

Vapo-Cresolene
Established 1879
Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis
Cough, Grip, Asthma, Diphtheria
Cresolene is a boon to Asthmatics

Does it not seem more effective to breathe in a remedy to cure disease of the breathing organs than to take the remedy into the stomach?

It cures because the air rendered strongly antiseptic is carried over the diseased surface with every breath, giving prolonged and constant treatment. It is invaluable to mothers with small children.

Those of a consumptive tendency find immediate relief from coughs or inflamed conditions of the throat.

The world, it is said, is always looking for men who are not for sale, men who are honest, sound from centre to circumference, true to the heart's core; men whose consciences are as steady as the needle to the pole; men who will stand for the right if the heavens totter and the earth reels; men who can look the whole world right in the eye; men that neither flag nor flinch:

For Lung Troubles

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral certainly cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption. And it certainly strengthens weak throats and weak lungs. There can be no mistake about this. You know it is true. And your own doctor will say so.

men who can have courage without shooting to it; men in whom everlasting life runs still, deep and strong; men who know their message and tell it; men who will not lie, shirk or dodge; men who are not too lazy to work, nor too proud to be poor; men who are willing to eat what they have paid for; men who are not afraid to say "no" with emphasis, and are not ashamed to say "I can't afford it."

Feeding Cattle.
A glance at the cattle market reports will show that while the quality of stuff generally appearing on the markets is poor, good prices are being paid wherever the good animal appears. It is reported good prices are going to be paid for really good animals very soon. Persons who are feeding such animals need feel alarmed for the February trade. It is the common stuff that is keeping the prices down. Last week as high as five and a quarter cents was paid in the country—World.

Shun Mining Stocks.
An exchange gives this good advice:—"To the small investor who is tempted to buy Cobalt stock the only advice is—don't. If the mine is no good you lose your money. If the mine is good the big men will squeeze you out and you lose your money just the same. Get around in the morning and attend to your own business and leave mining stocks alone."

Old-Line Spelling.
By all means let us cling to the old spelling. If the present style of spelling was good enough for our parents, why not good enough enough for us? Take "gnat" for instance. Instead of dropping the g, why not, if it is a good thing, use it more freely? Why not raise your khat to a goat if she is ghat? And k—what harm is a little more of sensible custom? If you have the knowledge, why make a knoise? Nobody is knaughty. A knife is knever knice unless knecessary. And why should not a knave knail knapkins to knarcotics? And are knapkins better than gnapkins? Kno; decide lly knot!

Farmers and the Power Question.
The Toronto Weekly Sun presents these commendatory remarks:—"The Sun has from the first held the position that Ontario farmers have a direct interest in the problem—that, with rates under proper control, a very large number of farmers will in a short time find it profitable to use electrical energy for the purpose of running grain crushers, root pulpers, cutting boxes, and for the pumping of water and other like services. We are glad to see that this view is sustained by so eminent an authority as Major-General Greene, president of the Ontario Power Company, one of the corporations engaged in the work of harnessing Niagara Falls. In an address delivered in this city last week, Gen. Greene expressed the belief that the day is not far distant when practically every farmhouse within 200 hundred miles of Niagara will be using electrical energy for that source, not only in the running of farm machinery but for lighting of the house and running the sewing and washing machine as well. Gen. Greene believes it possible indeed, that the same power may be used for the heating of houses.

Farmers are also indirectly interested in the power problem as applied to manufacturing. Electric power can and will be produced at a cost of not over half that involved in the use of steam and a cut of fifty per cent. in the cost of power means, Gen. Greene says, a reduction of five to fifteen per cent. in the cost of the finished product in the bulk of manufactured goods, and, in some special lines, the cost will be reduced as much as forty per cent. Cheap electrical power will thus give Ontario an immense advantage in manufacturing—an advantage the benefit of which should be felt by the whole country.

Farmers have cause for satisfaction therefore, in the recent overwhelming vote in favor of cheap power in Toronto and other cities and towns in Central and Western Ontario. The vote will make it easier for the Hon. Mr. Beck to carry into effect the policy on which he has set his heart, and a policy which is so rich in promise for the people of all Ontario.

THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE.

Farmers Institute Meetings at Inwood.

The two day meeting of Farmer's Association arranged to be held in Inwood on the 10th and 21st inst. was, excepting one unavoidable incident a success in every sense of the word. Owing to the fact that Mr. Gardhouse, the expert judge, who was to conduct a judging examination of live stock, was unable to reach here on Saturday, this part of the program was dispensed with. It was unfortunate indeed that Mr. Gardhouse was unable to be here as the keen interest taken in this part of the proceedings was evidenced by the number of people present notwithstanding the unfavorable condition of the roads and weather.

The forenoon session on Monday was opened by Mr. Elliott, of Galt, Ont., who gave a very fine and practical talk on the cultivation of the farm. Some of the strongest points advocated by Mr. Elliott were: 1st the use of clover as fertilizer. He argued, and in a very conclusive manner for the use of a very successful farmer himself, that clover used for this purpose is equal to the strongest barnyard manure, 2nd the seeding of clover with all crops. 3rd three years rotation cropping. Mr. Elliott explained this in a very practical manner. He has his farm divided into three sections, viz. The hoe crop, the grain and the clover crops and he rotates these three crops yearly. From Mr. Elliott's talk one comes to the conclusion that he is a practical, systematic farmer. The subject was further discussed by Messrs. W. A. Graham, Colin Campbell, John Thomas and others.

The next speaker was Mr. Johnston, of Forest, who is the owner of a large fruit farm on the lake shore near Forest. His talk on the proper methods of growing fruit and the caring for fruit and fruit trees, was one of the most interesting heard on this topic in Inwood. Mr. Johnston talks from the standpoint of a successful fruit grower, he does not tell of a man whom he knows, who does such and such a thing, but speaks from actual experience, and when we consider that he is one of the most successful in Lambton his evidence has good weight and he is the kind of man we want to hear at our convention. Fifteen years ago Mr. Johnston grew from 300 to 400 barrels of apples which marketed over an average at $1.00 per barrel, and last season he sold 2,000 barrels some of which sold as high as $3.40 per barrel, this result was accomplished by spraying and proper cultivation. In the afternoon Mr. Elliott discussed the breeding of dairy cows, so as to obtain the best results. By means of charts he exemplified his points. He explained by means of charts also the vast difference between the product of a good cow and that of a poor one, while at the same time he showed that it cost just as much to keep the poor cow as it does to keep the good one. He advocated the practice of weighing each cow's milk in order to weed out the poor cows.

The evening session which consisted of talks of a practical nature by Mr. Gardhouse, Mr. Elliott, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Graham and Rev. Wallace proved to be very entertaining and instructive. During the program Mrs. Riley, Miss Matthews and Mr. Dawson entertained the audience by several vocal and instrumental numbers.
