

ROSSLAND WEEKLY MINER.

Two Dollars a Year

ROSSLAND, B. C., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1900

Sixth Year, Number 9

FROM OTHER CAMPS

Late Mining News from the Boundary, Slovan, Similkameen, East Kootenay, Kaslo, Phoenix, Midway and Other Districts

Naturally, being the depth of winter, there is little to report on the progress of the minor properties scattered all over the Kootenays, and which too often have no roads affording a rapid means of ingress and egress to and from them. This militates against continuous work throughout the winter months, but there is, despite the presence of these untoward conditions, quite a little work going on; nevertheless this is especially the case with regard to the properties situated in the mining districts of Peterborough and Kamloops. The Lardeau, now that it has a definite promise of a railroad, will make great strides during the coming year and can well afford, under the circumstances, to have one or two of its shipping properties to close down, work carried on at the best, under anything but favorable conditions. The Boundary and the Slovan are both looking very well, the latter having shipped about 25,000 tons this year and the former about 115,000. Next year, under the more favorable conditions a big advance is looked for from both sections.

KAMLOOPS.

Third Payment on the Iron Mask—Work Upon the Copper King.

The Tenderfoot company has placed a large block of stock successfully in the lower country.

Work on the Python is proceeding satisfactorily. The spring should bring good news from this well known property.

Another large block of stock of the Copper Creek Consolidated was sold last week in England. Work will proceed regularly after the holidays.

Mr. H. C. Foster has been developing his properties 100 miles south of Golden. He has already 300 tons of clean silver-lead ore on the dump, worth nearly $75 to the ton.

The drift on the Kimberley is now in about 15 feet, and may be said to be entirely in ore, the quality of which for the last few feet has been improving in a most satisfactory way. The ore is of quality good enough to ship.

Messrs. Davidson and McDonald have been pushing the work on the Noonday, one of the free mining propositions of the camp, with good success. The property is turning out as was expected, and since looking ore is piling up on the dump.

A third payment of $1,000 was made on the Iron Mask. This makes $17,000 to date. Capt. Argall and the purchasers evidently are well satisfied with their property so far, or the payment would not have been made.

Two more men have been put to work on the Copper King, and work is being conducted without cessation, says the Standard. The shaft house is now erected and will afford proper protection in all weather. A blast furnace and ore room are also built, and a track is being laid from the mouth of the shaft. A few well known persons went out on Monday last to view the property, and as a consequence have invested in shares of the company.

THE LARDEAU.

Cessation of Work on the Silver Cup—Operations Over the District.

Four men are working at the Wide West. The latest reports from the property are to the effect that the men are now in 300 feet. They will have another hundred feet to go before this vein is reached.

Work on the Black Bear has been suspended until spring. The tunnel is now in 74 feet. This property is one of the most promising in the Fish Creek area, although at present a little difficult for winter working.

W. E. Deveraux, C. E., has just completed the survey on the Copper Dollar for J. A. Magee of Comaplix. This claim adjoins the Brunswick. While at work the survey party discovered a third lead, the quartz from which closely resembles that taken from the Ore.

The Reliance, operated by a syndicate of Hamilton people, with W. H. Jackson of London as manager, has six men employed. The tunnel is now in about 60 feet on the lead, which is reported to be from 10 to 12 feet in width with two pay-streaks running very high in silver, lead and gold.

On the Brunswick, belonging to the Lardeau-Goldsmith mines of Rossland, three men are working on a lead about eight feet in width carrying copper and galena. Smelter tests give a value in copper and silver of $22 per ton. A peculiarity of this vein is that the copper and galena are in separate streaks. One from this property had a place in the exhibit from Fish Creek, which obtained a grand prize at the Paris Exposition.

The Calcutta is one of the many promising prospects that we have in our mining camps, says the Eagle. It is situated at the head of Brown creek, about nine miles from Rossland. Its owners are M. W. Sullivan, who is interested in Cromwell No. 2, and J. H. Graham, Rossland, and I. O. Piper, Trout Lake. Although the claim was only located in August of this year, considerable prospecting work has been done. The lead, which shows up well, has been stripped for about 180 feet, and discloses a promising gold, silver-lead property. Two shafts have been commenced at each end of the surface work. One had been sunk five feet and the other seven feet when snow compelled discontinuance of work. The one assay obtained showed $14 of gold, 35 per cent of lead and 41 ounces in silver.

