The wedding took place in the Baptist church at five-thirty on Saturday last, of Marjorie Parker Chute, second daughter of Rev. A.C. Chute, D. D., of Acadia University and Mrs. Chute, to Chester William McGill, an electrical engineer of Boston. The church was decorated by the girl friends of the bride with ferns, golden rods and golden glow.

The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by Rev. T. W. Savary, B. A., rector of St. James church, Kingston, Ont. The bride entered on the arm of her brother, Captain Arthur Hunt Chute, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Principal Silver.

The bride wore a going away gown of blue velette, gray hat with jade plume and gray shoes, carrying a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Misses Frances Keirstead, Dorthy Holmes and Marguerite DeWitt acted as ushers.

After the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Hubbards where, they will spend two weeks before departing for Boston.

V. O. N. NOTES

Miss Harry completed on Monday last her six weeks vacation. Two weeks were spent at camp with the Girl Guid's and the Cubs. The remaining four weeks-we regret to say, have been spent in ill-ness, or rather in undergoing an operation me regret to say, have been spett in Illnss, or rather in undergoing an operation and in regaining strength. Some people have asked if the Nera-car was not responsible for Miss Harry's condition of health.
On the contrary, Miss Harry found the Nera-car a very great assistance making it possible for her to carry on her work with less physical discomfort than would otherwise have been possible. The lifting of heavy patients last spring was the direct cause of her trouble. We are glad to report that Miss Harry is out again and will soon be as fit as ever.

Every V. O. nurse is entitled to four weeks vacation a year. Last year Miss Harry took only two weeks off. This accounts for six weeks now.

NEW FOUND RECORD

Which Furnishes Interesting Data Regarding Wolfville in Former Years

Search has been made at various times since the burning of old College Hall on Dec. 2nd, 1920 for a box containing current records placed under the cornerstone when it was laid over forty years before. In excavating for the foundation of the new building this weak these records were finally unearthed. Among the contents was a description of wollylle in 1878 prepared by a then citizen who has since gone to his reward. The writer Professor A. E. Coldwell, a former member of the faculty of Acadia University and afterwards for years an efficient Town Clerk and valued resident, was an exceedingly well informed man whose penjecture of Wolfville at that time, will be found well worthy of approval:

Description of the Village of Wolfville, extending from "Scott's Corner" westwardly to Greenwich hollow, or "The Willows", a distance of two miles, has a population of 700.

It contains four Houses of Worship, 125 dwelling houses, 4 hotels, 18 stores, 1 Bank Agency, 22 mechanics' shops, 1 school house, 1 temperance hall and 2 public halls.

There live in the village 7 ctergymen (5 of them not in charge of churches).

There live in the village 7 clergymen (5 of them not in charge of churches), 2 physicians, 2 lawyers, 6 dry goods merchants, 7 grocers and flour dealers, 2 dealers in iron and tin ware, 1 book seller, 4 tailors, 2 harness makers, 2 tin smiths, 1 baker, 3 blacksmiths, 7 carpenters, 2 watchmakers, 3 shoemakers and 1 carriage-maker.

The Baptist Church, numbering about 320, has been under the pastoral care of the Rev. S. W. deBlois, A.M., for over 20 years. They worship in a rather elegant and commodious building to which an addition was made this year to hold a pipe organ, costing $1500, the gift of The Methodist Society worship in a very tasteful and convenent building on Chapel Street. The ministers on the circuit are the Revs, Joseph Coffin and I. Mellish, the former living at Grand Pre The Presbyterians meet in a small but showy Gothic house, built through the exertions of the Rev. Robert Somerville. They have no settled minister but are under the pastoral care of the Rev. Mr. Logan, of Kentville.

The adherents of the Church of Engand have a small "church" near the East end of the village in which service is conducted by the Rev. Mr. Ruggles, of Kentville.

THE BOY SCOUTS' TRIP TO CHESTER BAY

The second annual trip to Chester, that grand prize of the Wolfville Boy Scouts, is now a thing of the past.

The winners of the competition this year were the patrol known as No. 2 Baptist, the leaders being Ronald Prescott and Claire McKenna.

The work done by the members of this parol during the past year was excellent, their attendance at Church, Sunday School and Weekly Meeting ("All three") being almost perfect.

their attendance at Church, Sunday School and Weekly Meeting ("All three") being almost perfect.

All of these scouts were frequently reported for "good terms" and some of them were especially mentioned for good work at school.

At 8 o'clock on Thursday, Aug. 23rd the following scouts. Ronald Prescott, Claire McKenna, Avard Wallace. Blair Harrington, Ralph Rathbone, Harold Speneer. Lorraine Jackson, Horace Brown with Assistant Scoutmaster Henry Watson and Scoutmaster E. P. Brown left the Club Room in two cars for Chester Basin via Windsor.

After a pleasant drive over a fairly good road the party arrived at their destination, the hospitable farm house of Mr. Colin Borgal, which for the third time has been made the headquarteers of the Wolfville Scouts.

The afternoon was spent in securing a suitable sailboat and rowboat. The boys were fortunately able to obtain the small schooner yacht "Beatrice B.", which they had found so satisfactory the year before. Provisions and bedding were taken on board immediately after supper and the whole party of ten slept, or tried to sleep on board the boat. Early Friday morning a start was made for the cruise along the shore and among the many islands of the bay. There was no wind so Engineer Watson was called upon to start the engine, the village of Chester Basin being first revisited to fill up the larder and the gasoline tank.

