DO WOMEN OF BRITISH EMPIRE SURPASS OTHER COUNTRIES IN SPORTS?

currents have no terrors for these vigorous young rescuers, who are always at hand. It is not difficult to see such stalwart young women in the role of Amazons, but when old England produces in Mrs. R. T. Berens, archery champion, a Diana of nearly eighty, it looks as though the instinct of the sportswomen were more vital among women of English blood than among women of other nationalities. No one has ever approached Mrs. Berens' record, her mark of ninety-eight bullseyes out of 100 standing supreme in the history of archery, so far as is known.

MRS. R. T. BERENS, ENGLISH ARCHERY CHAMPION (LEFT), GIRL LIFE SAVERS REPLACE MEN IN MELBOURNE.

Melbourne, May 1—Women of the British Empire, both young and old, are enthusiastic sportswomen, as is evidenced by these pictures of a crew of girl life-savers from Australia, and the seventy-eight year old archery champion of England. This is the first girl life-saving corps ever officially employed. These girl swimmers have been substituted for men as life guards at St. Kilda Beach, near Melbourne. There are some two dozen of them helping to make St. Kilda Beach safe for surf bathers, and even the strong undertow and cross

MARITIME BRANCH OF A. A. U. OF C. TO MEET ON MAY 14

(Amherst News)

May 14th, with night train connections, then established between Halifax and St. John, the semi-annual meeting of the Maritime Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, will be called. Owing to the conflict of certain circumstances, the session scheduled for April 19th was postponed. But now the programme to be handled is even heavier. P. G. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic Committee, gave Mr. Corey a number of ideas that he will advance at the semi-annual meeting. Another question that will arouse interest, will be the request that men can have a try out with professional baseball or hockey teams, and as long as they receive no money other than expenses, be permitted to return to the amateur ranks.

KILBANE TO RETIRE FROM RING THIS YEAR, HE SAYS

New York, May 1—Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, world's featherweight boxing champion has announced he will retire from the ring this year. He successfully defends his title against Eugene Criqui of France, European featherweight champion here May 2, and will accept a titular match with Johnny Dundee of New York, and then turn in his last bout.

POLICE OF ULSTER SPOIL COCK FIGHT

London, April 19.—(By Mail)—Ulster police were regarded as spoilsports when, with drawn revolvers, they swooped down on a cock fighting meet in a lonely hillside spot in County Antrim.

Three hundred spectators were ringed around the arena, and the mains were so sporting that so much as $1,000 exchanged hands on a single bout. The spectators tried to run off on the advent of the police, but all were rounded up and searched. All the birds, together with fighting spurs and other equipment were seized.

An innocent-looking octogenarian, carrying a sack on his back, was ordered by the police to join the crowd for search. He protested vigorously that he was not identified with the fighting but a cock crowing from the sack at that moment badly upset his assertion. He was taken into custody with others.

BASEBALL REPLACES CRICKET IN ENGLAND

Liverpool, May 1—Baseball is becoming increasingly popular in this district, where a baseball league is already in existence. So enthusiastically is the game being taken up by schools in South Wales and Monmouthshire, that in many districts cricket has been ousted. Efforts are being made to inaugurate an international school boy baseball match.

HAD FOUR TO KEEP ON $1.35 A WEEK

London, April 19.—(By Mail)—Applying to the magistrates at Stamford for the execution of the poor rate a widow, with three children, said that her income was only $1.75 a week, and that was all she had to live on and keep her family. Out of the 7s 6d she had to pay 40 cents a week for rent. The magistrates granted her application and were astonished to hear that four persons were being maintained on $1.35 a week.
