SO MANY STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM

Collars and Veils Are Shown in Increasing Diversity. Just Now.

QUAKER IS CHARMING

Dainty Organdie With Hem-stitched Borders or Little Lace Edgings.

Collars and veils are almost bewildering in diversity and the importance of their place in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman increases daily. Collar varieties are especially noticeable, and it is quite an interesting sight to behold the various favorites so different in design worn by fashion leaders at the same functions.

The Quaker is charming in dainty organdies with hemstitched borders or little lace edgings, and the very latest models are successful in exhibiting colored borders in pale pink, blue, and pale shades of green and lavender. When a soft tie in crepe de chine of the same color is worn the effect is quite bewitching. The high tulle ruffle has many admirers, as have the various modish and chin-rolling organdie models with every known manner of pleating. Tulle is also playing the part of the veil this season—the once popular "fortain" effect being achieved, in many smart models.

Worry and Weakness Often Indicate Overwork, and a Run Down Nervous System.

Overwork and worry have an evil effect on the system and often give rise to nervousness and sleeplessness. Other signs include a weak back, headaches and indigestion. In time if matters are neglected, a complete breakdown of the nervous system follows. On every hand one can observe victims of this state of nervous exhaustion who are at a loss to know what to do with themselves, their nervous debilitated state having baffled all ordinary treatment.

If you are a victim of exhausted nerves, if your symptoms are as described above, you need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills because they are a powerful nerve tonic. Their strengthening action on weak nerves is due to the fact that they enrich and build up the blood through which the nerves are fed. Under the tonic influence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills all traces of nervous weakness disappear together with the headaches, the insomnia, the feeling of intense weakness and depression of spirits that mark the victim of nervous ailments. Here is the proof: Mr. Henry Marr, Port Felix, N.S., says: "It gives me the greatest pleasure to testify as to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I began their use I was a physical wreck; my nerves were all unstrung, I suffered from frequent headaches and back-aches, and was almost wholly unfitted for work. I had tried several remedies without success, when I finally decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial. I took six boxes and they made me a well man."

What these Pills did for Mr. Marr they will do for every other weak and nervous man, if given a fair trial. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MINISTERS FROWN UPON SUNDAY BALL

Alliance Will Wage Warfare Against Sabbath Baseball in Quebec.

OVATION FOR CAPTAIN

Called to Platform to Receive Bible—Small Salaries a Scandal.

Great enthusiasm was manifested at the Toronto Methodist conference yesterday when one of the ministerial members, who is going to the front as a chaplain, was called to the platform to receive a khaki testament. Rev. A. L. Hazard of the British and Foreign Bible Society stated that 10,000,000 Bibles were distributed during the past year, and that it was being printed in 470 different languages. The work of distributing the word of God among the soldiers had been carried on since the outbreak of war. 40,000 khaki-covered testaments having been distributed among the Canadian troops.

The speaker called upon Capt. Rev. A. Spencer of St. Vincent, Ont., to come to the front to receive one of the khaki-covered testaments. Capt. Spencer was clad in khaki.

Rev. David W. Snider, secretary Ontario Ladies Day Alliance, stated a strong stand was to be taken by the alliance against Sunday baseball. The fact that the Ottawa team of the Canadian League had been playing Sunday baseball across the Quebec border in Hull was not to mean that such would continue if the efforts of the alliance could prevent it. A test case was to be tried in the courts of Quebec.

He asked those present whether Wilson or Bryan was the foremost man in the attention of the world today and from which side of the church the answer came back "Wilson." He declared that the reason for this was that Wilson acted upon conditions while Bryan's action was based on theory.

A resolution was passed expressing appreciation of the past year's work and from the sides of the church the answer came back "Wilson." He declared that the reason for this was that Wilson acted upon conditions while Bryan's action was based on theory.

The report on deaconess work stated that while appeals were being made for missionaries it was to be remembered that the work of the deaconesses was of equal importance, and young women of the church could not consecrate their lives to a more noble cause.

