

(4)

Prov. Sec., attested by the Prov. S O; take a receipt for the same; and he shall give such security for the faithful performance of his duties as may be required by the Prov. Club. When retiring from office he shall deliver up all monies, books, and other documents to his successor, or to any other person authorized to receive them. At the expiration of his term of office, or sooner, if called upon, he shall make out a written report of the state of the finances of the Prov. Club.

C. The Prov. C shall attend the meetings, conduct the opening and closing solemnities, and perform his part in the initiatory ceremonies, and such other duties as the office may require.

M. The Prov. M shall perform the part assigned him in the opening and initiatory services. He shall have charge of all property not entrusted to others, and shall perform all the duties arising out of his office.

S. The Prov. S shall guard the door, see that none enter or retire but those duly authorized; and also perform such other duties as may be required in the working of the Club.

ARTICLE V.—Voting.

Sec. 1. In voting on ordinary questions, each member of Prov. Club shall have a vote, but when demanded by two representatives of different clubs, the vote shall be taken by clubs.

Sec. 2. In voting by Clubs the Prov. Sec. shall call the roll of clubs, beginning with No. 1, and a majority of representatives shall