

Good Things Coming to Theatres of St. John

ANNOUNCEMENT BY OPERA HOUSE THAT WILL INTEREST YOU

The new serial photo drama of mystery and adventure, The Voice on the Wire, got away to a good start at the Opera House yesterday and made a good impression. It promises to be a story worth seeing and waiting for every week. Better see it tonight and also enjoy the splendid vaudeville programme on this week's bill.

Tomorrow the programme changes as usual and the new offering promises plenty of novelty and entertainment. It includes the Clover Leaf Trio, three good singers and dancers in comedy and harmony singing; Sylvia Scott & Co. in a novelty comedy skit, "The Wager"; Mabel Parsons, comedienne with songs and a line of breezy chatter; Harry La Vall and Sister, sensational serial performers and, last but not least, an old St. John favorite, Geo. Hall, character comedian, who will be remembered by theatre goers for past visits in successful "The Ragged Hero," "A Bunch of Keys," "An American Girl" and others.

The programme also includes the second chapter of the Geo. Klein serial photo drama, "Gloria's Romance," with Miss Billie Burke in the leading role. Last week we left the charming heroine lost in the wilds of the Florida Everglades—the second chapter shows her in some thrilling adventures and her capture by Seminole Indians.

Two shows tomorrow afternoon, at 2 and 8.30—evening at 7.30 and 9.

AWAITS IRISH DECISION. Cabinet Has Completed Its Plan for the Make-up of the Convention.

London, June 8.—The government completed last week its proposal as to the composition of the Irish Convention. Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, told the House of Commons that the cabinet was now awaiting the decision of some of the parties interested, who were holding a meeting to consider it. Their decision is expected in the course of a few days.

THE KITTIES IN BANGOR, ME.

(Bangor Commercial) War is stripped of most of its glory in this materialistic modern age, but there is a little left, and Bangor, or that portion of it represented by several hundred people at the Union station at 1.30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, saw a little of its picturesque side when the kilted bagpipe band of the 29th Canadian Kitties passed through here en route for Boston. "Twas a breath of the heather for fair—a wee bit of Scotch one might say, and it stirred the listener. A treat to both eye and ear, for the boys in kilties are a mass of gay color and the other extreme from the prosaic khaki costume that most soldiers of the great war affect.

The Kitties were only here from 1.30 to 1.45, they were on their way to Boston to be recruited among the Scotch and Canadians in the New England metropolises.

Lieut.-Col. Guthrie, who was met by Col. F. H. Parkhurst and Sabine W. Wood of the public safety committee at the station, promised the Bangor men that he and his band will stop in Bangor for an all day stay either next Monday or Tuesday, and will march through the streets, give concerts in front of the public safety recruiting headquarters, and play for a recruiting meeting to be held in Bangor in the evening.

Colonel Guthrie, who is a fine looking, upstanding Canadian of military appearance, but nothing of a martinet, in fact most democratic and approachable, has had a thrilling time in the war. He received nine wounds and was temporarily blinded. While living in No. 2 he was nursed by a Red Cross lady who afterwards became the wife of Capt. P. F. Godenrath of the Kitties.

Now this lady is a very able speaker and has been touring Canada from coast to coast in the interests of the Red Cross.

She is to be in Bangor next Monday or Tuesday when the band is here and will speak at a big meeting for the Red Cross. She has been in the trenches, knows the needs of the soldiers and will stir all hearts with her appeal.

The band has about 40 members, and as mascots, the two young sons of Col. Guthrie, Ronald and Douglas Guthrie, both in kilties, captured the eyes of all the ladies, who exclaimed in delight at the cuteness of the little fellows. They were five and seven years old respectively.

William Wilson of Bangor and Claude Johnson of South Brewer are members of this regiment, which is now at Fredericton and will go overseas shortly.

GERMAN BODY WOULD DISMEMBER RUSSIA. Independent Peace Committee Meet With Blood and Iron as Keynote.

Copenhagen, via London, June 8.—A programme for the general dismemberment of Russia was put forward at a meeting, at Essen, of the newly formed Rheinische Westphalian branch of the Independent Committee for a German peace, the organization of the pan-Germans. Blood and Iron was the keynote of the meeting and the speakers advocated far-reaching plans of German territorial aggrandizement.

The principal speaker declared it was useless to attempt separate peace negotiations with the Russian provisional government, but suggested that advantage might be taken of present conditions in Russia to approach the Finns and Little Russians with peace proposals. He asserted that Finland and the Ukraine could easily be detached from Russia. The speaker further advocated the seizure by Germany of Lithuania and Courland and their colonization by 2,000,000 of the Slavic dominions, thus weakening Russia and establishing a complete bulwark of dependent states east of Germany and Austria-Hungary.

After the Slackers in United States. New York, June 7.—The police and the federal authorities will begin immediately the work of locating any persons of conscription age who may have violated the law by a failure to register. The police will begin a house-to-house canvass to ascertain if any persons subject to registration failed to obey the law yesterday, and if any slackers are found they will be promptly arrested and turned over to the federal authorities.

The procedure of all parts of the city is expected to be the same, and if there are any considerable number of "slack-gardens is that while some will not produce large crops this year, the land will be in much better shape another year and will be much more productive, and food during 1918 is likely to cost more than the present year.

In planting, gardeners should be careful to learn the name of the variety of vegetable they plant. Do not purchase potatoes as such and plant them without knowing anything more about them, but buy Green Mountain, Irish Collier or some other variety, or better plant two or three varieties and see which does best and next year plant that variety exclusively, and so with peas, beans, corn and other things. It is in this way that knowledge is gained which leads to success.

Some plots will do little this year, owing to the very bad condition of the soil, but very poor soil can be improved with labor so it will be productive. Learn what is needed from some experienced person.

Some locations are too shady to do much with, but something useful can possibly be grown. Some of the potatoes will produce in shady places.

Save every seed possible for next year. All vegetable seeds are likely to be high in price and the shortage may make it impossible to obtain seeds.

Put up more food this year than ever when packing for winter use.
