FOR A UNITED IRELAND

(Canadian Press Despatch.)
London, Aug. 12.—A despatch to the Evening News from Dublin reports a significant split in the ranks of the followers of Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Irish Unionist Party.
It states that a strong deputation of Ulstermen has gone to London to see Mr. Lloyd George and inform him that a large proportion of their following is prepared to sink their old prejudices and advocate an immediate offer to Ireland of Dominion Home Rule.
Subject to Ireland remaining within the empire, the message adds: These men are willing to pledge themselves and their supporters to work for a united Ireland with one parliament.

PAPER INDUSTRY HER GREAT ASSET

Poland Can Supply Product for Which World Clamors
— She Needs Money and Commerce.

While the world is clamoring for news-print paper and is eyeing with some concern the ever dwindling supply, as compared with the ever-increasing demand, a voice of hope comes itself more than any other—war-stricken Poland.

There is no dramatic flourish in the brief resume of the Polish paper resources contained in the Polish Economic Bulletin. The drama in the situation is one of trade and commerce made possible when a sorely tried nation finds itself in possession of something all the world will buy.

Here are the facts as published in the Bulletin:
In the provinces of the Kingdom of Poland and in Galicia, and has very great possibilities of development. There are many very important paper factories in Upper Silesia, the early output of which amounts to almost 10,000,000 tons.

The Polish paper industry proper consists of great enterprises, with a working capital of 100,000,000 marks. In 1918 there were in Poland nineteen paper factories and 20,000 workpeople employed. The produce consists of almost all varieties of paper.

Galicia is in a much better situation than the Kingdom of Poland itself, as she has more woods and quick rivers. But behind these industrial facts is the circumstance that Poland's paper industry is generally speaking, dependent upon rags, wood pulp, and cellulose. In former days a large quantity of cotton rags were imported from Germany, and flax and hemp rags from Russia because the domestic supply was inadequate.

It is believed that these sources may again be drawn upon at an early date, though, of course, that development is a matter of peace and war and the political adjustment of Eastern Central Europe.

The outlook for wood pulp is much more favorable, for the average annual output of this article is 288,000 cwt. valued at approximately $100,000. At the same time a certain amount of wood pulp is imported into the Kingdom from Lithuania and other foreign countries, but at present, it is estimated, nearly half the amount so imported can be supplied by the Province of Galicia.

To an industrial situation, already fraught with great natural possibilities has been added, by action of the Peace Conference, the additional advantages conferred through the free port of Danzig. The influence of that port upon the cost of importing wood pulp from the northern countries as well as from the Baltic is expected to bring about a great reduction in the cost of production.

Wloclawek boasts the only cellulose factory in the Kingdom of Poland, but this one has a yearly output of approximately 225,000 cwt. There are two in Upper Silesia in the District of Opole. In Galicia there are three big factories located at Czerniaw, Sasso, and Zywiec. Nearly half the production of these factories was exported to Austria, East Prussia, and even to South America. In the Kingdom of Poland eleven factories are working at present, and their output amounts to 20 per cent. of the

HOUSE EXPRESSES HIS ASTONISHMENT

Old Time Resident Says He Was the Most Surprised
Man in Vancouver at the Way Tanlac Restored Him to Health.

"My first bottle of Tanlac did me so much good that I was the most surprised man in North Vancouver, and I only took two more bottles to put me in tip top shape," said C. R. House, of 847 14th street, North Vancouver, Mr. House is one of the old-timers here in Vancouver, and says he remembers quite well the time when the place was called Gas Town.

"Some time ago I caught a bad cold which settled in my bronchial tubes and would set me to coughing for ten or fifteen minutes at a time, and after this I would be completely exhausted. I could hardly cut a time, and what I did eat would sour on my stomach and so I lost my appetite. At times I became so nauseated I could scarcely retain a thing on my stomach, and I also suffered a great deal from constipation. Coughing spells would keep me awake most of the night so that I got very little sleep.

