We wish it distinctly understood that the following "Press Notices" are not of the class that are made up for the occasion, but are selections from the many complimentary notices that have been given our musical companies in various parts of the country, and which are on file in our office, to verify this statement.

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL CO.

From the Denver (Col.) Republican.

The corner of Twentieth and Curtis Streets was the scene of unusual activity last night. Fully two thousand people were gathered there to hear the beautiful singing of the Wizard Oil quartette, which certainly is beautifully rendered. The selections were varied, consisting of glees and solos by the different members. For a free entertainment it is well worth a visit. Many people have paid to hear a concert far inferior. Don't miss it.

DON'T

From the Swanton (Vt.) Courier.

The Wizard Oil Co.'s concert company opened at Bullard's Hall last Saturday night, and are giving most excellent concerts. Their scheme is to advertise Wizard Oil, and they do it in a most magnificent manner. Not only is the company composed of gentlemen of great ability in the profession, but the free handed way in which they distribute gold and silver watches, silverware, diamonds, jewelry, etc., is astonishing, and must be effective, though an expensive way of advertising.

LOOK

From the Prescott (Ont.) Telegraph.

We confess to a most agreeable surprise in regard to the character of the musical visitors who have been in our town the past ten days for the Hamlins Wizard Oil Co. At first we regarded them as men of little merit who would make as little impression on us as birds of passage. But their first entertainment changed all unfavorable opinions. No wonder the whole town turned out for such concerts. All tastes have been satisfied, the serious, the comic, and the sentimental. We all discovered their unusual ability as musicians, while pleased with their polite, agreeable manners, and usefully enlightened as to the merit of the medicine they desire to make better known. We predict for them a pleasant reception wherever they go.

From the Red Bluff (Cal.) Sentinel.

The Wizards have gone. Our people have been delighted with a series of Concerts the past nine days. No set of professional people ever met with a more cordial reception or departed leaving such a large circle of admirers. A distinguished feature of their music seemed to be its power to please all. Of Wizard Oil it is only necessary to refer to its past record. The troupe who have been with us are gentlemen in every respect, have worked fairly and legitimately, and depart well pleased, and with the good wishes of all. Success to the Wizards.
