FRAUD SUGGESTED AT SCHOOL INQUIRY

THURSDAY MORNING MARCH 6 1919

Plumbing Firm Accused by Counsel at Education Board Probe.

TOO MUCH HARMONY

Judge Lennox Says He Has Conclusions Strongly Forced on Him.

was suggested against one of the plumbing firms by Shirley Denison, K. C., at the board of education building department inquiry before Mr. Justice Lennox yesterday. Out of 207 plumbing accounts rendered by the Fred Armstrong Co. between September, 1917, and March, 1918, all but one showed an increase as compared with the firm's ledger. "It's funny there never was a change down," said Shirley Dension, K. C. "Mr. Millan, would you consider that these numerous changes to greater amounts were legitimate or are they a fraud perpetrated on the school

Mr. Millan: "There is no fraud; every account was well checked."

Fred Armstrong was represented by his solicitor, Mr. Fasken. At Mr. Denison's request he sent for his client.

Mr. Denison asked Mr. Fasken why he stated in a letter to the board of education that the present investigation was only the outcome of a politieal squabble in the Ward Four Cour cal squabble in the Ward Four Con-gervative Association. He replied that Fred Armstrong said of the Ward Four association matter: "The first investigation under Judge Winchester was caused by Rhys D. Fairbairn and was caused by Rhys D. Fairbairn and this investigation is being conducted by his brother-in-law, yourself. If I have misjudged the cause I am sorry."

"Then it was a case of brothersin-law," said Mr. Denison. "I thought maybe the building department had some little to do with it."

Mr. Armstrong said the increases in the changes in the accounts were quite natural and easily justified. Laborers' natural and easily justified. Laborers
