

This is a branch of expenditure which we hope may be yearly increased.

Toward this object £12 10s. has been paid to the Society's first missionary under this head. The Rev. J. Dixon, additional missionary in the Parish of Truro.*

PARSONAGE HOUSES.—As the building of a Parsonage is a species of endowment for the mission, and so materially tends to the comfort and establishment of a missionary, it is to be hoped that the means of the Society may enable it to continue its efforts in this direction.

There has been thus expended :

In a grant to Rev. Mr. Brine for Parsonage at Petit Riviere,
To Rev. Mr. Filluel for do. at Mahone Bay,	£25 0 0
To Rev. E. Nichols for do. at Liverpool,	5 0 0
Making together the sum of Fifty-five pounds.	25 0 0

ENDOWMENT.—Two missions have during the last year availed themselves of the resolution of this Society, permitting one-fourth of the remittance to be returned toward endowment.

The Rev. E. Nichols has received one-fourth of the remittance from Liverpool toward the endowment of that mission,

The Rev. T. Leaver has made a similar appropriation of one-fourth the remittance from the Local Committee at Truro,

£8 2 6

Making in all £11 2 6 from the funds of this Society toward endowment. These missions have thus made the first step toward provision against the time when we must be thrown upon our own resources.

In addition to the disbursements already mentioned. The following sums have been paid by the Society agreeably to the expressed wishes of the donors—

The Rev. T. C. Leaver's subscription to King's College, £4 0 0
Several subscriptions for conversion of the Heathen, 2 6 3

There has been also paid for printing Report £32, for Depository £27 2s. 6d., Masonic Hall, &c. £4 12s. 2d., for other incidental ex-

* Through the assistance of Mr. Dixon the number of out stations has been doubled, and also the services in other parts of the mission of Truro have been much more frequent.
