Ireland. Belfast, Jan. 9.—The largest steel sailing ship afloat, registering 2,220 tons, has been launched for the White Star Line. It is named Garfield, and will be employed in the Australian and Californian trades. Cork, Jan. 9.—A large force of police and military proceeded to Millstreet last evening, it is supposed to make arrests on a large scale. Several persons have already been arrested. There is great excitement. It is said the authorities are acting on information from Connell, arrested for having arms in a proscribed district, who turned informer. Cork, Jan. 9.—Fifteen arrests have been made at Millstreet. Twelve prisoners have been remanded. Connell's revelations are startling, and implicate a number of persons. Dublin, Jan. 9.—A military demonstration was made in Cork this morning. The soldiers were ordered to search the city for concealed arms, and they went in a large body through the streets, sending out a few men to search the houses on each side. No arms were found. Cork, Jan. 10.—A large party of police to-day on the north side of the city discovered a case six feet under the ground containing a large number of snider rifles, a quantity of dynamite, gun cotton and ammunition. Dublin, Jan. 10.—There have been extensive seizures of arms and ammunition at Tralee and Clonmel. London, Jan. 10.—It is generally believed the Government will not at present release Parnell and Dillon. A Limerick correspondent announces that the agent of Lord Dunraven's estate has arranged with the tenants to appoint arbitrators to arrange farm rent. Cork, Jan. 10.—The arrest of Connell has led to the apprehension of an entire band of midnight raiders in the Millstreet district, of which he was leader. Large quantities of Irish potatoes are being exported to America. Dublin, January 11.—Egan, reporter on Archbishop Crooke's paper at Thurles, is arrested. Dublin, Jan. 11.—Parnell and Dillon, in a letter addressed to the Town Clerk of Dublin, returns thanks to the corporation for the honor conferred on them by the granting of the freedom of the city. The corporation will now ask Earl Cowper, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to permit the freedom of the city to be presented to Parnell and Dillon within the prison. Dublin, Jan. 12.—The O'Connor Don remitted twenty-five per cent of the rent of his tenants at Ardara and Ardmore. A force of 200 military and constabulary have gone to Elenderry to protect persons carrying oats brought at a sheriff's sale. A mob there broke up the roads, threw trees across them, and destroyed four bridges. Three hundred and fifty police and military evicted six families at Teona-creon. London, Jan. 12.—It is stated that the report of the finding of the bodies of Huddy and his nephew in Lough Mask is a hoax. Dublin, Jan. 13.—The President, Secretary and two members of the Committee of the Drum (colleger Ladies) League have been jailed in default of bail for holding illegal meetings. Canadian. St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 9.—The sailing steamer Lion was lost, with all hands, near Beaulieu Island, forty miles from here, on Friday. It is supposed she struck on Grate's Point, and went down before a boat could be launched. The steamer had several passengers, besides the usual crew. The body of Mrs. Cross, of Trinity, has been recovered. Columbus, Ont., Jan. 9.—Edward Adton, while running the picker in the Empire Woollen Mills, met with an accident which will prove fatal. His right arm caught in the belt, and his body was pulled around. The machinery was stopped as soon as possible, when it was found that his right arm was torn to pieces, and both ankles badly mangled, and his ribs all broken. Toronto, Jan. 9.—Thomas W. Boustead, aged 23, son of Alderman Boustead, committed suicide this morning at 11 o'clock. He went to his work as usual at the Credit Valley Railway offices this morning, but returned to his residence on Hazelton avenue, Yorkville, a few minutes before eleven. He appeared to be ill, and went immediately to his room. A few moments later he shot himself through the right temple. Toronto, Jan. 9.—A bad accident occurred on the Grand Trunk line this morning, near Walton Station, fifteen miles west of Toronto. A freight train coming east had just passed the station, when the face plate of the engine, a "Mogul," was blown off with terrible force. The fireman, engineer and brakeman of the train, who were all sitting in the cab, were badly scalded. Bethany, Jan. 11.—A man was found dead on the railway track about two miles south of this place. He is supposed to hail from Cannington. From letters on his person it is believed his name is McKay, a school teacher. Exposure is supposed to be the cause of death. The Ontario Legislature opened on Thursday last. A lunatic named Walsh shot himself in Notre Dame Cathedral, Ottawa, on Friday last during service. His death was instantaneous. Prescott, Ont., Jan. 13.—T. D. Harrington, late Deputy Receiver-General, died suddenly of heart disease this evening. He was forty-six years in the public service. J. Sweeney, a Canada Southern Railway pony conductor, had his right hand crushed while coupling cars at Amherstburg yesterday afternoon. Dr. Park amputated the hand at the wrist. Sweeney is twenty-one and single. Great Britain. London, Jan. 9.—Friends are endeavoring to secure Parnell's release before the opening of Parliament. It is believed the Government is considering the matter. London, Jan. 10.—The News says:—International politics are the subject of unfavorable attention on the Stock Exchange. The receipt of the Emperor of Germany is regarded as so unconstitutional as to amount to a revolution from above, while the designs of Bismarck may have behind cause of uneasiness. Liverpool, Jan. 11.—The Marquis of Lorne, Governor-General of Canada, sailed to-day for Halifax. London, Jan. 11.—Gladstone, in speaking at Hawarden in reference to English land reforms, said that to bring about the required reforms it would not only require the legal aid found necessary in Ireland, but that security must be given for the unexhausted improvements made by the tenant, and also provisions for the cheap, free and rapid transform of the land, thereby enabling tenants in a short time to become land owners. United States. Oscar Wilde lectured in New York recently to a large audience on "English Renaissance." He was dressed in a black dress coat, white vest, low-cut shirt, with flowing white silk cravat, black knee breeches, brown stockings, and slippers. He said the secret of life was art. A Bill is to be introduced in the United States Senate, providing that no person indicted in the District of Columbia or any territory of the United States, or any court of the United States, shall be acquitted on the ground of insanity, except on proof that at the time of committing the offence he was laboring under such defect of reason as not to know the nature and quality of the act, or not to know the act is unlawful or wrong. While a gang of longhorns were unloading a steamer at New York last night the hoisting apparatus broke and a number of cases fell. John Butler was killed; Edward Burke fatally injured, and another man slightly injured. Small-pox is rapidly increasing at Pittsburgh, Pa. Fifty-six new cases are reported to-day. Cataosa Springs, Ga., on Sunday, Levic Murphy, half deaf with consumption, asked Charles Golden for money he owed. Golden stabbed him to death. A fearful accident happened on the Spuyten Duyville and Port Norris Railway on Friday last. It appears the special New York express, which was composed of three drawing room cars, filled with members of the Legislature, became disabled, and the Tarrytown special following close behind, ran into the rear of the express. About twelve persons were killed and a number injured. Amongst the killed was Senator Wagner, the owner of the Wagner palace Car.

