

The Campbellton Graphic

VOL. XXVII—No. 11.

CAMPBELLTON, NEW BRUNSWICK, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1923

5 CENTS A COPY

PREMIER VENIOT AT WOODSTOCK

Hearty Congratulations On His Speech Made on That Occasion.

(Glasgow, Free Press.) Premier Veniot, who, in opening the Woodstock Exhibition last night, made special reference to the railway system which New Brunswick is making in the development of agriculture, and also in the development of the province, has been making for some years to minimize the efforts of our farmers and the efforts of our leaders in industrial enterprises. And within our province we have no other province have, the premier who can show the good or progress in any other or in anything but the ever-renewing a change. We have, for instance, a class of men who feel that other parts of the Dominion are organized to destroy us; to wipe us out of existence; the Maritime Provinces; and their only hope is a loss against the world. We have silly politicians, led by the leader of the Conservative party in this province, who, having miserably failed in everything which they have had connection within the public arena are setting up that our only salvation is in a political Union of the Maritime Provinces—with of course the capital at Halifax, N. S. And the pessimists of the trade classes and the pessimists of the political classes are working hard in hand.

Premier Veniot's broad presentation of the situation is cheering, enlightening and many. View these facts as he presented them:

"Farm products, 1921, in New Brunswick, $38,000,000; in Nova Scotia, $38,000,000.

"Nova Scotia export, $67,000,000. Nova Scotia import $38,000,000. New Brunswick export, $118,000,000; New Brunswick import $40,000,000.

"Nova Scotia balance of trade, $29,000,000; New Brunswick's balance of trade, $72,000,000.

"New Brunswick has invested in the lumber industry $65,000,000; has 254 mills, five pulp mills and two paper mills.

"The loss by provinces in agricultural products during depression were: Nova Scotia, $21,000,000; Prince Edward Island, $5,000,000; Quebec, $18,000,000; New Brunswick, $11,000,000.

"The population of New Brunswick increased from 1900 to 1920 15 per cent; in Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire only 7 1/2 per cent. In these States field crops in same period increased in value three times, manufactured articles in these States increased in value three times, while in New Brunswick they increased six times.

The only deterioration in New Brunswick is in the cattle and honor of the men who seek place in the public life; and if this province has suffered, it is wholly through the deterioration which is now, perhaps, more apparent to our own people than to the outside critics who have taken advantage of the situation to minimize us. We must confess that, politically, the Conservatives have recently made a great mess of things.

We congratulate Premier Veniot on what he is reasonably doing to restore the province to its proper place on the map.

Bad Example Easily Followed. English paper—"Will the man who borrowed the ladder from Ferrelly Hall kindly return it, or other steps will be taken."

The Bishop Spoke of Course. Chessmen, though inanimate, set us a good example—they always act on the square.

NEW CAR IS NAMED AFTER CAMPBELLTON

Canadian National Railways Give Name of This City to Latest Sleeper.

(Glasgow, Free Press.) Campbellton is the name which has been given to one of the 30 new sleeping cars being built in Canada for the Canadian National Railways and which will be placed in operation on the transcontinental route of the system within a few weeks. These new type cars are named after important stations along the line of the system and they are the latest word in sleeping car equipment being designed and constructed for the purpose of giving the maximum of comfort and service to the traveler who has to spend several days on board train.

Particular attention has been paid to the comfort of the ladies. The ladies' dressing room has been considerably enlarged and is fitted with three separate wash basins in front of which there are wing bouclé mirrors with moveable wings which can be adjusted to any desired angle. Above each mirror is an independently controlled electric light and at the side a painted towel case, the top of which is designed to hold toilet articles. The dressing room is furnished with comfortable boudoir chairs.

The latest safety devices have been installed in the cars. They are fitted with anti-sleeping appliances; passages have been enlarged and the corners rounded, and by using separate curtains for upper and lower berths, not only is the maximum amount of privacy guaranteed the traveler, but it is also made possible to prevent children sleeping in the upper berths from being thrown out. The installation of electrically controlled exhaust fans in addition to the automatic ventilators on top of the car, insure continuous purification of the air by day and night.

Runnymede Mrs. G. D. Myles has returned to her home in Tide Head after spending a few days here the guest of Mrs. R. Falle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mann, of Mount, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Betts and family and Mrs. Gertrude Lodge, of Campbellton, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lodge on Sunday.

Mr. N. S. Falle spent the week-end at Mr. James Gillis' place, Sunday in Glen Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Must The Campbellton Athletic Club Den Up For The Winter Months?

