COUNCIL TO GET AFTER THE RAILWAY COMPANY

Ald. Edmondson Strongly Backs Up His Statements, As Published In The Planet, And The Aldermen Will See That The Third Street Bridge Is Strengthened

"I just want to say a few words in connection with an item which appeared in The Planet recently," said Ald. John Edmondson at last night's meeting of the City Council. "The item I have reference to is that with regard to what I said previous to the last Council meeting relative to the C. W. & L. E. and the Aberdeen bridge, and I wish to say that I do not wish to repudiate one word of what appeared in that article. I will repeat those same statements to-night. I think that the whole Council should take action, as the state of that bridge at the present time is positively dangerous. It is certainly time that something were done to make the railway company move in the matter."

Ald. Stone quite agreed with Ald. Edmondson, and he said that he thought the matter should be attended to at once. The railway company had promised to have this matter attended to last April, and here it was November now, and yet there was no sign of them taking any action.

Ald. Potter thought it was a matter which the Railway committee should attend to. They should prohibit the cars crossing the bridge till it was properly strengthened. "We have acted in good faith," said Ald. Potter, "and the railway people should do the same."

Ald. Edmondson thought it would be a good idea to have the City Clerk write to the railway people and tell them that if something were not done to strengthen the bridge within a specified time that they would be prohibited to cross the bridge.

Ald. Stone favored the idea of having the members of the Railway committee call on the officials of the C. W. & L. E., and inform them that if the bridge were not strengthened at once that the city would prohibit them using it any longer. It was accordingly moved by Ald. Stone, seconded by Ald. Edmondson, that the members of the Railway committee should call on the officials of the C. W. & L. E., to inform them that if they do not take prompt action to have the bridge strengthened, that the City Council will at its next session pass a resolution prohibiting them from passing their cars over it.—Carried unanimously.

THAT COLLEGIATE MATTER.

Ald. Scullard referred to the statement made at the last meeting of the High School Board, to the effect that the matter of building the addition to the Collegiate had been referred to the Finance committee of the City Council. He said that he did not remember any time at which the Council had referred the matter to his committee.

Ald. Stone suggested that the matter be left over till the next meeting of the Council.

Ald. Austin—My recollection of the matter is that it was decided to leave the matter over for next year's Council and the new Board of Education to deal with it. It is necessary to submit a by-law in this case! Cannot the Council make estimates for the work similar to the manner in which Public school work is done?

Mayor Marshall—Not with regard to Collegiate institutions.

Ald. Austin—We have nothing definite to put before the ratepayers even if we did decide to submit a by-law. The Collegiate Board have not even accepted any plans as yet.

Ald. Scullard—I didn't understand that this matter was left to the Finance committee to deal with anyway.

The Mayor—No, I don't remember anything about it being referred to the Finance committee.

Ald. Stone—It wasn't either. We are not financially in a position to take this matter up, and I don't think the ratepayers would consider it favorably anyway if it was placed before them in the form of a by-law.

Ald. Austin was of the opinion that as the county's share towards the maintenance of the building had not yet been decided upon, it would be folly to take the matter up for some little time.

It was decided to take no further action with regard to it.

It was moved by Ald. Austin, seconded by Ald. Edmondson, that the collector be empowered to collect on the Bent Goods Company on the same basis as in 1905.—Carried.

PLACING OF LIGHTS.

A rather spirited discussion arose between Ald. Stone and Potter about the placing of a light on Jeffrey street, near Harvey street. Ald. Stone wanted it placed near to the C. P. R. crossing, and Ald. Potter thought that the proper place for the light was just a short distance from Harvey, where it would give the most light to people.

The matter was left with the Property committee.

Ald. Austin drew attention to a light on the corner of King and Lacroix, which has been out for the past few nights.

Ald. Potter moved, seconded by Ald. Edmondson, that the Clerk be instructed to write to the various places referred to in the Gas Company's charter with a view of finding out what they were paying for gas.

Ald. Potter thought that the Property committee should be empowered to advertise for rent of the stall on the market, which Mr. Wheeler had refused to pay $250 a year.

Ald. Stone thought it would be well to give Mr. Wheeler a little more time to consider the matter.

Ald. Potter said that the committee had not much more time at their disposal, as the stalls would be ready for occupancy by the first of December.

The matter was left in the hands of the Property committee with power.

ACTION FOR DAMAGES.