CATHOLIC POETS.

From the Canadian Monthly. The Household Library of Catholic Poets, compiled by Elliot Ryder. Published by Joseph A. Lyons, the University of Notre Dame, Indiana, 1881. This prettily bound volume is a collection of choice poems of authors professing the faith of the Church of Rome, some of whom, as for instance, Alexander Pope, were very lax in their adherence to Catholic orthodoxy. Others, such as Crashaw, James Shirley, and Sir Wm. Davenant, were hardly accustomed to think of as Catholics; they were Catholics as it were by accident, and their religion does not color their writings as it does those of Faber, Newman, and Adelaide Proctor. In the interests of literature we feel bound to enter a protest against this practice of classifying writers, whose best work is unconnected with religion, according to the divisions of theological sectarianism, at least we hope to be spared "Protestant Poetry." The "Episcopalian Parnassus," the really pretty volume edited by Mr. Elliot Ryder has the merit of bringing before the public well chosen extracts from some great but little known poets such as Clarence Mangan, and from several meritorious writers of our own time. Among these a high place will be given to the really pretty poems quoted from Mr. Thomas O'Hagan, of Belleville, Ont., at page 131. But why is no extract given from the very beautiful poems of the late Archbishop Murray of Dublin? Aubrey de Vere deserves the high place given to him, both as a Catholic and as a poet, but the extracts are by no means of his best.

A PROTESTANT OPINION OF A NOTED CHARACTER.