On the Eva property, adjoining the Brunswick, and now operated by the Imperial Development Syndicate of Nelson, fifteen men are working driving a cross-cut, says the Topic. Some time ago they encountered the vein, which carries quantities of pure gold. The strike is a very rich one, and every where in the vein where it has been exposed, gold is to be found in considerable quantities. It is not known yet what the width of the lead will be in the tunnel, but it is not likely to be much smaller than it is on top, where it is 30 feet across. The property is equipped thoroughly for purposes of development, and it would appear that such is the intention of the company, as Magee's pack train has just completed the work of transporting to the claim 60 cases of dynamite besides large quantities of other supplies.

Supt. D. G. McNeill, of the Silver Cup mine, who has for so long been identified with this portion of the province, came down on Monday on his way to Cripple Creek, Colorado, his home. Mr. McNeill has disposed of his personal interests in mining properties here, and may not return to the Lardeau. The Silver Cup shipment of $100,000 ore is now well on the way to the Landing, and no more will, the Eagle is sorry to say, be shipped this winter. Nor in fact until the railway reaches here. Only two men remain at work at the mine, they having a contract which will last them all winter. Mr. McNeill expects to be in New York by February 1st, where he will spend a few weeks in the enjoyment of civilization, after a long, arduous and successful spell of mining experience in this camp. Mr. McNeill is taking with him some 300 pounds of Lardeau ore samples, the best in the land, which he will place on exhibition in Salt Lake City, Cripple Creek, Boston and New York City, so that this districts resources will receive considerable advertising by Mr. McNeill's trip to outside points. The chances are a big strong mining company to operate in this camp, under Mr. McNeill's management, will be the final result, and the Eagle only hopes its surmise is well founded.

Work Resumed on the Frisco—Strike on the Ruth.

Work has been resumed on the Frisco, and the Marson is also preparing to begin operations.

The Nelson Tribune speaks of big things in store for the Rockland group on Red Mountain next spring.

A certificate of improvements is being applied for the Silver Nugget, one of the oldest locations on Red Mountain.

The Slovan Drill designates as rubbish the report that J. Frank Collins threw up the Mabou and Ohio bond for the reason popularly given.

M. M. Benedum and C. Abercrombie have thrown up the lease held by them on the Early Bird claim on Ten Mile, and have secured another on the Echo, a prospect just below the Queen fraction. They purpose opening up a new ledge on this property.

Messrs. Rose, Martin and McFee of New Denver are opening up a new discovery, christened the Black Flat group, situated on Arrow Lake a short distance below Nakusp. They have a lead of over 40 feet of free milling ore, low grade on the surface, but which they expect to be good pay when depth is gained.

The No. 5 crosscut at the Ruth broke into the ledge on Thursday, and yesterday morning a large body of ore was opened up, which last night was shown across the full face of the tunnel, says the Paymaster. This promise to be one of the most important discoveries ever made in the Slovan.

Editor Rossland Miner: If you will kindly allow me a small part of your space I would like you to publish the following for general information:

In several recent issues of the Phoenix Miner, that paper makes much of the fact that there was only ten (10) less votes polled in the recent Dominion election in the city of Phoenix than in Grand Forks. For the benefit of those who may have noticed this fact I would like to say that the Pioneer forgot to mention or neglected to do so, that Columbia, less than a mile away, and almost a part of Grand Forks, polled 102 votes, and together that would be a total plurality over Phoenix of 112 votes. There was a great many that did not vote at all, and the interest taken here was not great and a great many preferring not to vote against Mr. Foley if they did not feel like voting for him.

Grand Forks is quiet at the present time, as all other towns which grew very rapidly become for a certain length of time, and as Phoenix surely will be in its turn, as soon as it becomes overgrown. If newspapers would not boom towns to such an extent this would not be nearly so likely to happen. What we need to make Grand Forks the permanent centre of this whole Boundary country, is an other railway to the south. We have all the natural advantages and one of the most beautiful climates in British Columbia, not excepting the coast. At the present time wild daisies are growing in the fields, and the ranchers are able to plough. People who visit this city believe that it has a great future. Thanking you for the valuable space, I am yours truly,

A READER.

