

In conclusion I may state that the delay in publication was occasioned by the difficulty in procuring some of the portraits, which were only recently received, but I considered that, rather than to have a number of blanks as in the first book, it was better to delay a few months and have this publication complete.

THE AUTHOR.

Ottawa, October, 1879.

For

J