A HUNGRY BOY.

A Youth with a Bottomless Stomach Eats Everything Within Reach.

A special to the Indianapolis Journal from Martinsville says: Henry Flowers, a young man of 17 years, residing in Adams county, is one of the most peculiar specimens of humanity that have ever come to light in this section.

He came to town on Saturday last in his usual costume, and was taken to the Mansion House of this city by two prominent citizens, who bargained with the landlord to furnish the boy with a room for a week.

He ate six pieces of light bread, two pieces of corn bread, two large slices of beef, roasted with gravy, two large slices of roasted potatoes, four large slices of ham, one dish of beans, one dish of slaw, two dishes of hominy, one dish of parsnips and two pieces of pie.

After eating his dinner he was informed that they were not on the bill for that day. He then went to Dr. Blackstone's to eat again, and his meal consisted of 15 cents worth of coffee, three slices of bread, six cups of eight cents worth of roast beef, two cups of coffee, one dish of tomatoes, one dish of butter beans, and two pieces of pie.

He went from Dr. Blackstone's to one of the city bakeries, there purchased ten cents worth of chocolate crackers and ate them, and at last confessed he was in his usual condition.

He is very lean and of less than the average height for his age, being only about three feet high, and weighing but forty pounds. His skin is thick and yellow, his eyes are small, and his nose is a give an unmistakable proof of his constant hunger, which he evinces on all occasions.

Seldom, if ever, does one encounter such a case as this, and it is wonderful where he stows away so much food. No physician here can satisfactorily diagnose his case.

A LADY'S WONDERFUL NERVE.

She Stops a Runaway Horse and Saves Several Lives.

A Kingston (N.Y.) despatch says: A runaway accident occurred here this forenoon which afforded an estimable lady an opportunity to shame every man in town.

The lady in question, Mrs. Van Slyke, was riding in a carriage on the road, when she was frightened at a piece of paper in a roadway, dashed down the street. The sleigh was broken, and the animal ran through several thoroughfares with only the broken shafts attached to it.

When near the First Baptist Church, where Mrs. Van Slyke, wife of the Rev. Van Slyke, D.D., pastor of the church, and her husband were riding, she might run down and injure several children playing in the street. Mrs. Van Slyke ran out in the roadway, caught the horse by the bridle, and finally succeeded in stopping the frightened animal.

The children's danger was witnessed by a crowd, but she was the only one who had the nerve to do so. Her husband, who was with her, was not so courageous, and the lives of others might not be endangered. Mr. Van Slyke gathered to say that she had wonderful nerve and presence of mind, and that he will never forget the incident.

Mr. Van Slyke's husband was injured, but his wounds were not serious. The carriage was broken, and the animal was taken to the stable.

$50,000 IN AN OLD LOG HUT.

The Wealth of the Monmouth Hermit who is Slowly Dying.

A Keopart, N.J., despatch says: John I. Schenck, the old Monmouth county hermit, is slowly dying at the home of his brother, to which he was taken about nine months ago.

The hermit is nearly 80 years of age, and for nearly fifty years lived in seclusion, allowing no one to cross his threshold. Just before his removal to his brother's home he had been suffering from a stroke of paralysis, and had not been for several days, and, suspecting that he was sick, sent for his brother, who found him very low.

After a removal an investigation of his hut was made. In a little shanty which was built in a thicket was found an iron box containing papers worth $10,000. In other corners of the tumble-down building were found quite a large quantity of gold and silver coins. Under one of the beds in his two-story room, which answered for a parlor, was found an old woollen stocking filled with money.

The interior of the building very much resembled a museum, there being many curious articles and old furniture. In all about thirty muskets and guns were counted. On attempting to take one down Mr. Schenck was astonished at its weight. It weighed 150 lbs. and was made of iron. He filled it up with ten-dollar gold pieces.

In all nearly $50,000 in money and valuable papers were found concealed around the hut and outbuildings. The old hermit is daily visited by many sight-seers. This ancient, tumble-down building is hardly two stories high, with an old style roof slanting nearly to the ground. There are four rooms, the largest being 8x15 feet. The staircase is made from an enormous oak log, with deep notches cut in it. Much of the furniture was made from oak trees cut on the farm.

