AMUSEMENTS MORE NEW PICTURES NICKEL

The spring-like weather of yesterday jumped Nickel business close to record breaking proportions, and everybody who attended the theatre saw an excellent show. Chief interest was centred in the pictures of British War Vessels on review off Spithead, one of the imperial stations, and the example of Britain's might contained in this 500 feet of film had a most inspiring effect. Round after round of applause greeted the pictures. Of more than passing interest was the scenic film entitled "Castles Along the Loire," a review of mediaeval architecture in Sunny France. A feast of merriment ensued when the comedy pictures, Sunny France. A feast of merriment ensued when the comedy pictures, "Electric Insoles," and "The Old Maid and the Burglar," was thrown upon the curtain. Aerial League Would Have Authorities Display Names of Cities Upon Black Background.

Details as to Size and Features

LONDON, Jan. 19-Directors of the Aerial League of the British Empire, which is seeking to advance the posibilities of aviation as a military factor in the event of war, assert that they probably will follow the action of the Aero Club of Bearn, which has the Aero Club of Bearn, which has the distinguished aviator, Mons. Tissandier, as its president, in asking that the various municipal authorities have the names of their cities and towns painted in white on a large tack-ground, preferably on the roofs of the principal houses and public buildings, so that an aviator can tell at a glance over which community he is fiving.

forth. A lengthy programme of readings, songs, etc., was then carried out successfully. Honorary Supt. John F. Ring then presented suitable as to the features of the attended on each Sunday during the year:—Angeline Roxborough, George Hazlewood, Vera Peterson, Mabel Clarke, Fred Christopher, Lenwick Andeline Christopher, Lenwick Andeline Christopher, Lenwick Andeline Christopher, and Bertha Cornell.

Rev. W. R. Robinson then presented two teachers with suitable awards in recognition of their attendance on each Sunday throughout the year. They were Miss M. Mullin and Miss Jessie L. Cosley, Frank D. Robson represented Santa Claus and distributed presents to the scholars. The superintendent to the scholars. The superintendent to the scholars. another success, such as it did in the construction of submarines, more than sixty of which it has built to the Admiralty's order.

Much discussion again prevails over the problem of the fallibility of aerial craft to gun fire from land. Mr. Charles de Grave Sells has pointed out the peculiar results of the experiments during the Rheims aviation, meeting, when opportunity was taken to endeavor to estimate the distance of endeavor to estimate the distance and the elevation of imachines—when flying. The Curtiss machine, a biplane, was in the air, and the officer taking sights gave the distance as 7,220 feet and the elevation 30 feet.

In the German official trials last July the results were extremely poor. The target then, too, was not an aeroplane varying its dashes of direction, but a captive balloon anchored at a height of only 1,200 feet. Its car bore two dummy figures. The balloon first was assailed by a body of infantry from a distance of 4,000 feet, and 5,000 cartridges were fired in volleys without any perceptible effect.
