THE NOR'-WESTER.

WARNER & SON, Proprietors.

CALGARY, TUESDAY, DEC. 23, 1884.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

Time which is said to overthrow the illusions of opinion and establish the decisions of nature has made another revolution with its wheel, and once more we are on the threshold of the festive season; "when the Christmas chimes of the good cld times" will gladden the hearts of the old as well as of the young, and "happy voices' will awaken the echoes of the days | too, had no reporter present, or if back towards which we may all look with feelings of the fondest recollections. Not only do we wish our readers a MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS, but we hope they will live long enough to see the infant town develope into the full stature of metropolitan manhood.

But the idea that any Government will undertake such an experimental and gigantic a piece of legislation without trying less laborious and risky measures first is one in which we do not share." The Gazette has also been nursing this project, but it will now have to take it all back and trot after the gymnastic organ which by the way is capable of giving a few lessons in the acrobatic art, as the Gazette is proficient in learn ing them. The writer continues "the other suggestion which has been made, that the provincial districts shall be made separate Provinces right off is injudicious, because we have no revenue and are not likely to have one for a good many years." An "injudicious suggestion" is a mild phrase even to idiocy, but is the scribbler aware that when the number of elective members in the North-West Council becomes

MUTUAL YUM YUMMING

The Gazette quotes the Herald and that perfunctory journal quotes mutual admiration which we would prefer to witness than those epithets the Gazette used to hurl at the Herald in anti-NOR'-WESTER days. But in all earnestness and in the name of real journalism, not the amateur articles, if the Gazette, desires to convey facts to its readers instead of fiction-it should know whereof it writes, Its last issue contains what professes to be a leading article on what it calls the mass meeting, (there were just seventy-one present) and it proceeds to extract comfort from the fact that there was nothing in the speeches made which can be construed as incendiary. No doubt it would have suited the Gazette better if there had been a display of demogoguism and flap doodle, and its disappointment at least finds ex pression. The Gazette had no reporterter present at the meeting, and its editorial is written on the strength of its own prejudices and the Herald's report, which, by the way, was a cooked up affair, as it, present he took no notes, and this amounts to the same thing. The organ speaking of the absence of delegates from McLeod, and of the mission of certain resolutions says: "All this chows that there was no desire to run things, and that no advantage was taken of the absence of delegates from this district to pass measures which they did not feel sure would be acceptable. UNCALLED I OR.

Among other things asked by the local agitators is the abolition of the nominated feature in the North-West Council, and the establishment of a purely elective body. The resolution to this purpose was ploved by Mr. Oswald and seconded by Mr. Leech. The preamble to this resolution cites, "That the "Constitution of the North-We t Council being partly elective, and "partly nominative is anomalous in the extreme and entirely un-"suited to the wants and require-"ments of the country." Therefore, Mr. Oswold asks, "that the Domin-"ion Government be respectfully "requested to pass such amend-"ments to the North-West Terri-"tories Act as will make the North-"West Council a purely elective "body with fuller and larger legis-"lative powers than these now entwenty-one, that body becomes the "joyed by the Council, until the Legislative Assembly of the North- "time shall arrive when the differ-West Territories, though the pro- | "ent provincial districts shall be visional districts remain as such? where no doubt he will be able to study up the question of territorial representation from an "American EMPLOYMENT the Gasotte. That is a game of point of view." The resolution which was placed in the hands of these gentlemen to move by the "resolution" committee is uncalled for and for the very good reason that there has been no especial complaint in this district against cf the nominated members. Mr. FitzCochrane himself knows this however much it may not suit him to admit it in the press, besides we pointed out in last week's issue, " that when the num-"ber of elected members in the North-West Council amounts to "twenty-one the appointed Council shall cease and be determined and the twenty-one members so elected shall constitute the Legislative Assembly of the North West territories, and all the powers vested in the Council shall thenceforth be vested in and excrcisable by the Legislative As-"sembly." What could be fairer i During the present year two new elective members were added to Calgary, Palmore, Silver City. the Council, so that just as soon as population demands it, the purely elective principle will provail. To force matters is not only wrong but it is manifestly unfair. Mr. Bleeker has undertaken to state in public that it will take ten years to have a purely elective Council. Mr. FitzCochrane has re iterated | Tarand Brown Paper, this. Both gentlemen are in error. The elective members in the North-West Council already number seven. Another year is likely to add three or four more, so that these gentlemen must have patience and wait, not ten years, but perhaps less than three years. It is, however, unfair for them to misrepresent and mislead. Both these gentlemen personally may be in a hurry, but they will have to wait a little until the country is able to catch up with them.

This is an instance of legal unselfishness that ought to make the shades of Judah P. Benjamin farrly shift. It is, however, due to our North-West legal acquamance to any, that le has already reaped a rich harvest in detending the poor devils who have been fined, taking his fees whenever the wealth was to be get and claiming glory when gory was the only circulating medium to te had-ad utrumque
