FALL BEE MANAGEMENT

Handling the Little Workers at the Summer's Close.

The Queen Is the Most Important Factor—Don't Keep a "Scrub"—Have an Abundance of Stores—Pastures Pay in Pork Production.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

Many beekeepers have visions of a two-hundred-pound crop of honey per colony from many colonies, but it must be admitted that very few beekeepers really secure a crop of that proportion. This is not due to poor seasons in many cases, but almost entirely due to negligence or lack of preparation on the part of the beekeeper.

It makes little difference how well colonies of bees are managed, unless certain conditions are met, so that the colonies can take advantage of the management bestowed on them. For instance, if the queen in the colony is failing or of poor quality, then it is an impossibility to secure a crop of honey from that colony. Again it is a waste of money and time to introduce a vigorous Italian queen to a colony of bees and then fail to give the queen an opportunity to lay a large number of eggs, so that the colony will go into winter headquarters in prime condition.

Beekeepers who have ten or more colonies of bees, know that certain colonies will return them crops three times as large as the average colony in the apiary. Yet few beekeepers appreciate that in most cases the larger crop of honey is due largely to the work of a good queen. There is just as much difference in the value of queen bees, as there is between scrub live stock and pure-bred live stock, and beekeepers can make few better investments than the securing of choice, young, Italian queens to head the colonies. The very best time to re-queen is from the middle of July to the middle of August.

The giving of a young queen means young bees for winter, consequently less loss in winter and very much stronger colonies in the spring of the year, and unless the beekeeper can have strong colonies in time for the main honey flow, his colonies will return him but little profit that season. After the queen has been safely introduced, the beekeeper should be sure to give the colony sufficient room, both for egg laying and for the storage of any surplus honey which might be harvested. Sometimes one super is sufficient, while in some locations and seasons, two or more supers may be necessary. The beekeeper himself must be the judge, as he knows his location and the season and must be guided accordingly.

The introduction of a good vigorous Italian queen and the giving of room both for brood-rearing and honey storage will also be very valuable in the complete control of one of our most serious brood diseases of bees, viz., European foulbrood. With a vigorous Italian queen and an abundance of stores, it means strong colonies, and consequently European foulbrood will do no damage. It would pay the beekeeper to keep one-half the number of colonies ordinarily kept, and give these every opportunity to do good work, and if this is done, the total crop would be just as large as from twice the number of colonies poorly managed.

Italian queens can be secured from any reliable queen-breeder, full particulars of which can be obtained from the Provincial Apiarist, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.—F. Eric Miller, O. A. College, Guelph.

Fairbanks-Morse "Z" Engine with Bosch Magneto

The Greatest Combination

WHEN the full meaning of this "Z" message is realized—mighty few farmers in this community will fail to at once call on us. This example of master engineering—must be seen. Type and pictures can but suggest this value establishing achievement. This one possible betterment—Bosch high tension, oscillating magneto—completes a rare engine service, fully maintained by us in co-operation with a nearby Bosch service station.