From the St. Thomas Journal. At a meeting of the Mechanics' Institute in London last night, while the directors were discussing the best means of renting their hall, Mr. John McDonald said he had learned that an unmitigated sounder known as ex-Monk Withdows had permitted the use of the hall to turn into a hall for the propagation of Catholicism, and protested against any repetition of such a performance being allowed. The other directors thought differently, and it was resolved to let any one use the hall who would pay for it. Yet if Mr. Withdows were to try to get that hall for one of his ranting attacks on Christianity, it would be refused. But had as Ingensoll's doctrines are and blasphemous as his words sound to the Christian ear, yet to the devout and conscientious Roman Catholic they are no worse and can be no more revolting than the dirty blabber of that unmitigated sounder known as ex-Monk Withdows. His record is too vile for publication, and the man who objected to allowing him to revile Catholicism in a hall supposed to belong to the mechanics of London did right. The Mechanics' Hall is different from an ordinary theatre and the members of the institute have a right to ask that their rooms shall not be used for the profanation of what is held by a number of them—either rightfully or wrongfully, at least conscientiously—to be most sacred.

To the merchants, the manufacturers and the farmers it has brought untold prosperity and innumerable blessings. It is the only bulwark upon which the future dependence or independence of Canada can rest. For the National Policy these things are claimed by one class of political thinkers and office-seekers, while on the other hand we find many very able men hold opposite views, and use strong and incisive arguments to show the fallacy of a doctrine, or policy, which simply increases the cost of everything, and takes from the pocket of the individual citizen his dollar, and when this placed call it surplus wealth. Although this difference of opinion exists among politicians, it is a consolation to the farmers to know they can obtain for the coming season the Imperial Harvester at last year's prices.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

Mr. James Phelan, who, for the past four years has had charge of the R. C. Separate School of West Williams, left here by the noon train on Thursday last. He has been promoted to the head mastership of the Belleville Separate School. The day before his departure, his pupils, in very large numbers, assembled in the West Williams school room and read the following address:— To Mr. James Phelan, Teacher: Very Dear Sir,—It is with sentiments of heartfelt regret that we learn of your intended departure from our midst. During the past four years your untiring zeal for the advancement of education, has won for you hosts of friends among all classes and creeds. The spiritual and intellectual welfare of us, your pupils, has been the one grand object which you always had in view. The progress which we have made under your able tuition speaks for itself. Many of us have lifted up from the cradle of our educational infancy and leading us on to some, at least of the difficult scientific labyrinth, you obtained for us the distinction of having been admitted to the High School. It is true you have been firm and unswerving in enforcing the observance of rule, still your kind and genial manner has endeared you to every one of us. No wonder, then, if we regret your departure from amongst us. However, there is a silver lining to every cloud—your present promotion to the headmastership of the Belleville Separate School sheds a bright ray of hopeful joy over the chill cloud of sorrow that now hangs over our school room, like a pall on a maiden's bier. Our loss is Belleville's gain. But we cannot allow this occasion to pass away without testifying to you our full heart gratitude. In the memory of our hearts we will retain and appreciate of your services, we beg you to accept of this writing desk, as a souvenir of your sojourn in West Williams. Trusting that your life may be long and happy in your new home, we remain, very dear Sir, on behalf of the pupils, your sincere friends. Katie Ann McDonald, Maggie Kilgallin, Thomas Gleason, Alex. McDonald. W. Williams, Dec. 27th, '81. MR. PHELAN'S REPLY. My Dear Pupils—Your flattering address would naturally lead one to suppose that you had all kissed the blarney stone. I feel quite unequal to the task of expressing appropriate feelings in a manner befitting this occasion, whose sweet recollections will ever cluster around my memory. For this beautiful writing-desk I thank you very much; for your appreciation of my past services I thank you more, and for your kind, good wishes, so beautifully expressed in your address, I thank you most of all. I cannot, however, in conscience appropriate to myself all the good things you have said, and I am sure that the picture of me is not mine, it is the ideal of what I ought to be, and of what I hope I will be before my death knell rings. My past four years in your midst were, it is true, years of duty, but they were also years of pleasure. If I have been firm in enforcing the observance of the rule, it was for your own benefit. If I have been kind and genial to you it was because you have deserved such treatment. For this beautiful writing-desk I once more thank you, and when I am far away rest assured I will keep it as a souvenir of the many happy days spent in West Williams.—Parkhill Gazette.

THE R. C. CONCERT IN PARKHILL.

A concert in aid of the R. C. Church of this place, was held in the Music Hall, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 21st. It was a success in every particular, and was, without doubt, the best ever given in Parkhill.

