A Climpse Into the Home Life of the Green Bonaparte.

Brussels Letter to the Chicago Times.

Any revelations bearing on the coronation of Napoleon I. by Pius VII. will be interest-ing to the general reader. A writer in the Musee des Familles has just given the public a series of interesting details which he has compiled from the best original sources, and which are, by the by, of quite a valuable kind. People who have followed in spirit the fortunes of the "Little Corporal" need hardly betold thaton the eventful 2d of December, 1802, Napoleon is generally represented as feeling be told that on the eventful 2d of December, 1802, Napoleon is generally represented as feeling rather agreeably surprised that the crown was such a good fit for his head; and he is, moreover, reported as having said: "This crown is all right, but wee to the man who will dare to touch it!" That these words, or words to that effect, were used by the Emperor on the occasion referred to is little doubted, but the writer in the Musee des Familles disposes altogether of the fallacy of Napoleon's agreeable surprise. One morning in the month of November, 1802, according to this authority, M. Nitot, the Emperor's silversmith, was seen entering the Tuileries palace, carrying a round package on his right arm. Addressing one of the imperial lackeys, he asked if he could not see His Majesty.

The silversmith was soon afterward ushered into the imperial bedroom, where Napoleon and his wife Josephine were still enjoying their repose, the former wearing a kerchief around his head and the latter a nightcap, "Oh!" tis you. Papa Nitot!" exclaimed Napoleon. "Good day, Papa Nitot; any news!"

"Sire, I come to try it."
"Try what, Papa Nitot?"
"The crown for your coronation, sire."
Whereupon Napoleon flung the kerchief to the other end of the chamber, raised himself on his arms and was crowned there and then most respectfully by the silversmith.
"It goes well," said His Majesty; "doesn't it, Josephine?" it, Josephine?"
"Yes, my friend, very well," was Joseph

"Yes, my friend, very well," was Josephine's reply.

"But you must see if it fits you, also," he exclaimed to his wife, taking off the crown from his own head and placing it tenderly on hers, after having relieved his imperial spouse of the rather democratic cap she had been wearing. The crown proved to be as good a fit for the Empress as for the Emperor, and both were delighted with Papa Nitot's dexterity in its manufacture.

The writer in the Musee des Familles happened on several unpublished manuscripts of the silversmith, in which he discovered the foregoing anecdote. It may be added that Nitot confirms the statement that Napoleon took the crown at Notre Dame out of the Pope's hands and placed it most ungraciously on his own head.

Frightful Waste.

Consumption carries off its thousands of victims every year. Yes, thousands of human lives are being wasted that might be saved, for the fact is now established that consumption, in its early stages, is curable. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will, if used in time, effect a permanent cure. It has no equal as a remedy for bronchitis, coughs and colds. Its efficacy has been proved in thousands of cases. All druggists.

—You need not cough all night and disturb your friends; there is no occasion for you running the risk of contracting inflammation of the lungs or consumption, while you can get Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. This medicine cures coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs and all throat and lung troubles. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, which immediately relieves the throat and lungs from viscid phlegm.

There are cases of consumption so far ad-anced that Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup —There are cases of consumption so lar ac-ranced that Biokle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup will not cure, but none so bad that it will not give relief. For coughs, colds and all affec-tions of the throat, lungs and chest it is a specific which has never been known to fail. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, thereby removing the phlegm, and gives the diseased parts a chance to heal.

It needs such a celebration to remind us that they still have a monarchy in Holland. It is an moffensive institution, which is not without its uses, if only because it gives so little offense. The stolid burghers who led the van of European freedom three centuries since still march in the van of progress. Last century John Howard found their prisons far in advance of our own, and this century it is possible the social reformers of the world may find in the Dutch beggar colonies a key to unlock the riddle of the Sphinx.

worthy of Confidence.

The preparation sold by druggists known as Haygard's Yellow Oil is worthy of all confidence as a household remedy for pain. It has been over a quarter of a century in the market, and never fails to cure or relieve rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, quinsy, deafness, burns, scalds, bruises, frost bites and internal or external pains and injuries. 246

Mr. Alexander Robinson, of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of the time I had it very bad, and I was at considerable expense trying to get relief; but this excellent medicine was the first and only relief I specied."

Tramp (whose request for food has been denied): "Well, ma'am, would you let me sleep in the ten-acre lot back of the barn if I won't make any noise?"

Woman: "Ye-es, I don't mind lettin' ye do that."

Tramp (appealingly): "Well, one thing more, ma'am, before I say good-night. Would you have me called at 7 sharp? I want to eatch the limited cattle train west."

"Young man," said an apostle, solemnly, "do you realize when you retire at night that you may be called hence ere the morning dawns?" "Yes, sir," responded the young man, 'I realize it fully; I am the father of a weeks old baby."

—Jacob H. Bloomer of Virgil, N.Y., writes:
Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil cured a badly swelled neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty four hours was entirely cured."

Pres. Can. Landed Credit Co Ex-Lieut.-Gov. of Manitoba, Vice-Presidents. Pres. Can Landed Credit Co Being at all times anxious to meet the wants of the Insuring Public, in any way that experience and caution recommend as desirable, the Directors are much gratified to find that the Company's Commercial plan, as improved during the latter part of the year has been largely appreciated and adopted by insurers. The regular cost, after admission, for a Commercial Policy, is only 35 a year per $1000 for expenses, and are ges 31 to 36, $205 a quarter, payable on fixed quarter days named in the policy, making the total cost $11.20 for a policy of $4000, or $112 for a policy of $10,000. The usual level premium for a $10,000 Policy at age 20 is $227, and at age 35 $263.50. More than double that of the Commercial Plan. During the years of life in which life insurance is specially needed, the cost on this plan will be only about one-half that of the ordinary plans, or for the same payment double the amount of insurance can be obtained on the Commercial Plan.

No extra charge is made by this Company on the premiums on its Tontine or Semi-Tontine Policies, but the Premiums are the same as on its like ordinary policies. The investment feature of Tontine insurance has induced thousands of young men to take out policies who have no seed of insurance of any other form. It offers an investment that is far better than a savings bank fund, inasmuch as once begun there is not half the likelihood of a failure to keep up the contract as there would be if the money was accessible at any time. More than this, it inculcates a habit of saving that will be of inestimable benefit to every young man in his early training. Full information furnished on application to