Grand Forks, Dec. 21, 1900.

A Private Dangerously Ill.

Ottawa, Dec. 26.—(Special.)—The following cable has been received from the Militia Department today: "Capetown, Dec. 21, 1900.—Corporal Callaghan of the First Canadian Mounted Rifles, is dangerously ill at Pretoria."

The Perry Creek placers will receive considerable attention next spring, and it is reported that one company intends to put in modern machinery. Several outfits are working the deep channels, and active operations are to be commenced next season.

Grundy Aukhus is building a cabin on the Viking claim. As soon as it is completed work will be resumed on the claim. The tunnel is in ten feet, with 20 inches of solid ore. The ore is a pyrrhotite, carrying copper pyrites and galena. The Crescent is an extension of the Viking.

J. I. Murphy of Moyie has a good piece of property in his Iron Mountain, located across the lake. He has sunk a shaft 13 feet, and has a fine lead of lead carbonate, which showed up at the grad roots. At the present depth he has two feet of ore, and every indication of a substantial widening of the vein. It is just three miles from Moyie around the lower end of the lake and near the railroad track, with down grade all the way.

It is reported that the North Star company declared a dividend of 5 per cent per share on December 15th. The North Star shipments amount to 2,000 tons per month. About 80 men are employed at the mine. All but seven are engaged in development work. Seven men are working in the drifts taking out ore.

THE CANADIANS IN LONDON

PRINCESS LOUISE GREETED THE COLONIAL TROOPS.

Officers Dine With the Canada Club—A Great Popular Ovation at London—Sea-Visit to the National Arsenal—The Men Say They Are Being Killed With Kindness.

London, Dec. 8.—The Canadian troops in England have done so much since my last despatch was penned, three days ago, that it is only possible to move breathlessly through a list of their engagements with just an idea about each. When the mail dozed the men were at the Houses of Parliament being shown around by Dukes and ministers. Thence they drove to Kensington Palace, that old pile in the West of London which yields pride of place to general interest. They lunched in the King's chamber, and the Duke of Argyll who as Marquis of Lorne, before the late Duke's death, will be remembered as a governor of Canada, presided over the festivities. The Princess Louise traveled specially from Scotland to take part in the affair, and Lord Strathcona, Lord Grey, who has done so much to make the men's stay memorable, Mrs. Chamberlain, Lady Strathcona, Lady Cantelup, Miss Alma Tadema, and Mr. Herbert Chamberlain were among those who sat down with the men. The Princess seated herself beside Col. Otter and displayed vast interest in making the gallant colonel and those about him quite at home.

History to be Remembered.

The Duke was distinctly happy in what he had to say about Kensington Palace from a historical point of view. The palace, he observed, was an old Dutch house, for it was built by Dutch King William, who afterwards became a very good Britisher, and he hoped that was a sign of the times. The men of Canada cheered the allusion to the echo. In that very room, said the Duke, King William, the Dutch Britisher, took his last walk before he went to the bed from which he never rose again. George the First lived there, George the Second lived and died there. Some of the sea pictures on the walls were by a painter who followed Wolfe to Quebec and painted the scene of the bombardment. The bedroom was in this palace in which Queen Victoria was born. She did not quite remember the event, and there was some doubt which of two rooms was the actual one, but they could take their choice. From one room they could see the orangery where Queen Anne sat when the Duke of Hamilton brought her the treaty of union between England and Scotland, which had never since been regretted by Scotland. The Princess, joined with himself in wishing the Canadians a safe and happy return to their land of a model constitution.

The Princess and the Private.

At the special request of the Princess and the Duke Col. Otter made it known that it was desired that some one of the Canadians should sing either "The Maple Leaf" or "The Land of the Maple." The desire was no sooner made known than there were calls for McHugh. Major-General McHugh, of the A. Company, who sails from Rossland, British Columbia, and gave up his work as a solicitor to enlist in the ranks when the volunteers corps was formed in Canada. The Sergeant promptly responded to the call and sang "The Land of the Maple" in a style. The men stood while they came to the chorus, and the Duke and the Princess were showing the vocal abilities of the volunteers, instead of 3,000, she could have had them.

