

Giants Win When Senators Fail To Come Through With Bases Full In Ninth

SLUGGING GIANTS POUND OUT 6-4 WIN OVER WASHINGTON IN THIRD GAME HOLDING LEAD FROM SECOND TO END

With Sacks Loaded In Ninth, Jonnard, Third New York Hurler, Replaced By Watson, But Senators' Chances Fade When Miller Fouls Out and Bluege Forced On Ruel's Grounder.

EIGHT PITCHERS USED IN GAME

Associated Press Despatch. Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 6.—The third game of the series with Washington here today, 6 to 4, and jumped into the lead in the series, two games to one. The game was replete with fielding and hitting features, Frisch, Rice and Young producing an abundance of fielding stunts which sparked with brilliancy.

"Rosy" Ryan, relief pitcher for McQuillan, who started for the Giants, was the batting hero with a driving homer to the upper stands in the fourth inning. Manager Harris used four pitchers to stop the Giants, Marberry starting, but he weakened, and Russell, Martina and Speece followed in quick succession.

Fought out a new battle before the greatest crowd that ever flocked to the Polo Grounds, fair of the four-time National league champions, the outcome was in doubt until the final play in the ninth inning, when the Senators were checked off after staging a typically spectacular finish.

Watson Steps Rally

Three runs behind going into the ninth after a luckless battle against heavy odds, the Senators scored one run and had the bases full with only one out when "Long John" Watson, the third Giant pitcher of the inning, stopped the rally and saved the game for the McGraw men. This was the climax to a game that, although sparkling at times with the most brilliant sort of play, was also largely of sandlot character, punctuated with loose work, missed opportunities and marked by a most ineffective exhibition of twirling. The series contest has witnessed in years, in a "parade of the wooden pitchers" four moundsmen were called into the hectic fray by each of the rival managers, while the rush of other reserves produced a total of twenty-nine combatants before the smoke of battle had cleared.

Frisch Stands Out

The Giants, leading from the start, but never out of danger, won because they were steadier, displayed the more effective punch when it was needed and the critical moments put up a formidable defensive barrier in which Frank Frisch, playing one of the most spectacular games of his career, was the outstanding figure. The Senators fought gamely, and they were always threatening, but the American league champions played against one another after losing the services of their veteran shortstop, Roger Peckinpaugh, bulwark of the team's great infield, the batting hero of yesterday's victory, Peck, pulling a "charley horse" running out an infield grounder in the second inning, was forced to retire against the Washington makeshift infield defense, after that, was wobbly.

But Peck's mishap which Manager Harris said tonight was not serious and probably would not keep him out tomorrow, was only one of several factors that produced the Senators' downfall and damaged their prospects of gaining their first world's championship.

TV COBB PICKS GIANTS TO WIN

Terms Roger Peckinpaugh's Injury Real Handicap To Senators.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 6.—The season's ninth thrilling was in evidence again today. A very peculiar thing about this world's series is that we have had a thrill in the ninth inning of every game. I also believe that this thrill would have been more highly developed had it not been for Miller's nervousness at the plate when Watson, the Giant pitcher, requested him to bat. Things were very tense with the tying run on second and the bases full.

Watson gave Miller one bad ball. The next, a high one inside, Miller went after, popped it up and the Giants' hopes soared. Ruling the ball out, Lindstrom, taking a very bouncer, stepping on third base, and the Giant had won their second game of the three. Right here I want to say that I think the Giants will win the series.

Peckinpaugh tore a ligament in his leg in yesterday's game. This takes the spark out of the Washington machine. It necessitates using Miller at third, and Bluege at short, which will play havoc with the Senators' spirit.

My information is that McGraw is not in condition to work. If this is the case, it leaves it up to Johnson and Zachary and both of these men need a rest, as they have reached the age where it takes them four and five days to come back.

I will long remember the wonderful work of Frisch, the Giants' star second baseman. He made three plays on Goslin's high fly, racing back to center, and then to right, and kept them from scoring. His first play on Goslin, with Rice on first, was a double play. A two-base hit and a double play scored two runs for Washington. Frisch's play kept them from scoring. The official scorer gave Shirley a hit.

Liebold up. Foul. Strike one. Frisch threw out Liebold at first.

ONE RUN, 2 HITS, 0 ERRORS. GIANTS—Speece went in the box for the Senators.

Jackson up. Strike one. Foul. Strike two. Jackson scratched a hit toward third.