The matter of the Levi Matt action against the city for damages for injuries received through a fall on a defective sidewalk was left with the Finance committee with power.

Ald. Austin wanted to know the reason why a quarter circle of concrete had been laid on the south side at the west end of Emma street. He said that there was no sidewalk to be laid there, and it was not likely there would be for some time to come. He thought it was extravagant to lay this quarter circle when there was no sidewalk for it.

ALDERMEN WILL DICTATE PRICE OF NATURAL GAS

Interesting Development Which Has Recently Come Out In Reference To This Important Question—Gas Company Restricted

An interesting development has come out in reference to the natural gas question, which is looked upon as welcome news by the aldermen, and which may yet give the Council an opportunity of dictating as to what shall be charged the citizens for natural gas, even though it be supplied by the Chatham Gas Company, according to their present agreement with the Symmes Company.

It appears that there is a clause in the charter held by the Chatham Gas Company which states that the company shall conduct their business in the city of Chatham, and they must keep within these limits. It is, therefore, illegal for the company to receive gas from an outside corporation without the consent of the City Council. Connections have to be made at the city boundary lines, and the Council has the legal right to say whether these connections shall be made or not. The Chatham Gas Company already has the permission from the township municipalities to make these connections, but they have not received the permission of the City Council, which is vitally necessary.

The matter was the subject of a short discussion by a number of the aldermen before the Council meeting last evening, and it was the general opinion that when the Gas Company comes to the Council to get this permission to make connections, the aldermen will insist upon having a say as to the price which is to be charged the citizens for the gas. It was felt that the Council are now in as good a position to deal with gas matters as they were when they were considering the granting of a natural gas franchise to an outside company.

COLD CHICKEN AND DUCK ENJOYED BY BURGLARS

Residences Of W. E. Gunday And E. R. Smith Entered Last Evening—Small Amounts Of Money Taken—Thieves Are Supposed To Come From The States

Two Lacroix street residences were visited by uninvited guests at an early hour this morning. It is evident, too, that the guests came with the intention of being entertained whether their hosts were present at the festivities or not. Cold chicken and otherainties formed the bill of fare. After the inner man had been thoroughly satisfied, the visitors commenced to look around for some little remembrance in the way of small change to carry away as souvenirs of the event.

Apparently the residence of Mr. E. R. Smith, Lacroix street, was the first place favored with a call. Between three and four o'clock the thieves made their entrance through a rear window, from which they took away the screen with the aid of a step-ladder.

One of the men remained outside to watch, while the other two entered the house. The men went to the kitchen, where they feasted on cold duck and cake. They upset everything in general. After partaking of a hearty lunch they proceeded to get down to business. They purloined about two dollars which they found in Mrs. Smith's purse, and some small change belonging to the Misses Smith. Then they started to go through the sideboard.

They threw the silverware around on the floor, but they did not take any of it with them. It was apparently the thieves' story if they were after money which they were after. A pair of gloves belonging to Mr. Smith were also missing this morning.

The thieves left the Smith residence by the side door, and from what can be learned they next went to Mr. W. E. Gunday's residence. Mr. Gunday's story is perhaps best related in his own words, as he described the incident to a Planet reporter this morning.

"They were apparently very gentlemanly fellows," said Mr. Gunday, "for they did not disturb me during their visit to my house. I didn't know that they had paid me a visit till this morning when I got up. Things were scattered all over the floor. Their hard work at the Smith residence must have whetted up their appetite some, as they cleaned up pretty well on the contents of my kitchen. They found a cold chicken and they eat everything on the plate, even to the gravy. They were evidently looking for money, too, but they could not have known it was a lawyer's house, or they would have felt satisfied with having something to eat."

"Mrs. Gunday's purse, containing $7 or $8, was taken. That and the chicken was about all they got for their pains. They could not have been experts at their business, as they overlooked a number of valuable things. They missed all the children's money, which was on the sideboard in purses, and in going through the drawers they overlooked two gold pieces—a five and a ten dollar piece."

"I made a little investigation of my own this morning, but I could only discover the footprints of one man. If there were others with him, they must have been careful to walk in his tracks.

"I found a lot of burned matches lying around on the floor, and that and the footprints were about all the clues the thieves left behind them."

At the Smith residence also, a large number of burned matches were found. As they were a brand of matches not on sale in this city, the police are of the opinion that the thieves belong across the border.