The Old Club Entertains.

In the evening the officers were entertained by the Canada club, an exclusive social body, which has had a life in London for more than a century. It is now one of the oldest clubs in the kingdom. Lord Strathcona presided and pointed out that number of young Canadians join the navy as well as the army, a fact we have been forgetting of late. There were 70,000 fishermen in Canada, he said, who were as hardy as any to be found in the Empire, as well as 30,000 or 40,000 disciplined troops. He said the Canadians had for many years proclaimed their loyalty, and now they had had a chance of showing it, and had only done their duty. Col. Buchanan, later in the evening, declared that if the old country had wanted 30,000 Canadian volunteers, instead of 3,000, she could have had them.

London on Sea.

Next morning men were up betimes, in spite of an evening spent at theatres and music halls, and went in a "special" to Brighton. They were much attenuated in numbers, however, and instead of 200 expected, only 60 were again ready to start on the arduous labor of pleasure hunting. It is harder work to accept all the invitations poured upon them than it was to fight in South Africa. Major Rogers was in command, and the special steamed to Brighton station at half-past 10. Now Rogers is our largest and best known seaside resort, only fifty miles from town, breezy and bracing and genial, and is so popular with metropolitan folk that it has been called London-on-Sea. The inhabitants meant keeping up the London standard, they decorated the place from end to end, turned out in tens of thousands to cheer the colonials, and the mayor and corporation were on the rail platform to meet the men. The mayor made a graceful little speech of the type with which the Canadians have

THE CANADIANS IN LONDON

PRINCESS LOUISE GREETED THE COLONIAL TROOPS.

Officers Dine With the Canada Club—A Great Popular Ovation at London—Sea-Visit to the National Arsenal—The Men Say They Are Being Killed With Kindness.

London, Dec. 8.—The Canadian troops in England have done so much since my last despatch was penned, three days ago, that it is only possible to move breathlessly through a list of their engagements with just an idea about each. When the mail dozed the men were at the Houses of Parliament being shown around by Dukes and ministers. Thence they drove to Kensington Palace, that old pile in the West of London which yields pride of place to general interest. They lunched in the King's chamber, and the Duke of Argyll who as Marquis of Lorne, before the late Duke's death, will be remembered as a governor of Canada, presided over the festivities. The Princess Louise traveled specially from Scotland to take part in the affair, and Lord Strathcona, Lord Grey, who has done so much to make the men's stay memorable, Mrs. Chamberlain, Lady Strathcona, Lady Cantelup, Miss Alma Tadema, and Mr. Herbert Chamberlain were among those who sat down with the men. The Princess seated herself beside Col. Otter and displayed vast interest in making the gallant colonel and those about him quite at home.

History to be Remembered.

The Duke was distinctly happy in what he had to say about Kensington Palace from a historical point of view. The palace, he observed, was an old Dutch house, for it was built by Dutch King William, who afterwards became a very good Britisher, and he hoped that was a sign of the times. The men of Canada cheered the allusion to the echo. In that very room, said the Duke, King William, the Dutch Britisher, took his last walk before he went to the bed from which he never rose again. George the First lived there, George the Second lived and died there. Some of the sea pictures on the walls were by a painter who followed Wolfe to Quebec and painted the scene of the bombardment. The bedroom was in this palace in which Queen Victoria was born. She did not quite remember the event, and there was some doubt which of two rooms was the actual one, but they could take their choice. From one room they could see the orangery where Queen Anne sat when the Duke of Hamilton brought her the treaty of union between England and Scotland, which had never since been regretted by Scotland. The Princess, joined with himself in wishing the Canadians a safe and happy return to their land of a model constitution.

The Princess and the Private.

At the special request of the Princess and the Duke Col. Otter made it known that it was desired that some one of the Canadians should sing either "The Maple Leaf" or "The Land of the Maple." The desire was no sooner made known than there were calls for McHugh. Major-General McHugh, of the A. Company, who sails from Rossland, British Columbia, and gave up his work as a solicitor to enlist in the ranks when the volunteers corps was formed in Canada. The Sergeant promptly responded to the call and sang "The Land of the Maple" in a style. The men stood while they came to the chorus, and the Duke and the Princess were showing the vocal abilities of the volunteers, instead of 3,000, she could have had them.

