MAY START RECALL PROCEEDINGS AGAINST CITY FATHERS SOON

Meeting of Property Owners Last Evening Held City Council Was Not Attending to Business—Action on Permanent Paving Programme in Four Days Required, or Trouble Will be Started.

At a meeting of property owners of various parts of the city, held under the auspices of the Vigilant Committee last evening, it was decided that unless the city fathers acted on the resolution in Council of January 23, and dealt with the tenders for the paving of Douglas Avenue, Beauséjour street, City Road, etc. in three or four days a petition for the recall of those who are supposed to be holding up the programme of street paving would be circulated. The property owners were evidently annoyed. They said that City Commissioners were elected to deal with the city business, and that some of them were apparently intent on preventing any permanent paving being done this year. They said they were entitled to more information than they were able to obtain as to the relation of the Mayor to the Committee of Seventeen, who, it is said, have undertaken to submit a bill to the Legislature, providing that abutters should pay a percentage of the cost of permanent pavement.

The meeting took the stand that the question at issue should be fought out in St. John, and not before the Legislature at Fredericton. Battle royal over the proposed abutter's tax is threatened if the field of war is shifted to Fredericton, and the Committee of Seventeen proceed with their campaign. The opposing army, the Vigilants, carried the war to City Hall yesterday, and afterwards met in the Dearborn building and appointed scouts to watch developments. It was announced that the Vigilants had received reinforcements from some of the largest property owners in the city, who were prepared to go the limit to defeat the abutters tax bill if the Committee of Seventeen submitted it to the Legislature. The Vigilants say they want street improvements, and want them this summer. They expect that when their streets are paved the assessors will put up property valuations and their taxes, and they do not want to pay twice through an abutters' tax, especially as the general public use streets like Douglas Avenue and Beauséjour street more than the abutters. The Vigilants further claim that some of the members of the Committee of Seventeen live on streets that will never be paved, or in the country most of the time.

"It looks," said one of the Vigilants, "as if the Commissioners, finding that their new assessment act was a failure were anxious to pass the buck and make the property owners the goat."

Parlor Recital Was Most Enjoyable. Four Talented St. John Ladies Gave Delightful Concert Last Evening at Residence of Rev. H. A. Goodwin—Proceeds for Hiraiva Mission Circle.

One is inclined to think sometimes that a proper value is not always placed upon what is referred to as "local talent" but those who were privileged to attend a Parlor Concert held last evening at the residence of Rev. H. A. Goodwin thoroughly appreciated the delightful programme given by some St. John talent and felt proud that it belonged to the city. The recital was under the auspices of a group of the Hiraiva Mission Circle of Canterbury Church of which Miss Pauline J. Jenkins is president and the proceeds are for the funds of the circle. The artists taking part last evening were Mrs. L. M. LeLachour, Mrs. T. J. Gunn, Mrs. J. M. Barnes and Miss Mary Jorle Pearce and each number on the programme was a gem in itself. Mrs. LeLachour sang beautifully, Mrs. Gunn gave four fine violin solos, Mrs. Barnes played in her usual sympathetic way three piano solos and Miss Pearce pleased greatly with some bright readings.

Mrs. H. A. Goodwin and members of the circle entertained the performers as supper after the concert. The programme was as follows:—Song—"Allah Be With Us"—Floden; Reading—"The Making of a Climax"—"Special Jim"—Anonymous; "Miss Marjorie Pearce"; Violin Solo—Selected—"Killarney"—Mrs. T. J. Gunn; Piano Solo—(a) Berceuse, by Omsky; (b) Valse—Brillante—Chopin—Mrs. J. M. Barnes; Reading—"The Legend of Horatius"—Macaulay; "A Breath of Mistletoe"—Miss Marjorie Pearce; Song—"Still at the Night"—Bohm—"A Bowl of Roses"—Clark—Mrs. L. M. LeLachour; Violin Solo—Souvenir—Druid—Minn; et—Beethoven—Mrs. T. J. Gunn.

VETERANS' REQUEST COMPLIED WITH. Mayor Hayes Asks Dominion Command to Hold Convention in St. John Next Year—Other Conventions Mentioned.

Complying with the request of the St. John Veterans Mayor Hayes will send a message to the meeting of the Dominion Command at Montreal, asking that body to select St. John for its place of meeting next year. Commissioner Thornton moved this yesterday, and Commissioner Bullock said that St. John seemed to be in the way of becoming a big convention city. The National Council of Women will meet here this summer and the big Press Association will come here, both important bodies. Mayor Hayes said there were quite a number of M. P.'s in the War Veterans, and the convention would bring men from all over Canada. The delegation of War Veterans going to Montreal will do all in their power to secure next year's convention for St. John. If they advertise St. John's summer climate they might easily get the Veterans to come here. The National Council of Women will meet here this summer and the big Press Association will come here, both important bodies.

Institution For Seamen's Children

Some Facts Given of the Work of Poor Widows of Seamen Who Have Been Enabled in Keeping a Home.

In the year 1917 over 1,201 seamen's children were fed, clothed and educated by the Seamen's Orphan Institution at Liverpool, and by this home a large number of poor widows of seamen have been enabled to keep a roof over their heads and their children kept from the workhouse. There are at present over 1,100 children under the care of the Seamen's Orphan Home, and 200 of those are orphans of seamen who have lost their lives through the dastardly conduct of the German navy, which torpedoed vessels without warning and from other warlike causes. The benefits conferred are not restricted to any nationality or religious creed, though children of seamen who sailed five years out of the port of Liverpool have a preference. A large number of the orphans taken in by the seamen's Orphan Institution have lost their fathers by the perils of the sea in crossing the Atlantic ocean, and in conveying passengers and cargo too and from the United States and Canada. A still larger number of seamen die from various diseases contracted by exposure to the weather in all seasons and at all hours and no more fitting tribute of gratitude can be shown than by helping to support the children who are left fatherless by the necessities of the seaman's life. The returns from the Board of Trade are appalling in their evidence of the loss of life at sea, for they show that in forty-two years following the establishment of the Orphan Home 165,839 seamen died on English steamers alone abroad. Of this number 107,167 were drowned. This number does not include those who die in the United Kingdom.

TAKING LIQUOR TO LUMBER CAMP. Bernard McHugh Was Arrested by Inspectors in Union Depot Yesterday for Having Liquor in His Possession.

While Liquor Inspectors McAlinch and Kerr were on their rounds yesterday afternoon they wandered into the Union Depot, and on entering the gentleman's waiting room detected the mellow scent of a beverage. They examined the individual from whence the odor emanated, and being satisfied on investigation that he was carrying a pair of boots, but on investigation proved to be two long necks of Scotch. Halted before the police magistrate the prisoner gave his name as Bernard McHugh and pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession other than his private dwelling. He explained to the court that he was taking the liquor to a lumber camp as a safe guard against influenza. The accused was remanded until the magistrate considers the case.

(with other contributions) 941.00 In 1915, when the war seemed to be going badly for the Allied Armies and the casualty lists were large, caused by the numerous German machine guns, a great cry went up all over Canada for more machine guns for Canadian units proceeding overseas. Mr. W. A. Jones received subscriptions. When the fund was raised it was found that machine guns could not be purchased, as the Government had taken the whole output of the factories. The fund was then placed at the credit of three trustees in the Bank of Nova Scotia, Sussex; and has been there ever since. It now amounts to $1,832. After due consideration, it has been decided to divide this amount between the Provincial Memorial Home for Children, and the Protestant Orphan Home, St. John, N. B. Both of these Homes pay particular attention to orphans of soldiers who lost their lives during the war.
