LAST MINUTE WORDS FROM MANY PLACES

Regina, Sask., April 25—Beaver are destroying so much fine timber around Oxbow that settlers are appealing to the government to exterminate them.

Melbourne, Australia, April 25—New labor legislation is to be brought forward by the commonwealth government. Wage boards will be created, together with a court and industrial arbitration established to settle appeals; strikes will be prohibited, and strikers who refuse to recognize the courts will be heavily fined.

Paris, April 25—Aviator Bouvier was perhaps fatally injured today at Kirwan, Tunis, while making an exhibition flight in the present of President Fallieres of France.

Ottawa, April 25—The railway commission on Monday will consider the protection of main track switches and adoption of an adequate block system. Accidents to railway employes through falling from tenders, and means of protection therefrom will also be taken up.

Elk Garden, April 25—Fifteen bodies had been taken out of the Otto Mine, No. 20, of the Davis Coal Company at 10 o'clock today.

Cork, Ireland, April 25—The hearing of the petition against the election of Capt. Anthony Donelan, Nationalist, who defeated Wm. O'Brien, was resumed today. John Donovan, a Californian, admitted having promised to distribute money among the poor of Youghal if Donelan were elected.

Tuck, a work horse owned by Everett Carleton of Rochdale, is said to be the only horse in that town sporting a gold tooth. Tuck won first prize at the Sturbridge fair last year, and his owner thinks so much of him that when a cavity was discovered in one of the horse's back teeth, he was driven to Worcester, where a gold filling was put in.

PROTESTANT HUSBAND AND CATHOLIC WIFE; ANNULLMENT SOUGHT

Montreal, April 25—(Canadian Press)—On the ground that when they were married thirty years ago, a Protestant and his wife a Roman Catholic, George Bowden, of this city is now seeking the annullment of his marriage before the superior court through his attorney, Joseph Archambault.

The recent annullment of the Hebert marriage on the ground that it was performed by a Protestant minister and was therefore not legal raised a storm of controversy on the question of the right of the Roman Catholic church to declare such marriages invalid, and this new case will be watched with interest.

Bowden is sixty-one years of age. In 1881 he was married to Elmire Poitras by a minister in the French Protestant Church of the Redemption. At the time of their marriage Bowden was a Protestant and Miss Poitras a Roman Catholic.

According to Bowden's statement, as contained in the court record they had lived together for some years. Bowden's wife was told that her marriage with the plaintiff was invalid. Under this impression she had left him fifteen years ago. Several other legal grounds are set forth for the annullment.

THE MODERN HEAD DRESS

Causes Baldness — We Cannot Change the Head Dress, But We Can Prevent Baldness

Up to the time we began to civilize him a bald headed Indian was a thing unknown. Wearing nothing on his head except the covering furnished by nature and being a stranger to the use of a hair brush, especially the public one, the scalp and hair had plenty of ventilation, much sunlight and, hence, a condition favorable to a luxuriant growth of hair existed at all times.

It was the adoption of air and light excluding head gears and artificial head decorations generally, together with the occasional use of a community hair brush, which gave the dandruff germ its opportunity. Since this parasite has multiplied to an alarming degree until now there is hardly a person who is not troubled more or less with dandruff and falling hair.

Many, to be sure, have passed the worrying stage. Having become chronically bald they realize that nothing is capable of producing natural hair for them. Let these be a warning to all who are experiencing the significant annoyance of dandruff and falling hair.

Dandruff which is sure to a germ, and falling hair can both be overcome by the regular use of Newbro's Herpicide.

This wonderful scalp remedy kills the vicious germ which causes dandruff, cleanses the scalp and stops the hair from coming out. The destruction of the germ permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly as nature intends.

Herpicide makes hair bright, snappy, light and fluffy.

One dollar size bottles guaranteed.

For sale at all drug stores.

ACTION AGAINST OFFICIALS IN THE DYNAMITING CASE

McMonigal Has Confessed to Part in Wreckage Work Which Cost Many Lives

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25—(Canadian Press)—Walter Drew, counsel for the National Erection Association, A. E. Ford, district attorney of Los Angeles county, California and Frank Fox, a chauffeur, were arrested last night on warrants charging kidnapping in connection with the arrest of John J. McNamara last Saturday. They were to be arraigned to day.

Constables who sought to arrest Detective Wm. J. Burns who arrested McNamara, said they believed he would appear in court if he is in the city. The three men arrested were released on $2,000 bail each.