The Old Club Entertains.

In the evening the officers were entertained by the Canada club, an exclusive social body, which has had a life in London for more than a century. It is now one of the oldest clubs in the kingdom. Lord Strathcona presided and pointed out that number of young Canadians join the navy as well as the army, a fact we have been forgetting of late. There were 70,000 fishermen in Canada, he said, who were as hardy as any to be found in the Empire, as well as 30,000 or 40,000 disciplined troops. He said the Canadians had for many years proclaimed their loyalty, and now they had had a chance of showing it, and had only done their duty. Col. Buchanan, later in the evening, declared that if the old country had wanted 30,000 Canadian volunteers, instead of 3,000, she could have had them.

London on Sea.

Next morning men were up betimes, in spite of an evening spent at theatres and music halls, and went in a "special" to Brighton. They were much attenuated in numbers, however, and instead of 200 expected, only 60 were again ready to start on the arduous labor of pleasure hunting. It is harder work to accept all the invitations poured upon them than it was to fight in South Africa. Major Rogers was in command, and the special steamed to Brighton station at half-past 10. Now Rogers is our largest and best known seaside resort, only fifty miles from town, breezy and bracing and genial, and is so popular with metropolitan folk that it has been called London-on-Sea. The inhabitants meant keeping up the London standard, they decorated the place from end to end, turned out in tens of thousands to cheer the colonials, and the mayor and corporation were on the rail platform to meet the men. The mayor made a graceful little speech of the type with which the Canadians have

MINES AND MINING

What is Going on in... Shaft, Drift, Stope, Winze, Etc., Etc.

WEEKLY STOCK REVIEW.

Holidays Makes Business Dull—Transactions for the Week.

The stock market during the past week has been very dull, and only a few sales were made, but this is the usual thing during the holidays. The best informed brokers predict that the coming year will be the best ever experienced in the stock market. The wheat in mining is being separated from the shaft through the development, and those who deal in stocks now make careful inquiry before they put in their money, and are only dealing in the better class of shares. The number of producing mines is increasing and a large number are on the eve of production and as a consequence the investor has more stocks of real merit, and in which there is larger assurance of profit than ever before, and added to this, the number of dividend payers is greater, and in these the profits are assured. The period of promise is being passed and the realization has come, and therefore, now that there is greater probability of profit, there will naturally be more dealings in shares. Mining is paying, and it is natural to presume that stock investments, which is one of the crowning of mining, should go up and down with its success and its failure.

The Rossland Mining exchange, recognizing the fact that but little business could be transacted during the holidays, adjourned on Monday last till Wednesday, Jan. 2. The sales for the week on the board were as follows:

Thursday	19,000
Friday	9,000
Saturday	12,500
Sunday	2,000
Tuesday	no board.
Wednesday	no board.
Total	43,100
Total previous week	104,000
There were 1,000 Winnipeg sold for $1.2 cents.

The demand for White Bear is lessening and only 15,000 were sold during the week. The price ranges from 4 to 4 1/4 cents per share. The work of drifting toward the ledge on the 300-foot level continues.

There were 10,000 Giant sold for 2 1/2 to 3 1/4 cents per share. There were 1,000 shares of Tamarac sold for 4 1/4 cents.

Hambro-Cariboo continues to be bought, and 7,000 shares were disposed of during the week, the price ranging from 25 3/4 to 26 cents.

There were 2,000 shares of Morning Glory sold for 3 1/2 cents, and 1,000 Sullivan for 14 cents.

Spitzee is worth 2 3/4 cents, 2,000 shares selling for that figure. One hundred shares of Centre Star sold for $1.50.

There has been a renewed demand for Iron Mask during the past few days, and the price has ranged from 25 to 30 cents.

Thursday's Sales.

Winnipeg, 1,000 at 3 1/2; White Bear, 5,000 at 4 1/8, 5,000 at 4 1/4; Giant, 5,000 at 2 1/2; Tamarac, 1,000 at 4 3/4; Rambler-Cariboo, 1,000 at 26, 500 at 26. Total sales, 19,000 shares.

Friday's Sales.

Rambler-Cariboo, 2,000 at 26; Giant, 4,000 at 2 1/4; Morning Glory, 2,000 at 8 1/2; Sullivan, 1,000 at 14. Total sales, 9,000.

