

ga nòh'sah, or ga nòh'sòt, house ;
 ga nòh'ses, long house ;
 ga nòh'ses gēh, at the long house ; (frequently spoken as if written 'ga nòh'sis gēh.')

Commonly used for Council House, because the council houses were generally built of twice the ordinary proportional length of common houses.

ga yah'des, long body. From 'ga yah'dah,' its body ;
 'nān dah ni ga'yah des,' its body is so long.

There is a strong tendency among the younger class of Indians to change the vowel sound of this suffix into 'i,' as if the word was written 'ni ga'yah dis,' instead of 'ni ga'yah des,' but this is a corruption of the language.

ga wis'dah, cup ;
 ga wis'di, full cup, or cup full.

gas heh'dah, bottle ;
 gas heh'di, full bottle, or bottle full ; used also to mean one quart.

ga nòh'sah, or ga nòh'sòt, house ;
 ga nòh'si, full house, &c.

oh do'gwas hāh, spoon, ladle ;
 oh do'gwah chi, full spoon, following the rule noticed above, under 'ga ya dōh shāh,' and 'wi yu.' (p. 110.)

So also,

gak'chi, a plate full, a dish full ; from an obsolete root meaning dish, plate, &c.

Adjectives are sometimes turned into nouns expressive of the abstract qualities which they denote, by prefixing to them the article 'ne' ; as,

ne wi'yu, the good, or, the goodness.