Or Will The Citizens of Campbellton Come To The Rescue Of One Of The Biggest Movements Ever Started On Behalf Of Our Young People

Considering the fact that it is a shame to see a movement in Campbellton which is so important to the community as the Amateur Athletic Club and its supporters have made very gratifying progress so far in spite of the obstacles which have been placed in their way. The club has been organized for the purpose of giving the maximum of comfort and service to the traveler who has to spend several days on board train.

Particular attention has been paid to the comfort of the ladies. The ladies' dressing room has been considerably enlarged and is fitted with three separate wash basins in front of which there are wing bouclé mirrors with moveable wings which can be adjusted to any desired angle. Above each mirror is an independently controlled electric light and at the side a painted towel case, the top of which is designed to hold toilet articles. The dressing room is furnished with comfortable boudoir chairs.

The latest safety devices have been installed in the cars. They are fitted with anti-sleeping appliances; passages have been enlarged and the corners rounded, and by using separate curtains for upper and lower berths, not only is the maximum amount of privacy guaranteed the traveler, but it is also made possible to prevent children sleeping in the upper berths from being thrown out. The installation of electrically controlled exhaust fans in addition to the automatic ventilators on top of the car, insure continuous purification of the air by day and night.

Runnymede Mrs. G. D. Myles has returned to her home in Tide Head after spending a few days here the guest of Mrs. R. Falle.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mann, of Mount, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mason Betts and family and Mrs. Gertrude Lodge, of Campbellton, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lodge on Sunday.

Mr. N. S. Falle spent the week-end at Mr. James Gillis' place, Sunday in Glen Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Farrar were the guests of friends in Matapedia West on Sunday.

SLASH BURNING HAS BEEN STOPPED

Must Not Set Any Brush Fires Now—No Further Extensions.

Fredericton, Sept. 17.—Co-incidence with the opening of the hunting season on Saturday occurred the explosion of the open season for fall slash burning in the province. No further permits are being issued for the burning of slash and no more will be issued unless heavy rains permit of conditions which would permit of safe burning as the present dry state of the woods is regarded as critical.

Reports which have been received by the Fire Department of the Department of Lands and Mines advise against any further extension being made at the present time of the burning period, while the reports of dry conditions everywhere indicate the necessity for the utmost care of camp fires used by early hunters entering timber areas.

M. A. A. Instructor Still Interested In Local Club

That Mr. W. E. Roughton, athletic instructor of the Montreal Amateur Athletic Association is still following with interest the efforts being made on behalf of organized sport here is evident from a letter received by Mr. O. J. Klein recently. In part the letter says:

"I received your letter containing the newspaper clipping for which I am very much obliged to you. I was very glad to read the clipping which shows that you are still alive and trying to make good progress in your athletic endeavors and I trust that the committee of the C'ton Clubs will work together in harmony. If so you are bound to reap the benefit of your hard work later on. I have been asked to start the championship at Sherbrooke and hope some day that I may receive an invitation to start similar events in Campbellton, N. B.

It will be remembered that Mr. Roughton addressed a meeting of the promoters of the sport movement here last summer, when he said that Campbellton was abundant in athletic material and his willingness to assist the local club in any way possible. He also said that he was looking forward to having a big skating meet here this winter and there is no doubt but what Mr. Roughton would be very glad to be on hand and take charge of the events.

CLAIMS BUYERS NEED NO "PER"

Unique Point Raised During Argument of Case in Appeal Court.

Fredericton, Sept. 12.—Whether or not the holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act is entitled to sell liquor without a prescription is the point which is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

Magistrate F. P. Matheson, in the Campbellton Police Court.

It should not be possible for a person to be convicted of selling liquor without a prescription if he is a holder of a retail license under the regulations of the Prohibition Act. The point is being raised in an important case commenced yesterday afternoon before the Court of Appeal. The appeal is that which is being brought by the Crown in the case of the King vs. J. L. Boudreau, of Campbellton, from an order made by Mr. Justice Crockett quashing a conviction entered against Boudreau for selling liquor without a prescription.

WHEN LORD STANLEY WAS GOV. GENERAL DOES GOV. CONTROL STOP BOOTLEGGING

Incident That Happened At Campbellton in the Olden Days.

The recent visit of Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, to the Maritime Provinces recalls to my memory an incident that happened some years ago when Lord Stanley was the Chief Executive, and was on a tour of New Brunswick. There had been a slight accident to one of the cars of the special train, which was being repaired at Campbellton during His Excellency's stop there, and, not finding anything particularly to occupy his time, Lord Stanley took a walk around the town, in the course of which he was rather surprised to see a short, stout gentleman come out of the newspaper office, (the Redoubt House, I think it was), and say:

"How do you do, your Excellency? I am glad to see you; walk right in the office and make yourself at home and read the papers. I have all the latest exchanges. My name is Bruce MacDougall, and I am very glad to meet you. Have a cigar, Your Lordship."