Saturday's Sales.

Giant, 2,000 at 2 3/8; Rambler-Cariboo, 1,000 at 25 3/4; 1,500 at 25 3/4; 2,000 at 2 3/4; White Bear, 5,000 at 4 1/8; Spitzee, 2,000 at 2 3/4. Total sales, 12,500.

Monday Sales.

Rambler-Cariboo, 2,000 at 26, 500 at 26; Centre Star, 100 at $1.50.

Appended are the official quotations for Stock Exchange:

Althabasca	35 3/4	54 1/2
B. C. Gold Fields	3 1/2
Big Three	2 1/2	1 1/2
Brandon & Golden Cross	7
California	5 1/2	7
Canadian Gold Fields	4 1/2	5
Cariboo (Camp, McKinney)	34	45
Centre Star	$1 20	$1 20
Crows Nest Pass Coal	44 1/2	55 1/2
Deer Trail No. 2	3	2 1/2
Dundee	6	5 1/2
Evans (assess. paid)	2 1/2	2 1/2
Giant	2 1/2	2
Hambro-Cariboo	27	25
Iron Mask	28
King (Ore Denore)	4 1/2	4 1/2
Knob Hill	8 1/2	7
London	3 1/2
Manitoba	3 1/2
Monte Christo	3 1/2	3
Montreal Gold Fields	3 1/2	3
Morrison	4
Mountain Lion	4
North Star (Ras' Kootenay)	$1 10
Novelty	1 1/2	1 1/2
Parsons (assess. paid)	1 1/2	1 1/2
Red Ironsides	70	55
Payroll	2
Princess Maud	2
2-1/2	2 1/2	2 1/2
Rambler-Cariboo	26 1/2	25 1/2
Republic	6 1/2	6 1/2
Stano Consolidated	11	11 1/2
Sullivan	14
Tamarac (Kenneth) Ass't paid	5 1/2	4
Thompson	12	14
Van Andes	2 1/2	1 1/2
Virginia	2 1/2	2
Winnipeg Consolidated	$1 00
Waterloo	4 1/2	3 1/2
White Bear	4 1/2	4 1/2
Winnipeg	5	5

J. L. WHITNEY & Co
Mining Brokers.
Mining Properties Bought and Sold
Up-to-date regarding all stocks in British Columbia and Washington
Write or wire
607 HASTINGS AVE. ROSSLAND, B. C.

ORE FROM WINDERMERE.

Mr. O. A. Brown Tells of Some Properties There.

Mr. O. A. Brown is at the Allan house from the Windermere country and has a number of fine specimens of properties which he is interested. The specimens are strongly mineralized and are above the average in richness. Mr. Brown is a veteran miner and has put in the past 11 years in the Windermere country and thinks that it is going to have its innings during the coming year. He showed with considerable pride, ore from the Bimetalist, which he considers his banner property. There is one ledge 75 feet wide and 30 feet deep, and 15 inches in width. The larger ledge carries grey copper, galena and gold and assays as high as $150 to the ton. The hanging wall of the ledge is dolerite and the foot wall of black slate. The Samson, another claim which is owned by Mr. Brown, lies northeast of the Bimetalist a short distance. The ledge here is 25 feet wide and carries copper sulphurets and iron in a quartz gangue. The ledge can be traced for a distance of three miles through other properties. The ore carries $100 to the ton. The Bullion and Black Diamond claims lie 20 miles from the Columbia river on Toby creek. The ledge on these two properties is 18 feet in width and the clean ore, which is two feet in width, carries $130 to the ton, the remainder of the ore being of the concentrating kind.

Five miles further up Toby creek from the Bullion and Black Diamond, is the Minner King. The ledge on this claim is 20 feet wide and carries gold, silver, lead and copper, and goes from 60 to 400 ounces in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek. The group consists of the Tecumseh, the Tecumseh and the Dundee, and they are owned by Messrs. Haupt & Taylor, friends of Mr. Brown. The ledge which runs through these claims is 15 feet in width and the ore carries from $50 to $100 in silver to the ton.

Mr. Brown has some nice looking ore from the Tecumseh group on Horse Thief creek.