

statement of the book room, showing an improvement over last year.

Professor Watson, of Mount Allison, appeared for aid to wipe out the debt on the theological union. He was allowed to canvass the conference for membership fees.

Mission at Courtney Bay.

Considerable discussion took place on the committee's report on the state of the work, submitted by Rev. H. C. Rice. The main features were as follows: That St. John city churches be authorized to organize a city mission board in accordance with the proposal of the St. John district, that it endorse the plan to purchase two lots of land at Courtney Bay, one near the brickyard, the other near the centre of the proposed improvements.

The committee endorsed the recommendation of the St. John district regarding the forming of a conference evangelistic committee; this district being impressed with the need of deepening the spiritual life of the church. It recommended that the conference choose an evangelistic committee of seven persons to study the spiritual condition of the church, with a view to their improvement. This committee shall obtain full information respecting the employment of a conference evangelist, the best means to make the conference gatherings more spiritually profitable; the advisability of adopting the organization known as the League of Worshipping Children, which has been so successful in England; the best means to bring a more helpful ministry to the children of the congregation either by simplification of the reception service or otherwise; the best means to increase interest in the sacramental service.

In these matters the committee is to report to the next annual conference, but in all matters it shall have power to act during the interim of the conference in conformity with its constituted authority. The conference is to assume no financial liability.

The evangelistic committee, consisting of Revs. G. P. Dawson, H. E. Thomas, J. M. Rice, Dr. W. Harrison, Prof. W. G. Watson, James Myles, Charles Sampson, laymen.

Rev. H. E. Thomas spoke in favor of evangelistic committees, which were a success in other parts of the world. Prominent laymen assured him they would finance the scheme outlined in his reports. No evangelist will be employed this year. The report on the state of work was adopted.

The investigating committee on the action of the conference special committee re-sustentation fund grants, as complained of by Zion church, St. John, reported that this special committee was not acting within its jurisdiction in deciding that grants from the sustentation fund should not be made to certain churches after this year.

Apart from the question of jurisdiction the action itself conflicts with the constitution of the sustentation fund.

The report was adopted. The action of the stationing committee in constituting Ormoco a mission, was adopted by a two-thirds vote, after considerable discussion.

Rev. John Dystant, of Detroit (Mich.), superintendent of one of the state districts of the Methodist Episcopal church, and former member of the New Brunswick and P. E. Island conference, gave an interesting address, comparing the work done there and here. In Detroit, special attention was given to evangelism. There they deal with such large questions as the conquest of the world. In this conference they pay more attention to minor matters and financial details.

The work in China and Japan must be extended, but Canada must not be overlooked, where there are 40 mission-aries out of 84. The sisterhood of the W. M. S. work was also reviewed.
