An Ottawa despatch of Thursday last says: "In the privileges committee this morning the contest between Michael Connolly and the committee as to the custody of the books of the firm came to a crisis. Mr. Connolly, a member of the committee, asked Connolly, who was under examination as to the contents of the cash book, to hand him the book for inspection. Connolly refused to do so, though Chairman Grosart ordered him to comply with the committee's request. Thereupon an motion of the Minister of Justice, a sub-committee of four was appointed to report the facts in regard to Connolly's course. Mr. Vissell, deputy minister of public works, was then put on the stand and identified letters and papers brought down from the department.

The Montreal Star has the following cable, from London.—Sir John Macdonald's illness divides with the baceraft scandal public attention. The press generally cordially endorses W. H. Smith's graceful tribute in the House of Commons last night. "Sir John Macdonald," said the first lord of the treasury, "is a man who, however his party conduct may be viewed, has earned the respect and admiration of all who know the services he has rendered to the dominion and the empire. There can be but one feeling of deep sorrow that a life so valuable seems about to end." Sir Vernon Harcourt, Staveley Hill, and Joseph Chamberlain joined in the tribute to Sir John Macdonald, whose death they all said would be an international loss. The house generally showed keen sympathy with Canada.

Mr. Foster announced on Thursday last that the budget speech would not be delivered this week. He stated, in answer to a question, that more room was required for the intercolonial railway at St. John station, that land belonging to James Harris & Co. was available, and that if it were acquired, the value would probably be determined by arbitration. Hon. McKenzie Bowell gives notice of a bill respecting the intercolonial railway, the object of which is to bring under one management and into one complete system, all the branch railways, ferries, and other branches of the intercolonial. By this move it is hoped to secure considerable economy in the operation of the line, and it will allow the department to keep one set of accounts instead of, as now, having separate books for each branch railway and ferry.

Lord Rothchild, speaking at the council of the united synagogues last week, said the Jewish community is on the brink of a precarious and dangerous period, owing to the influx of destitute Jews.

During the course of a speech delivered in London last week, Mr. Balfour said that the conditions now prevailing in Ireland showed the benefits which had accrued to the country through the enforcement of the crimes act. This act had so well fulfilled the object of the government had in view when it was adopted by parliament that crime had decreased to such an extent that it was now justifiable to suspend the operation of the act everywhere in Ireland with the exception of a few places where the ashes of the plan of campaign still smoulder. The government, Mr. Balfour declared, would shortly issue a proclamation suspending the act throughout the country, except where it was deemed advisable to enforce it for some time longer, to better prevent lawlessness. Mr. Balfour made reference to other conditions which prevail in Ireland, and said that the country urgently needed imperial laws and imperial credit.

Great sympathy is felt for the bereaved ones. She was 28 years of age. A kind and loving mother and faithful wife, a good neighbor, and a sincere Christian thus has been taken away.

MARSHALL.—At Niataux, May 16th, Alice A., the wife of Stillman Marshall, entered into rest at the age of 33. She had been in delicate health for years, but of late seemed to have regained a share of her original vigor. An attack of influenza, however, prostrated her; and after only four days' illness she passed on to her reward. She was a good woman, and found comfort in her Saviour's love. She is much missed in her home, and the community regrets her departure.

DOUGLASS.—In the 74th year of her age, Mrs. Asa Dincock, of Windsor, N. S., Our sister's conversion to the truth occurred in early life. She was baptized into the fellowship of the church in Cornwall, the last of the 17th century, and her life was spent in Windsor. Her life throughout was one of joyous activity and hopefulness. In death she was triumphant. In almost her latest breath, she uttered her great happiness that "Jesus Christ, my dying bed feel soft as downy pillows are."

NELSON.—Very suddenly, with only two days' illness, Bro. James Nelson, of Niataux, was called from his earthly to his heavenly home, at the age of 68, on the 29th of May. Mr. N. was modest in his demeanor, yet kindly and cordial in his nature. He was a member of the church and maintained a consistent walk. He felt his need of a Saviour, and—having embraced Christ, followed Him with affectionate regard. He will be greatly missed by his family to whom he was greatly endeared; and the entire community, holding his memory in high esteem, will regret his departure.

GATES.—On the 24th of May, at Niataux, Mrs. Sophia Gates, the wife of David Gates, passed over the Jordan of death to her heavenly Canaan. She patiently endured protracted sufferings with Christian resignation. Her love for her Saviour was firm and constant; and His presence comforted her in the dark valley. For her death had no terrors. She has gone to the fold above, but she will be missed at the freemid, in the church and in the neighborhood.

WINDHAM.—At Smith's Cove, Digby Co., May 26, Mrs. Annie M., the beloved wife of James B. Windham, in the 50th year of her age. For twenty years our sister has been an active and useful member of the 2nd Hillsborough church. Her last illness was long and painful. Over all the grace of God held control and triumphed. Her end was peace. Her memory is fragrant in the church and community. An affectionate and afflicted husband, an only son and an adopted daughter, aged 7 years, mourn for their great loss. The Rev. In the absence of the pastor, a funeral sermon was preached by Bro. J. W. Higgins, to a large congregation.

WHEELER.—Bro. Benjamin Wheeler, of Torbrook, was "gathered to his fathers" at the advanced age of 82, on the 26th of May. He was a devoted member in the county as an upright man. He was modest in his professions, but rigorously demanded of himself a high type of Christian morality. He was a consistent member of the Niataux church for more than half a century; and was among the foremost in maintaining her temporal and spiritual interests. He was deeply interested in the work of the denomination to which he belonged, and contributed regularly to the work undertaken by the convention. He was a man that will be missed for many days. The religion of Christ was his solace and support throughout life. He passed away with little apparent suffering. His country is a heavenly fragrance to those who knew him; and his departure is deeply felt.
