

Sedition law, extract from,	50
Sedition,	478
Senate of New Hampshire, extract from the reply of,	394
Senate of Massachusetts, their declaration respecting the war,	240
Senate of Maryland, their declaration respecting the war,	241
Senate and house of representatives of Massachusetts, their praise of Mr. Madison,	170
Senatorial representation, iniquitous arrangement of,	384, 385
Separation of the states, project for a, in 1796,	255, 256, 257
Separation of the states, steadily advocated in Boston,	56
Septembrization perpetrated by a small portion of the mob of Paris,	433
Smuggling carried to great excess in Boston,	292, 293
Sober character of the Americans no security against civil war,	43
Southern states, unfavourable anticipations respecting, belied by events,	411
Southern states, shameful libel against the,	235
Specie, accumulation of in Boston,	294
Specie, oppressive drafts for, on middle and southern states,	295
Speech of Henry Brougham, Esq. extract from a,	332
Stansbury, general, report of,	76
Statement of applications on the subject of impressment, to the British government,	215, 251
Thayer, Hiram, hard case of	204
Thompson Richard, impressed seaman, sufferings of,	201
Tonnage of the United States, view of,	274, 403
Transit duties, tariff of, payable by American vessels,	121
Transit duties, 121—F. J. Jackson's view of the payment of,	248
United States, glorious prospects of, 40—remarks upon,	41
United States, not sufficiently munificent towards great merit,	48
United States, view of the prosperity of,	14, 396
Van Ness, gen. report of, to a committee of congress,	75
Virginia representation, unequal, unjust, and oppressive,	389
War, constant cause of with England,	53
War, violently opposed by the minority,	228, 229, 230
War proceedings in congress, details of the,	234
War with England inevitable but by sacrifice of national character,	229
War, repeated clamour for,	230, 231
War, inquiry into the justice of,	236
War proceedings in congress—yeas and nays,	224
War, view of the,	455
War, opposition to the,	479
Washington, general, his great merits and services,	405
Washington, capture of, documents respecting,	75, 76, 77
Washington Benevolent Societies,	481
Washington, libels against,	467
Wealthy men lending their aid to overturn the government,	12
Wellington, lord, immensely rewarded,	49
Western Insurrection,	453
Whitby, captain, honourably acquitted for the murder of Captain Pearce,	200
Wilkinson and Hampton, violent enemies,	67
Winder's orders to destroy Fort Washington,	78
Wolcott, O. objections to Mr. Liston's project respecting deserters	193
Yeas and Nays on various questions regarding war,	224