THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN N. B., THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1918

HOW DIFFERENT FIGHTERS
FEEL BEFORE BATTLE

There are few boxers nowadays to enter the ring as John L. Sullivan used to enter it in the olden days. Sully never knew what nervousness was, and sometimes an hour before a battle he would lie down and take a good nap. He seemed to go into the ring as you would go to a picnic. The little drubbing in sight never worried him.

John L. slept in the old St. Charles hotel at New Orleans the afternoon of his battle with Jim Corbett, the fight which ended in his downfall. Even in that sleep he never dreamed of such a thing as defeat, which up to that time he had never encountered. Jim Jeffries, too, except just before his meeting with Jack Johnson, knew no such thing as nervousness. But the night before he met Johnson he was so nervous he could not sleep. In other fights before then he had good nature and ease. But before meeting Johnson some lurking instinct within seemed to worry and keep him awake.

Jeff Was Surly.
The night before the battle he was as gruff and surly as a bear and he would talk to no one round the camp. "Don't you feel all right, Jim?" a friend asked, and Jim only grunted. "Jim, I want to put down a good bet on you; shall I?"

Again he grunted, without giving his friend any satisfaction. Jeffries probably knew even then that Johnson had his measure. Johnson, on the other hand, was always good natured and in high spirits just before he entered the ring. He never trained for a fight without displaying these bright qualities. It's true that he got hot under the collar two or three times, but it was off quickly because of his natural jocularity. Right up to the time he was called to the ring that memorable July 4 Johnson's disposition was cheerful.

Ketchell Cheerful.
Few fighters ever entered the ring more cheerful than did Stanley Ketchell, perhaps the most wonderful fighter for his licks that ever lived. Stanley appeared always anxious for the fight to begin, and he was the picture of eagerness and willingness at the commencement of his every battle. He laughed and joked with his seconds and friends and was always full of life, fire and ginger. He often said that he never worried and seldom lost any sleep over a battle.

Even when training with such a hard bout as the Johnson one ahead of him, Ketchell retained confidence and good nature. He really believed that he would knock the black man out, in spite of the constant warning from friends that Johnson was too big for him.

Alameda, Fla. May 8.—Lieutenant S. T. Valentine of New York City, attached to the Army Aviation School near here, was killed instantly when the airplane in which he was flying fell approximately 2,000 feet.

DESCENDANT OF LAFAYETTE IS DECORATED IN FRANCE.
Paris, May 8.—Count Gilbert De Lafayette, son of the Marquis De Lafayette, and a descendant of General Lafayette, of revolutionary fame, has been decorated with the war cross. He has been serving as a sergeant in the French artillery.

PASSPORT BILL
HITS AMERICANS
NOW IN GERMANY

Washington, May 8.—The House has passed the Administration Passport Bill requiring all persons entering the United States to have a government permit and giving the president broad powers in restricting entrance to and exit from American ports.

During the debate on the bill Representative Flood of Virginia, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee, declared that hundreds of American citizens, now in Germany, are disloyal to the United States, and that this country knows they are disloyal. One of the purposes of the measure, he said, was to prevent their return and probable spying on the war activities of the country. The bill now goes to the Senate.

An attempt to amend the bill to exempt American citizens going to Canada and Canadian citizens coming into the United States from being required to have permits, was defeated, as was a proposal to limit its provisions to persons leaving the country.

Chairman Flood, of the Foreign Office Committee, told the House that President Wilson and the Department of State and Justice had endorsed the measure, and that two days ago the President telephoned to Chairman Pow, of the House Rules Committee, urging action.

Controversy in Senate.
Protracted controversy in the Senate over the Sedition Bill to severely penalize disloyal acts and utterances and interference with Liberty Loan sales and the army draft, ended late today in adoption of the conference report on the measure by a vote of forty-eight to twenty-eight. The House is expected to agree to the report next week.

Opponents of the measure who have contended that freedom of speech and the press would be curtailed, lost their fight to strike out a clause giving the postmaster general authority to withhold mail believed to violate the Espionage laws and to restore the France amendment excepting from the law truthful statements made with good motives.

The Emergency Bill, authorizing the department of agriculture to spend $19,730,253 to increase production of food, was ordered favorably reported today by the House Agricultural committee.

MOTOR CARS IN P. E. ISLAND.
Prince Edward Island is going to give motor cars more liberty. This summer all the roads will be open to motors at all times, except that on Tuesdays and Fridays, which are market days, the rural roads will be forbidden ground for the automobiles.

Rev. D. A. McRae, of Cloverdale, presented his resignation at the recent meeting of the Presbytery at Vancouver, owing to the death of his son in the navy.

SATISFIED MOTHERS

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she will use nothing else. The satisfaction she derives from their use is wonderful. They are easy to give the baby; their action is prompt and thorough and above all they are absolutely harmless. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Dechaune, Lacordaire, Sask., writes:—"I am well satisfied with Baby's Own Tablets. I had no trouble in giving them to my baby and they have promptly cured her of constipation." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

F. G. Spencer has bought from Kenneth Haley his property at northwest corner of Orange and Carmarthen streets.