WONDERFUL FAITH CURE.

A Girl Raised From an Invalid's Bed and Restored to Health.

A Pittsburgh, Pa., despatch says: A remarkable faith cure was reported from Banksville, a mining town two miles southwest of this city, to-day. For several years Maggie Beading, the 16-year-old daughter of a coal miner, has lain bed-ridden. Frequently of late she has been in a trance, and is unable to move, and when she would return to consciousness she would tell her friends that she had been to heaven. In proof of this she told the names and the appearance of several relatives who died before she was born, and of others whom she knew when they were alive. In October and November last she lay in a comatose state for several weeks, during which time she partook only of a small quantity of liquid food, administered to her by attendants. When she recovered she said she had received divine communication to the effect that at 2 p.m. on February 17th she would be raised from an invalid's bed and restored to health. This afternoon her father's house was filled with friends and neighbors, who waited in silence and awe for the predicted manifestation. The girl's face was an expression of joy and seemed to glow in beauty as the hour drew near. Exactly at the stroke of 2 she arose from her chair with her crutches in her hands, and, flinging them aside, walked about the room, to the overwhelming astonishment of those present. The cure seemed complete and she jumped about like a child. The news was noised about and almost the entire population of Banksville turned out to see her. Her parents were so glad that they had a daughter again, that they had a religious service. Miss Beading was seen by several reporters and she pronounced herself well. It is the belief among neighbors that the cure was effected by the power of faith.

LOVE, HATE AND COWARDICE.

Dreadful Attempt of a Rejected Lover to Burn the Object of his Affections.

A Nashville, Tenn., despatch says: The arrest of Elisha Greig here last night reveals a diabolical plot to commit murder and arson. On Sunday night the residence of Mr. Jesse Nolan, a farmer in Davidson county, was burned and the inmates of the house, Miss Mattie Orman and her daughter, Hanilet, barely escaped cremation. The fire was supposed to be incendiary, and last night Greig made a confession of having set fire to the house. He said he had been hired by a neighboring farmer (Jim Bulleyjack) to burn the house. Bulleyjack had planned, he said, to burn Miss Orman, who had refused him in marriage. The plan was to catch her if she escaped burning and murder her. They took a rope along to drag her to the river and throw her body in. After they set the house on fire they got frightened and the ladies—who had bravely tried to get out—could see who they were. Greig was arrested on suspicion, and confessed as above related. Miss Orman is to marry Bulleyjack's rival next week, hence his desire for revenge.

Latest from the Northwest.

Nothing new or important has occurred in connection with the murder here in this city. Schofield has been released by the Minnesota authorities and has skipped out. Miller, the unfortunate night watchman, has been released. In consequence of the discovery of blood marks on his clothes the matter might have gone hard with him but for Schofield's appearance.

A 14-year-old school-girl met a sad death at DuBois, Mich., recently. She returned to the school to get her books, having forgotten them. She pushed the window-sash up, and was in the act of climbing into the school-house when the sash fell on her neck, holding her there until she died.

At the Valley street railway crossing at St. Sauveur, Que., a car overturned yesterday morning, as at an early hour yesterday morning, ran down in his vehicle and received fatal injuries. He was still living yesterday afternoon, though his skull and both arms are reported fractured.

It is semi-officially stated in St. Petersburg that in Russian Government circles the conviction is gaining ground that war between France and Germany is inevitable. In addition to this, it is said that as a French defeat of France might involve disastrous results to Russia, the Czar's Government will, in the event of war, preserve entire liberty of action. It will not support France as an ally, but may—by a treaty reserved article—prevent Germany from sending the whole of her army west of the Rhine, and even if France should be defeated, ally as much as possible the Russian army.

It is declared, Russia will await the outcome of the different phases of the Bulgarian crisis with the greatest calmness, and act in such a way as to avoid being involved with Austria or England at the moment when France and Germany commence hostilities.
