

to which he would have been liable, had he not been suspended or expelled.

10th.—Any brother who shall be convicted of habitual drunkenness, profanity, immorality, or of any offence against the laws of the land, or of feigning himself sick with a view to abuse the benevolence of the Order, shall be expelled.

ARTICLE IX.

OF FRATERNAL COURTESY.

Section 1st.—It is particularly enjoined on all Members of this Lodge to treat each other with respect and consideration, especially during meetings; and that, keeping ever in view the prominent objects of our Order, (Friendship, Love, and Truth,) all ungenerous remarks, personal allusions, or sarcastic language, by which the feelings of any brother might be wounded, be carefully avoided, and our discussions conducted in that spirit of candour, courtesy, and moderation, which is characteristic of genuine Odd Fellows.
