we made for Westport and reached there safely at about 4 o'clock in the afternoon. One hope of reaching Harbour Deep remained and that was to take the Prospero on her way north to Harbour Deep, there carry out our plans and rejoin her on her southward way. Owing to the terrific weather, however, the Prospero was much delayed, taking seven travel from three and a half days to travel from St. John's to Westport, and when at last she reached the bay, to our intense chagrin she was compelled to pass Westport on account of the terrific winds. Fortunately she was able to call on her way south, and on Thursday, Nov. 15th, we reached St. John's after a lengthy and arduous though recreative tour.

My permanent hero companions had been Royal Naval Reservist Deering and Private Bradbury. They made excellent speeches, they proved most efficient recruiters—never losing a chance—shey were skilful seamen (for both on the Pedanaut and the Arrow we constituted the crew, they as sailors and I as engineer) and altogether very jolly good fellows.

Irritable Nerves Restored And Health Regained In A Simple Way

The man or woman who is run-down, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is a wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little choplate-coated tablets, sold in all drug-stores under the name of "FERROZONE."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs—you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way. Ferrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This ensures lots of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness. With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep—all the result of Ferrozone—you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

Here, there and every where we were on the look out for men and picked them up whenever we had a chance, even on the trains.

Parson Wood does not desire me to do so, but I cannot refrain from thanking him for his hospitality and for placing his magnificent boat, The Arrow, at our service in White Bay (including much fuel) free of cost. He said that being unable to enlist himself he desired to do this much and more besides. Sic utinam omnes essent!

This account would fall to do justice to the Reid Nfd. Co., if I were to fail to thank them for their help. We had to make much use of their trains and steamers and they refused to accept payment for any one of the party.

We owe and gladly give thanks to many, many others, including the owners and officers of the good ship Prospero from whom kindly favours were received.

The French Censorship

Manchester Guardian: The British newspapers value their space too highly to appear with blank spaces where the censor's blue pencil has been at work, but in the French press the appearance of such evidence of censorial activity is quite common. Curiously enough, too, the French public like it. They do not, perhaps, place so much reliance upon their newspapers—to some extent as a result of exaggerated statements in the early weeks of the war, from which the newspapers have never quite recovered—and they argue that if a paper appears with blank spaces it is at all events trying to tell the truth. Recently there was a curious example in "L'Homme Enchaîné." At the top of a column appeared the heading, "The Whole Truth," then came a column of pure white virgin paper, and at the foot the signature, "Georges Clemenceau." "Tiger" Clemenceau's paper probably holds the record for blank spaces, but it has its rivals. One appeared the other day with a heading indicating that what should have followed was an extract from an English paper. What did follow was a column and a half of blank space with the word "Censure" in the centre.

Your Boys and Girls.

Be kind at all times to your child and surround him with those who will always be so. The regularity which should be practised in the nursery has also a good influence on your child. As it learns that its wants are supplied at a regular time, it soon becomes accustomed to an element of regularity and reliability.

If the child is not indulged whenever it cries, it soon learns the value of self-control. Regularity and self-control are large factors in forming discipline. It breeds obstinacy. Deception and a nervous condition. All these ailments may have their foundation laid in the first year of life if great care be not exercised to have kind, sympathetic, yet perfectly just treatment for this early period.
