

Entered Parliament in 1841
Was unanimously chosen to represent
The county of Portneuf
For which place he was reelected.
Twice a representative
Of his native city,
A member of two cabinets
In the important office of Solicitor-General,
Guiding the country through
Many crises
To the establishment
Of responsible government.
His many Honours
He owed to the people
To whose cause he devoted
Abilities, Learning, Eloquence
Incorruptible integrity
And genius of the highest order,
Receiving in return
The devoted and uninterrupted
Confidence of his countrymen.
He closed an unselfish career
As a Judge
Of the Court of Queen's Bench.

*
* *

NOTE RÉFÉRANT A LA PAGE 13.

C'est l'intensité du sentiment politique qui engagea Thos. Ayiwin, le Loyaliste—grand-père de celui qui fait l'objet de cette conférence, — à abandonner, lors de la Déclaration d'Indépendance, ses affaires, ses parents et ses amis à Boston pour venir au Canada afin de pouvoir vivre à l'ombre du drapeau. Il est bon d'observer qu'à