THEN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MADAME BERUBE.

Montreal Lady Tells How, After Four Years' Illness, She Found a Complete Cure for All Her Troubles.

Montreal, Feb. 2.—(Special.)—Madame J. Baptiste Berube, residing at 1393 Logan avenue, this city, asserts that, after four years' suffering from kidney disease, she has been completely restored to health by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I had a pain in my left side around the heart," Madame Berube says in her statement. "I suffered constantly with headache and backache, and for seven weeks I was in bed with kidney disease and feebleness. The doctor could not help me, so I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"After the first box I was some better. I continued to use Dodd's Kidney Pills till now the pain has left me, and I am a well woman, able to do my work. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me and I recommend them to all persons who suffer as I did."

Notice how many women are rising to tell their suffering sisters they can find relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills. The reason is that nine-tenths of women's ills spring from diseased or disordered kidneys. Every woman whose kidneys show signs of weakness should use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The Housekeeper

To make white linen a good color add a squeeze or two of blue to the water in which it is boiled.

To restore green blinds that have become faded, rub them with a rag saturated with linsed oil.

Never throw away a cake, no matter how dry—but the next time you bake a custard slice it on top before putting into the oven. This makes a delicious caramel crust.

It is said that if a brass-head tack is driven into the lower portion of picture frames it will prevent marks from appearing on the wall, as is usual where pictures hang. The tack holds the frame a sufficient distance from the wall to allow of free circulation of air between the frame and the wall.

A paintbrush will get dust out of cracks better than any duster will, for a cloth cannot reach all the corners.

Try the brush when you are cleaning baseboards, window sashes, etc., and you will appreciate it.

For paroxysms of coughing a tablespoonful of glycerine in a glass of hot milk will prove a quick relief.

To handle dates with ease and comfort, pour a little warm water over them before stoning and cutting them, and the dates will separate without stickiness.

To keep any cake moist, with the exception of sponge cake, and angel food, add one small cup of carefully mashed potatoes to the batter. This is a well-tested hint.

There is nothing that acts more satisfactorily on a tar stain than turpentine. First make a ring of cornstarch around the spot, so that the cleanser will not spread.

A CONFESSION.

(Rochester Post-Express)

President Wilson is credited with a confession that our country is in a state of confusion. He says that the public mind is in a state of confusion. He says that the public mind is in a state of confusion. He says that the public mind is in a state of confusion.

India Out of Matches.

A scarcity of matches is being felt in India, and if the war is protracted an absolute famine will likely result.

Austria and Sweden deal an extensive trade with India in matches and Japan was by no means a mean rival.

It is practically impossible to get any matches from Sweden at present, and even consignments from Japan will be limited in quantity.

Japan, moreover, is so popular as the others.

FORGETS JUSTICE.

(Chicago Tribune)

Because Great Britain has commanded the sea it is erroneous to suggest that the United States is permitting the exportation of arms to the allies in a really serious manner.

Germany has the same right to buy arms in the United States as has the ally. She cannot ship them, but she can buy them and store them in the country.

It is this that would be a real danger to the United States, for the Germans would be able to obtain arms in the United States.

In this way Germany would prevent her enemies from obtaining arms in the United States.

American industries would not suffer, for the American Congress American industries should be paramount.

THE AMERICAN PUBLIC'S STAND.

(Kingston Whig)

The American people, as a whole, are in sympathy with Britain in this war, and most people are in sympathy with the cause of the republic as well as of the empire.

There is a certain small minority, however, who do not care for consequences, and who, for the dollar they can make, or hope to make, in any deal, do not hesitate to imperil the cause of America.

WASTING TIME.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times)

The numerous persons who are seen in the streets in an endeavor to discover the date for the winding-up of the war are wasting a deal of time and money which might be more profitably employed in aiding the sufferers from the war.

Such persons are not intended to be warnings to humanity.

Constipation, Indigestion and Horrible Backaches

Searched for a Cure for Years—Advised to Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Was Cured.

Where there is poison there is pain. This is a provision of Nature to warn you against conditions that are likely to prove serious.

Constipation of the bowels is undoubtedly the greatest source of disease and suffering. One day a friend in Boston advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

After using two boxes I noticed great improvement, and after the fourth box I was completely cured. My digestion is good. I never feel any pain in the back. My head is clear, and I feel like a young man.

I think Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are one of the best medicines on earth.

"WAR" WAGED BY GENTLE GERMANS

Awful Barbarities Practised on Some Prisoners

And These Are Told By the Victims Themselves.