The Marion County grand jury today will start examination of the records seized yesterday after a subpoena, served on President Frank Ryan, of the international Association of Bridge and Structural Workers to produce the books before the grand jury, had been ignored. An order by Judge Markey bars "private detectives and unofficial investigators" from examining the documents of the union, but permits the association officials to see the records in the presence of members of the grand jury or prosecutor.

Chicago, April 25—Ortie E. McManigal, arrested for complicity in dynamiting the Los Angeles Times with resulting deaths of twenty-one employes, has confessed his connection with that crime and many others throughout the country, according to Captain of Detectives Reed. His confession, which is said to cover nearly 100 typewritten pages, gives details of placing the explosives discovered after the arrest of John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in Indianapolis, according to the detectives.

McManigal's confession, it is stated, relates the gruesome story of how 112 lives have been sacrificed and property valued at more than $3,500,000 destroyed.

McManigal made his statement on the night of April 13. Seated in the room were William J. Burns, head of the detective agency responsible for the alleged dynamiters' capture; Detective Reed, several operatives from the Burns agency, and an official stenographer of the police department. In an adjoining room "Jim" McNamara was sleeping.

The little group of listeners in the bedroom sat awe-stricken, held spellbound by McManigal's tale. He spoke carelessly of the crimes, telling how the explosive was "planted," how he had visited union offices and had been paid for his death-dealing work, and of the explosions in which the three other members of the "wrecking" band, he said, had figured. When he finished he lifted his right hand and swore he had told the truth.

McManigal said that he had been selected as one of the men to do the "Times building job," but that they had given him "other work" in the central west and he could not get there in time. He said "Jim" McNamara, M. A. Schmidt and Dave Kaplan "did the job."

McManigal went into details regarding all of the "jobs." He told how activities had been shifted to Texas and then to South Chicago, and later to Milwaukee. In El Paso twenty men were killed in the explosion. When asked to fix the number of men killed in all the murderous expeditions, McManigal said:

"I guess there were 100 or so."

He told of visits to Indianapolis, where, he said, he saw John McNamara, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. He said that McNamara furnished them with funds and with the explosives they used. He said that they received their orders from him in carrying out their murderous work. Once started to telling his story, it seemed apparent to the watching officers that McManigal was only eager to finish it. He spared no one, nor did he try to excuse his own acts. In speaking of James McNamara, McManigal constantly referred to him as "Bryce," one of his aliases.

ST. JOHN PEOPLE ON THE SOBO THROUGH ROUGH WEATHER

West India liner Sobo due here on Saturday put into Halifax yesterday afternoon after a terrific voyage. Thomas A. Linton, of the Linton & Sinclair Co., Ltd. and William H. Campbell of P. Campbell & Co., and Miss Bell, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Miles, were passengers and arrived here early this morning from Halifax.

There was a report here that the steamer had been towed into Halifax but this Messrs. Linton and Campbell say was not so. They speak of the trip as a boisterous one. On the second day out of Bermuda the steamer made but seventy two miles and 107 the third day.

According to the schedule the Sobo comes direct to St. John, making the Halifax call on the return. On account of the delay, however, the captain decided to put into Halifax. She will discharge and load her Halifax cargo while there, sailing for St. John on Saturday night and going from here direct Tuesday.

PILOTAGE MATTER IN COMMITTEE AT OTTAWA

(Special to Times.)

Ottawa, April 25—The pilotage clauses of the marine bill were before the marine committee this morning. Hon. Mr. Brodeur announced he would drop the proposed new clauses which imposed compulsory pilotage upon shipping in the St. Lawrence.

Mr. Kyte of Nova Scotia said if no change was to be made in the pilotage law of the St. Lawrence there should be no change applied to St. John and Halifax whose pilotage authorities were objecting to the change which exempted from pilotage charges "dumb barges." J. U. Thomas, Arthur Adams and Edward Lantalum were present to represent the St. John pilotage board.

Mr. Thomas, speaking for the commissioners, said there seemed to be no reason why barges should be put in a separate non-paying class. It was desirable that the pilotage system for St. John should be kept as perfect as possible. The barges paid about $1,700 a year in St. John up to three years ago, but for the last three years, owing to the Springhill strike, there had been practically no barge business.

CAUCUS LIKELY LIVELY

One of the aldermen who was asked this morning regarding the outlook for organizing the new common council said the difficulty appeared to be that "the members of the new council were all born leaders,' as each one expected to be head of a department. The caucus to be held this week is likely to be a lively one as the rivalry for chairmanships is very keen.
