—Messrs. John Durand and Edward Bristow, two fish dealers, drove down from Lake Huron, a distance of about 50 miles, last night, with a load of 400 dezen herrings. They were offering them for sale on the market to-day.

—When Messrs. P. W. Stanhope and E. M. Burke, of the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company, Chicago, were in the city recently, they took a look over the grounds in the region of Pottersburg with a view of selecting a site for a possible factory, should the council offer them sufficient inducement to locate here. As this company propose employing between 300 and 600 hands in their Canadian branch, it would be a great thing for London to secure it.

Local Legal.

At Osgoode Hall yesterday, in the case of Headford vs. McClary Manufacturing Company, judgment on motion by plaintiff to set aside a non-suit entered by Rose, J., in an action tried before him and a jury at London, and to enter judgment for the plaintiff for the damages assessed by the jury. Action under the workmen's compensation for injuries act to recover damages for personal injuries received by the plaintiff, a workman in the defendant's factory, owing, it is alleged, to the defective state of the elevator. The Divisional Court dismissed the motion with costs on the ground of contributory negligence on the part of the plaintiff, he having gone near the hoist, where his businegligence on the part of the planting, having gone near the hoist, where his business did not take him, and having walked part of the pen danger. Gibbons, dheedlessly into the open danger. Gibbons, Q.C., for the plaintiff. Monro Grier for the defendants.

The Extinction of the Kiss.

(New York Sun.)

The kiss of affection and romantic love is celebrated in the song and story of all ages. Sacred literature justifies and honors the holy kiss of religious sympathy and fellowship. The meeting of the lips has always been with our race the universal and natural and spontaneous expression of the most sinder sentiment.

Now sanitary science pushes itself forward to degrade the kiss to the level of sewer gas and the many agencies by which noxious and infectious disease is propagated. It is demanding the abolition of the practice as a remnant of barbarous ignorance of the laws of health. It would subordinate romantic sentiment to cautious prudence and forbid the lover to embrace his sweetheart, even as a seal to their betrothal, until they are able to produce medical certificates that they are free from transmissible germs of disease.

For several years past prudent parents, under the instruction of their physicians, have guarded their young children jealously against the indiscriminate kissing which was once in vogue, lest those poisonous germs be transmitted to the babies. It is a reasonable precaution, for undoubtedly the danger exists, and as the germ theory of disease is more generally accepted, peril of such contact is appreciated the more intelligently. If then, there is serious risk for children in careless kissing, say the preachers of sanitary science, it is a risk which older people must avoid also. Even the cherry red and pouting lips of beauty may convey material poison along with the rapture of love they express so romantically. The most ardent manifestation of masculine devotion may be the means of planting the seeds of disease, which will bring forth a fruitful crop of maladies sent down through generations. So says science.

Accordingly, the secretary of the Ohio Board of Health has been urging the Pastors' Union of Sandusky to use their influence to put a stop to the practice of unscientific kissing, or kissing which

WHAT REALLY MAKES DISCONTENT.

WHAT REALLY MAKES DISCONTENT.

[Toronto Saturday Night.]

What makes the cry of treason and disloyalty most repugnant to every honest man is the fact that the noisiest of these publicans who pray on the housetops and thank God they are not as other men are, are fellows who are notorious political tricksters, men guilty of plotting against the peace and prosperity of the country, not by approaching foreign powers, but by debauching the Government of the country itself. That man is most unpatriotic who contributes to or makes possible that condition of public opinion when any reasonable number of men turn in despair from their own institutions and honestly cry out to be saved from these noisy mouthers of loyalty. Anyone who contributes to a sense of hopelessness not merely of a commercial but of a politico-moral sort, is the greatest enemy of the country he lives in. The men who engage in pretty intrigues to debauch constituencies with postoffices and public buildings and railway subsides, are quite as dangerous subjects to the State as those who take foreign gold and try to pull down the flag.

The Curiew Still Rings.

In some of the New England towns and villages it is still customary to ring a church or factory bell at 9 o'clock at night, and no further back than war times it was a general practice in cities of over 20,000 people. The custom perpetuates the curfew (couvre feu, cover fire) of William the Conqueror's time, when church bells were rung to notify the people that it was time to bank the fires and put out the lights.