Lord Stanley thanked him and accepted the invitation, and shortly afterwards a messenger came and informed His Excellency that the car had been fixed, and he started for the railroad station. Before leaving, however, he said to Mr. MacDougall:

"I thank you very much for your courtesy to me—you have been very kind indeed."

"Don't mention it, Your Excellency," said Bruce, as he took the Governor-General's arm and accompanied him to the station. By this time it had got noised all around the town that Lord Stanley was present, and there was a large concourse of people gathered to see him. His Lordship stood on the platform of the rear end of the railroad car, and said:

"Mr. MacDougall, in acknowledging your great kindness, I beg to extend you an invitation to Rideau Hall if you should ever come to Ottawa, and I will be more than pleased to return the favor you have so kindly shown me here today."

"That's all right, Your Lordship," was only too glad to show you that attributes in this province. Hospitality is one of our strongest points."

I was giving a week's performance in Campbellton at the time this incident transpired, and that night our play was "British Born," and I got Bruce to take the tickets for me at the door of the hall. When in the third act of the play I, as the British consul, was pleading for the life of the Briton who had been unjustly committed to death by the Governor of Bolivia, and had been unable to get a postponement of the sentence until I could prove the innocence of the prisoner, I said to the Bolivian:

"I know what I will do, if everything else fails; I will get Lord Stanley's friend, Bruce MacDougall, to call on you and crush you!"

This was received with a perfect yell of approval from the entire audience, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

WHEN LORD STANLEY WAS GOV. GENERAL DOES GOV. CONTROL STOP BOOTLEGGING

Incident That Happened At Campbellton in the Olden Days.

The recent visit of Lord Byng of Vimy, Governor-General of Canada, to the Maritime Provinces recalls to my memory an incident that happened some years ago when Lord Stanley was the Chief Executive, and was on a tour of New Brunswick. There had been a slight accident to one of the cars of the special train, which was being repaired at Campbellton during His Excellency's stop there, and, not finding anything particularly to occupy his time, Lord Stanley took a walk around the town, in the course of which he was rather surprised to see a short, stout gentleman come out of the newspaper office, (the Redoubt House, I think it was), and say:

"How do you do, your Excellency? I am glad to see you; walk right in the office and make yourself at home and read the papers. I have all the latest exchanges. My name is Bruce MacDougall, and I am very glad to meet you. Have a cigar, Your Lordship."

Lord Stanley thanked him and accepted the invitation, and shortly afterwards a messenger came and informed His Excellency that the car had been fixed, and he started for the railroad station. Before leaving, however, he said to Mr. MacDougall:

"I thank you very much for your courtesy to me—you have been very kind indeed."

"Don't mention it, Your Excellency," said Bruce, as he took the Governor-General's arm and accompanied him to the station. By this time it had got noised all around the town that Lord Stanley was present, and there was a large concourse of people gathered to see him. His Lordship stood on the platform of the rear end of the railroad car, and said:

"Mr. MacDougall, in acknowledging your great kindness, I beg to extend you an invitation to Rideau Hall if you should ever come to Ottawa, and I will be more than pleased to return the favor you have so kindly shown me here today."

"That's all right, Your Lordship," was only too glad to show you that attributes in this province. Hospitality is one of our strongest points."

I was giving a week's performance in Campbellton at the time this incident transpired, and that night our play was "British Born," and I got Bruce to take the tickets for me at the door of the hall. When in the third act of the play I, as the British consul, was pleading for the life of the Briton who had been unjustly committed to death by the Governor of Bolivia, and had been unable to get a postponement of the sentence until I could prove the innocence of the prisoner, I said to the Bolivian:

"I know what I will do, if everything else fails; I will get Lord Stanley's friend, Bruce MacDougall, to call on you and crush you!"

This was received with a perfect yell of approval from the entire audience, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

Force of Habit. First Girl (as famous actor passes)—"He nearly got drowned last night." Second Girl—"How did it happen?" First Girl—"Well off the pier while trying to keep in the glare of a bottle-shine searchlight."

Subscribe for Graphic, $2.00 per year.

denance, and after the play was over Bruce said to me:

"Price, I knew you had something up your sleeve when you asked me to take tickets at the door!"

H. PRICE WEBBER. Augusta, Me., Sept. 8.

JAR
ing and Canning

stock of preserow on hand.
ow and be ready
ed them.

pints per doz. 1.75
quarts " 2.00
ne right kind for can-

Company, Ltd.

AND GRAVEL

upply of sand and gravel or