The course was then laid due South past the treasure island of Capt. Kidd. Och.

engine, the village of chester Basin being first revisited to fill up the larder and the gasoline tank.

The course was then laid due South past the treasure island of Capt. Kidd, (Oak Island), which was visited later, and through narrow channels past Murder's and Indian Points, names suggestive of such events as history tells us took place at Covey's Island at the entrance to Mahone Harbour.

As this island was passed the Scoutmaster told the boys the well known story of the murder there in 1756 of Lewis Payzant and the carrying away by the indians of his wife and their three sons. Four miles farther down the bay is Sacrifice, the haunted isle where the indians are said to have once offered a white child as a sacrifice, this island is one known as Hobson's Nose named either because of its pedculiar shape or because it has a red light on its point. From here the course lay easterly through a remarkably succession of salt water lakes and rivers for a distance of some even miles to Lunenburg back harbour.

lakes and rivers for a distance of some seven miles to Lunenburg back harbour. At the Be mad proved rather cramped the preceeding night a tent was pitched near the wharf and three of the boys occupied that. They thus escaped the torture of "Slip's" harmonious snoring and "Muley's" heavy kicking.

During the evening everybody paid a visit to Lunenburg where they witnessed the grand return of the Sunday Schools of the town from their annual picnic. They had taken a lesson from Wolfville and had combined this year for the first time. It is only fair to say that although the town is three times the size of Wolfville the showing of the Sunday Schools was not nearly equal to ours. It was to be noted however that in the case of Lunenburg the whole town band, a very fine one, was present.

Saturday was spent in exploring the fine old town of Lunenburg, looking at the fishing vessels lying at anchor in the front harbour or discharging their cargoes of fish at the wharves and inspecting the many points of interest about the town. Late in the afternoon a trip was taken to the commons, a barren piece of land not far from the town and famous for its blueberries. A bucket of the berries was soon picked and everybody felt repaid for, their labors when they tasted the "Blueberry Grunt" served for desert on Sunday. All attended service at St. John's (Anglican) Church on Sunday morning dressed in full Boy Scout uniform and many favorable comments were heard on the appearance of the boys. The remainder of the day was spent quietly on the boat and at the wharf and in the evening, when the fog shut in thick, all went on board the boat, sang hymns and listened to reading by the Scoutmaster. Monday morning dawned bright and clear, the boys were aroused early and as soon as porridge had been cooked a start was made for Bridgewater, a distance of over 40 miles.

went on board the boat, sang hymns and slistened to reading by the Scoutmaster Monday morning dawned bright and clear, the boys were aroused early and as soon as porridge had been cooked a start was made for Bridgewater, a distance of over 40 miles.

Breakfast was eaten on board; a good breakfast it was; but all too soon given to the fishes for the heavy swell of the Atlantic proved too much for these amateur-sailors and before West Ironbound had been sighted almost all were hanging out to leeward. West Ironbound, or La Have Ironbound as it is commonly called, lies, at the entrance to the LaHave River and is about 17 miles from the town of Bridgewater.

Probably there is not a more beautifus asil in the world than this trip up the La Have River. Entering between the high rock-bound shores of Ironbound on the left and Gaff Point on the right, the surject the sea-sick ones of their feet. However passing Oxner's Head a few miles further on and finally into the river passing Oxner's Head a few miles further on and finally into the river proper between Fort Point on the left hand and the prosperous settlement of Riverport on the right, one forgot that he was not on some inland waterway and at once demands were made for dinner. The river at this place is about a mile wide and maintans this width for about six miles or half way to Bridgewater. Prosperous settlement of Riverport on the eye and to prevent the scenery from becoming monotonous.

Pinally, round a bend in the river, partly hidden behind piles of lumber on the one shore and pine clad hills on, the other, Bridgewater comes into view. We still consider Wolfville the most beautiful consid the work is to be completed by October, of next year.

The building will be 182 feet by 80 feet which exceeds the old building in size by 40 feet and 15 feet. It will be constructed of interlocking tile made at the Shaw yards and will be covered by white constructed stone. In style the building will be Early Colonial, with Corinthian porches.

will be Early Colonial, with Corinthian porches.

A recent issue of The Acadian contains an illustration of the building as it will appear when finished.

The work of preparing the foundations was begun last week and a large force of men are already engaged. It is proposed to have the first story completed before winter sets in. This will be a big undertaking and will make lively times.

It is understood that Mr. Byron Bent, who has superintended many of Wolfville's biggest building operations will have charge of the work.

When completed the building will have provision for an echo organ. There will be class rooms and faculty offices. An auditorium will seat two thousand persons and there will be chapel accommodation.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the School Board was held at the Council Chamber on Monday evening, having been postponed from the preceeding Monday on account of Labor Day.

Those present beside the Clerk and the Town Manager were Dr. Eaton, chairman, Coun. Balcom, Commissioner Vaughn and Principal Silver.

The Clerk reported the appointment of Miss Ella Warren as assistant principal and that provision had been made for her receiving the necessary permit from the Education Department, as no licenced teacher could be secured.

The Clerk also brought up the matter of the annual school census, which, we understand, should have been taken in August so that a copy might be placed in the hands of the principal at the beginning of the school. Arrangements were made for the work to be done as speedily as possible.

It was voted that Miss McWhinney be granted the proportion of her govern-