Miss Dillon, "traveller's favorite" soprano, was enthusiastically received, and she encared every time she sang. The singing and acting of Messrs. Noble and Robinson afforded much amusement. Messrs. Hodgins and Down were also deservedly encared. The little fairy violinist, Nora Clench, next appeared on the scene. This child-artiste, for she is not yet fourteen years old, had played before many of the leading musicians of the world, and has been pronounced by all to be a musical prodigy. Remenyi, of world-renowned reputation, was so charmed with her artistic playing that he presented her with his own violin. Mr. Neagle then sang a serio-comic song which was well received. Miss Reidy and her little obligato next made their appearance. During the singing of "L'Estas," it was difficult at times to tell which was Reidy's voice and which was little Nora's violin—so sweetly similar were both. As a ballad singer she has no superior, as an operatic singer she is certainly destined to excel, if she has not excelled already. Father Corcoran deserves to be congratulated on putting before a Parkhill audience such an array of musical talent.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S HOSIERY.

At the present time W. Green's stock of ladies' and children's hosiery is very complete, containing, as it does, all the leading styles and novelties for the coming season. This establishment has always been noted for their complete and well-assorted stock in this department, and all will admit that it is the hosiery house of London. Mr. Green has also received a large stock of first choice Rouillon kid gloves in 3, 4 and 6 buttons, while other houses have substituted inferior articles to take the place of this excellent glove. Mr. Green still keeps the first quality and selling them at the prices at which other stores sell the inferior articles. His stock of real and imitation laces, embroideries, &c., is very complete and well worth an inspection. Intending purchasers of any of the above goods will save money by purchasing these goods at Green's popular store.

AN ONLY DAUGHTER CURED OF CONSUMPTION.

When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with many herbs of the Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world that Consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The Doctor now gives the Recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures night-sweats, nausea at the stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address: CRAYDOCK & CO., 1032 Race St., Philadelphia, naming this paper.

TO FARMERS.

Any farmer who will send his name in full, number of lot, concession, Township and Post Office address, will receive free of cost a copy of a magnificent treatise on diseases of the Horse, Address CATHOLIC RECORD office, London.

his efforts in this matter, and thanks are due to the ladies and gentlemen who so kindly assisted.

From Toronto.

At the regular meeting of the St. Aloysius Society, of this city, held in their rooms, St. John's Hall, Bond street, on January 4th, the following gentlemen were elected to office for the ensuing year:—John C. Delaney, 1st vice-president; Wm. Fitzgerald, 2nd vice-president; E. J. Butler, recording secretary; James McKittrick, financial secretary; John N. McGann, treasurer; Jos. Kels, librarian; Phillip Cummings, assistant librarian; Thos. A. Hyland, Wm. Barron, M. J. Roach, executive committee. The meeting was largely attended. There is now 15 active members on the roll, and the Society is progressing rapidly.

Dundas Items.

The Society of the Sacred Heart has presented a beautiful statue of the Sacred Heart of Jesus to the church. It is placed over the high altar, with adorning angels on each side. It cost fifty dollars, and will be a beautiful monument of the Society. The new steam-heating apparatus, fitted in St. Augustine's Church by Clark & Squibb, was finished last week, and the church was heated by steam for the first time on Sunday, 8th instant. The arrangement is a grand success, and reflects great credit on the company. A male teacher (Mr. C. T. Sullivan) has been employed as Principal in St. Augustine's Separate Schools, Dundas. Mr. Sullivan's past record as a gentleman and professional teacher is most creditable, and will go far to elevate the standing of the schools. The Separate School Board for 1882 are: Mr. J. Southey, chairman; Mr. P. Cas, secretary; Rev. J. J. Feeny, treasurer; and Messrs. T. Burns, P. Manion, P. O'Connor, J. Hicky, W. Casey. The oil painting of Rt. Rev. P. F. Crimmon, worked by Wm. Farnor, was won by Mr. John Elvin, Hamilton.

TESTIMONIAL.

I have been troubled for a number of years with a very disagreeable impediment in speaking. I heard of the London Institute, and after considerable investigation, I concluded to try it. The treatment proved to be all I needed. I was cured in a very short time. My speech was perfectly free, and I was enabled to speak in public as well as private without any fear of stammering. It is now four months since I left the Institute, and I am certain that the cure is permanent. JOSEPH ANDERSON, Queen's University, Kingston.