The Mayor of Le Mans, where a wounded French soldier, Constant B—, is in hospital, has taken down the following statement from the soldier:

"On Sept. 8 I received a bullet through my right lung. I thought at first I was barely hurt, and went on firing twenty-seven cartridges. Then I swayed and remained behind, my company retreating. On the 11th I was discovered by a German army surgeon. His stretcher-bearers picked me up, then stripped me of my money and everything of value I had on. I was then thrown down and left in a half-burnt hotel at Rembreourt (Meuse). Seven other wounded French soldiers were thrown with me.

"The non-combatant population had been forbidden under pain of death to give us any food or attention. Nevertheless, some old men secretly brought us beef tea and coffee. They saved my life. One of them had both his arms broken by a Prussian soldier because he exclaimed 'What a sad thing war is!' My saviour lived in a hole dug out of a half-burnt haystack. At last I was found by a French surgeon. My comrades and I had remained twelve days without our wounds being dressed."

BRUTAL BAVARIANS.

A Parisian schoolmaster writes to his parents an exceedingly graphic account, published in a provincial newspaper, of how he was taken prisoner in the Vosges, and how, after seeing his comrades shot dead before his eyes and himself receiving a bullet wound in the breast, he managed to crawl back to his own lines.

"They stripped us," he writes, "searched us, and broke our rifles. One Bavarian, in a sudden gust of anger, seized his rifle by the muzzle and brought down the butt on the head of one of my fellow-prisoners. Dazed, the poor fellow staggered a few yards, and then fell. A revolver bullet finished him off. A moment later a German non-commissioned officer added and, cutting the point of his sword to my breast, asked in bad French, 'How many companies are there in the wood?'

I answered that I did not know, and he turned away without saying a word. Then we were led off to the fringe of the wood facing us. On the way our captors kicked us, poked at us with their bayonets, and bludgeoned us with their rifle-butts.

"When we reached the main body of the German troops, we found three other French soldiers—two sergeants and a private—who had been captured at the same time and in the same circumstances as we. We shook hands. I noticed that one of the prisoners had a wound in his head, and began to dress it. At this moment up came an officer in command of the Bavarian company. He was frowning with rage. I could see from his gestures that he intended to shoot us. I could also see that the soldiers were intervening in our behalf.

"Shooting captives. 'One of our number, Sergeant X., who knew German, appealed to the officer to spare us. The officer shot him down, and after him the second sergeant, and finally the private. I knew it was to be my turn next. Instinctively I put up my arm in front of my face, crying at the same time, 'Assassin to shoot down prisoners!' I felt a blow in my chest, and a burning sensation, then fell unconscious. After a certain time I recovered consciousness, the tongue, acts on the blood and glands, expels the poison out of the body. ## CANADA'S WORST ENEMY.

GERMANY'S SHAME.

(Buffalo Express)

The raid appears to have been of the same character as the naval raid on Scarborough and Harbottle—an attack on the general population of the country, rather than upon any military work. Such operations can, of course, have no effect except to kill harmless people indiscriminately and destroy private property.

One of the unexplainable features of the war is the adoption by the German commanders of such measures as these, which are not only in violation of the Hague rules, but are without any possible effect on the military operations that must determine the outcome of the war. Aerial attacks on armies, ammunition bases, etc., are legitimate and, if successful, accomplish a very useful purpose. Such enterprises reflect credit on a military sense, on those who carry them out. But aerial attack on any other kind of attack on the ordinary civil population of a country was hardly to be expected as a policy of civilized warfare in the twentieth century.

ITCHING RASH SPREAD OVER BODY

Could Not Sleep. Clothing Irritated. Impossible to Keep from Scratching. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Ten Days Well.

230 Dufferin Ave., Winnipeg, Man.—"I became troubled with an itching rash on my face and arms. Later it spread over my body. This rash itched and burned and it rubbed the skin would become hot and red. It gave me very itchy. I could not sleep. The more I scratched the worse it got. I sat many minutes at a time with clenched hands to keep from scratching. It kept from giving me any sleep. The first few days the spots increased so rapidly that my body was dotted with them.

"The spots on my face and neck were so plainly visible, especially if I scratched them, that I avoided the folks in the house to hide my disfigurement. Every time my body became over-heated my clothing irritated the rash so much that it was impossible to keep from scratching the parts. Over two weeks of torture and sleepless nights I suffered.

"Knowing from experience that Cuticura Soap and Ointment were good I sent out to the drug store for some. I followed the directions and in a few days I noticed the rash was less; the spots began fading. In ten days I was completely well." (Signed) Mrs. John Lamb, June 14, 1914.
