THERE are very few medical men who are not familiar with "Progressive Medicine," and there are none who ought not to take it. These quarterly volumes, year after year, constitute a reference library of great value. The present volume possesses all the attractive features of the previous ones, and is set up in the careful style of the well-known publishers.

The present volume deals with diseases of the Thorax and its viscera, including the Heart, Lungs, and Bloodvessels, by William Ewart, M.D., F.R.C.P., Senior Physician to St. George's Hospital, London; Dermatology and Syphilis, by William S. Gottheil, M.D., professor of Dermatology and Syphilology in the New York School of Clinical medicine; Diseases of the Nervous System, by William G. Spiller, assistant clinical Professor of Nervous Diseases and Assistant Professor of Neuropathology in the University of Pennsylvania; and Obstetrics, by Richard C. Norris, Lecturer on Clinical and Operative Obstetrics, University of Pennsylvania. These names may be taken as a guarantee of the Contents of the present volume.