and in the morning I was simply tired and I was weak. I could hardly do my work down at the ferry, and when it came time to quit I was too worn-out to walk home.
"So many people told me about what Tanlac had done for them that I made up my mind to try it, and the first bottle helped me so that I lost no time in getting another. Well, since taking three bottles, I don't believe I could possibly feel better than I do now. Talk about eating, why I just want to be eating all the time, and my stomach doesn't trouble me a bit. I'm no longer bothered with constipation, and my breathing is free and easy. That awful cough left me soon after I finished the first bottle, and at night I sleep like a log. I've already gained ten pounds in weight, and I'm feeling so fine that I now walk home every evening from my work and it doesn't tire me at all. Well, sir, I'm mighty thankful to be in good health again, and I'm glad to let others know what Tanlac has done for me."
Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Parsons, Highland; John F. Meagher, Debec; O. D. Hanson, Lepreau; E. L. Conley, Leonardville; N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)

Alkali in Shampoos Bad for the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mild coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.
One or two teapoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rises out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mild coconut oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few quinces will supply every member of the family for months.

amount of paper manufactured before the war in this part of Poland. In order to help the other industries build up on the paper supply, the Polish Parliament was lately obliged to suspend for three months the tariffs on paper raw materials imported to Poland. The situation is improving gradually and the Polish paper industry has now a new lease of life. Of ninety-five wagons of printing paper, of which twenty-five might be exported. Very soon the output of this kind of paper may be increased to 110 wagons and after Silesia is united to Poland the printing paper will constitute a large article of the export trade. West Prussia and Silesia may develop their own industry if only the conditions of transport are improved by the new Polish Government, a measure already under contemplation.

THE RUSSIAN PEASANTS
Bangor Commercial.—After the fall of the Czar the peasants seized land and their chief desire today is to be left alone. They have formed soviet communities, but have no wish to aid the soviet government in providing food for the people of the cities. They are now yielding to force, but close observers think that the time may be at hand when they will rise against the government. Should they do so they would develop a mighty power, but the peasants lack initiative, and if not pressed beyond bearing are unlikely to rise.

Cross Purposes

SOME proprietors of Household Medicines have made the mistake of advertising their Preparations as something to take the place of the Doctor's services.
Some physicians, on the other hand, have maintained that All Household or Proprietary Medicines are worthless and should not be sold.
The facts, as usual, lie between these extreme views.

"Call the Doctor," should be the first thought when there is illness or injury. Get his opinion, and follow his directions. But sometimes there are cases of sudden sickness or a minor accident when the right remedy, instantly at hand, will save much suffering and render any further treatment unnecessary.

This justifies the existence of the Household Remedy as an accessory to the doctor, providing in an economical and always stable form the medicinal virtues of some good formula (often a doctor's prescription) for use in the many minor ailments and injuries of every day life for which the great majority of people cannot afford the doctor's visits each time or, as on the farm, are so situated that they cannot obtain his services quickly, even if their means permit. Such a remedy is PERRY DAVIS PAINKILLER.

For nearly seventy-five years, this reliable preparation has been used on the farm, in lumber and mining camps, on the sea, in the homes of town and city, not only in Canada and the United States, but also in practically every country in the world for a few simple ailments which are everywhere prevalent, and for which this remedy has been found to give prompt and effective treatment.

In cold climates and in the winter season of others, a teapoonful of PAINKILLER in a glass of warm water or milk helps wonderfully to ward off the evil effects of a chill, while a piece of flannel, dipped in a glass of hot water to which a teapoonful of PAINKILLER has been added, wrapped around the throat of a child at bedtime, is remarkably effective for croup or bronchial attacks.

During the hot Canadian summer and all the year round in tropical countries PAINKILLER is famous for the relief it will bring in acute attacks of stomach and bowel trouble caused by unwise eating.

PAINKILLER is also a very effective Liniment for bruises, sprains, insect bites and stings. In fact, this real Home Remedy is a good thing to have always on hand at home and when travelling. Price, 50c per bottle.

New family size, containing about two and one half times the quantity of the 50c size, price $1. Families accustomed to using PAINKILLER for various purposes, will find that by purchasing the new family size, they can obtain this standard preparation at a cost, nearly as low as before these present high-cost-and-high-tax times.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—(By Canadian Press)—President D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian National Railway, in discussing the increase of freight rates application, gave a number of concrete examples of a forty per cent. increase in freight rates as follows:

Forty cents on 100 pounds of scrap from Hamilton, Ont., to Brandon, Man., 1,286 miles.

Two and a half cents on twenty-five pounds of butter from Guelph to Toronto, forty-nine miles.
These are a few items, selected at random, to illustrate practically the effect the forty per cent. increase in freight rates should have on the prices of articles in every day use in Canada," said Mr. Hanna.