Rev. Dr. S. T. Bartlett, secretary of the Young People's Societies and Sunday Schools, stated that the enrollment in the Sunday schools was the largest of any denomination in the Dominion.

Scandal in the Church.—The report of the ministerial salaries committee showed the aggregate of the salaries paid upon missions and circuits in the conference for the year was $248,247. An increase of $4483. Contributions, however, were far from satisfactory in the small charges.

J. W. Flavell, chairman of the committee, said it was a scandal on the church that in the Toronto Conference such small salaries were paid that ministers received $400 or less. The total deficiencies, under the conference scale for the year, aggregated $10,825.

An aged lady seated at the rear of the church started the conference by an emphatic declaration that she had done her share.

The appointment of special committees to canvass for weekly offerings of the churches was authorized in all congregations where pastors were not getting their salaries paid regularly each month.

Rev. Dr. Flax, retiring principal of the Ontario Ladies' College at Whitby, advocated the establishment of an A. A. reception service addressed by the candidates for ordination and Rev. Dr. Henderson and Rev. W. A. Stewart was held last night.

It is well to remember that the baby's earliest impressions should always be of the most gentle and simple nature. Undue excitement or an attempt to stimulate the mental mechanism of a baby can only result in harm.

Amuse Children on a Rainy Day. Keep all the old books of animals and when you have a little leisure outline them on heavy paper in pencil; then, with the sewing machine, stitch along the pencil marks with a large needle; long stitch, but with no thread in needle. Give these papers to the children, with coarse needles threaded with colored crewels or cotton, and let them outline the animals. They will enjoy it.

Provide some amusement for children on a long journey and secure their comfort and amusement. Paper dolls and paper soldiers, with scissors, paste and blank-books, will give entertainment. An envelope containing furniture advertisements, collected in odd moments, will keep the children busy, if they can use a cheap scrapbook as the house to be furnished. Pencils and crayons and blocks of writing paper will also provide amusement.

Monday's child is fair of face, Tuesday's child is full of grace, Wednesday's child is merry and glad, Thursday's child is sore and sad, Friday's child is loving and giving, Saturday's child must work for his living, But the child that is born on the Sabbath day Is blithe and bonny, and good and gay.

Yesterday, in answer to several special requests, we sprayed our rose bushes, and today, in answer to very many enquiries, we had better talk about some common pests.

Several young gardeners have complained of the wire worms that infest the roots of various plants. Perhaps the name wire worm is not strictly correct, but it will answer, being the common name by which that abominable short, inch-long, brown, double-tipped jointed and wriggly worm-tray is in the garden.

Here, no amount of spraying with the garden hose will do any good, since the worms are in the ground and curled in countless numbers around the roots. They eat up the roots, and where the bulbs are living they burrow into the heart of the bulbs and breed there. A few years ago I had a splendid new crop of hyacinths utterly ruined by them, and it took me all summer long to be sure I had got rid of them—and then they turned up next year again. I have finished them now, I am glad to say, I finished them with plain table salt, sprinkled in handfuls around the spots where the bulbs had been, after digging up the roots and burning them. There is no use trying to get rid of the worms by ordinary insecticides if you allow infested bulbs and roots to be a breeding spot for them. And that is why I simply dug up the whole bed and burned several pallets of costly bulbs.

Then I sprinkled salt, dry and sifted in among the earth. Later I raked fine wood ashes also in the stock spots, and all that summer no other plants were put in those beds.

The following spring I saw evidence early of beginning trouble, but in different beds pursued the same plan, burning up everything. That is really the only way to get rid of most insects that are so annoying. It is amazing how hard it is to kill most bugs. If people knew as much about bugs as I have been trying to learn during the last few years, they would agree with me that you may freeze bugs and fry them and boil them and otherwise cook them pretty thoroughly—and then they are not dead. Only after you have burned them up to fine ashes are you sure they are dead, and then you need not be too sure! This is no fairy tale. Just you doubters ask our best sanitarians what they think on the subject.
