The Political Home

Can Not Be Right Until the Mothers Are There.

Then Interests of Home Will Be Protected by Genuine Home Workers, Says Dr. Amelia Youmans-An Able Lecture at Dundas Center Church.

"When Mother Comes Home" was the title of an interesting lecture delivered last evening at Dundas Center Church by Dr. Amelia Youmans, of Winnipeg, vice-president-at-large of the Dominion W. C. T. U., in which the talented speaker strongly presented the claims of women to equality with men in the government of the country. She was greeted by a fairsized audience, which would doubtless have been much larger had the weather been less disagreeable. Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the local union, presided, and the pastor, Rev. E. B. Lanceley, and Mrs. May R. Thornley took part in the devotional exercises. The church choir led the singing. When introducing the speaker of the evening, Mrs. Wright said Dr. Youmans had for the time being left a large practice at Winnipeg in order to advance the cause of the union here. Before entering upon her lecture, Dr. Youmans referred to the comprehensive work of the W. C. T. U. as it was revealed at the recent convention at Toronto. In its 40 different departments of human interest, all were reached. There was no one that did not receive some benefit from the organization, she said. Proceeding, she gave a vivid description of a home where the mother is absent, and the change brought about by her home-coming. The home before the mother's arrival she likened to the present political system—this half-orphaned civilization. There was great need of home-comings, and in this sense "mother" meant all women. The true spirit and character of a mother did not belong only to those who entered the bonds of matrimony. Miss

Frances E. Willard mothered human-

Dr. Youmans went on to speak of the condition of things as they are, dealing particularly with the liquor traffic. "We in Canada." she said, "consent and connive at hiding under mother early yearly 3,000 drunkards, while our lunatic asylums hold as many more. After drawing an analogy between the human heart and the heart of the body politic, she spoke of the position of woman in her relation to the government. It would be a good thing if they would allow women to assist in the national house-cleaning, she said. It was woman's God-given duty to do it. They could not, however, get recognition until they got the right to vote. In Manitoba they had twice asked, and they were going to ask again, for the passage of a bill making t necessary to secure the signature of women as well as men in all communities on petitions for saloon licenses. A woman's child was her life, ner best work, and yet her best work was being destroyed and she could do nothing. The voices of half the people were hushed in the government of the country Should men be the sole judges? They could not look on the work with a mother's eye. Every interest except the mother's interest is protected by those interesed in it. Women were trapped and caged by laws in which they had no say. No man can represent motherhood in the political home. It is only when the will be protected by genuine home-workers. At present the political home health failed so rapidly that I was subis like the half energized human heart, ject to frequent fainting spells, my ap-deprived of its God-given sustenance. petite failed, and my friends all thought prevented the transmutation of half the forces of the community into their responsible political force. The speakmen to the political home, the speaker praise." referred to the results of "equality" in the several states and other countries where it exists. In conclusion, she briefly referred to the great questions that would confront the political home even if men and women had a common interest in it. She did not predict the millennium, but they would then be walking on a natural plane.

The parties who made the discovery are very reticent about the find. Some of the sand was tested by a Chatham druggist, who estimates that it would, pan out several hundred dollars to the ton. He refused to tell the exact location of the land where the find was made, but said that the vein was about six feet deep and extends across the whole farm.

Mr. Jules Gravel, farmer, of St. Tites des Cape, Que., says: "For upwards of five years I suffered from rheumatism of the joints. Mrs. John Sagar, wife of a prominent farmer living near Egan Creek, Ont., says: "I am glad to have an opportunity to make known to other sufferers the wonder-working powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was very sick for over six months, and was unable to do work of any kind for that time. I was extremely weak, subject to dizziness, pain in the side and faint and smothering spells. The doctor pronounced my trouble heart disease, and nothing seemed to relieve me until a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found benefit from them, and after the use of eleven boxes was as well and strong as ever I had been, and am now able to do my housework without any trouble.
